GAMEDAY TRADITION

Folsom Field was named "Football Field of the Year" in 2002 by Sports Turf Managers Association

Over 13 million fans have attended CU games in the last 60 years

With the Boulder Flatirons as a backdrop, Folsom Field provides one of the most scenic college football settings in the nation at 5,334 feet above sea level

There is quite possibly no more intimidating entrance in college football than when the Buffs run onto the field behind their thundering mascot, Ralphie, a live 1,200 lb. buffalo, in front of 50,000-plus black-and gold-clad screaming fans who reach a fever pitch

*Fight CU down the field, CU must win
Fight, fight for victory,
CU knows no defeat
We'll roll up a mighty score,
Never give in
Shoulder to shoulder
We will Fight! Fight!
Fight! Fight! Fight!*

Onrushing Colorado scrambled the national title picture by stepping all over No. 2 Nebraska
BY AUSTIN REAP

When the Colorado offense exploded for 42 points in the second half, the national title picture was thrown into a frenzy. The Buffs' victory over No. 2 Nebraska, a game that was widely expected to be a defensive showcase, was a stunning upset that sent shockwaves through the college football world. The Buffs' offense, led by quarterback John Elway, was unstoppable, scoring touchdowns in the first, second, and fourth quarters. The game was a defensive struggle for much of the first half, but Colorado's offense finally broke through in the second half, scoring a touchdown on a play that was described as "one of the greatest plays in college football history." The Buffs' victory was a testament to their offensive prowess and the leadership of Elway, who was named the game's Most Valuable Player.

DENVER PRO SPORTS

A 2004 survey by Sports Business Journal ranked Denver's sports fans as the most loyal and enthusiastic of America's top 41 sports cities

Over six million fans attend sporting events in Metro Denver each year

Metro Denver is truly a "sports" city—with the fans and facilities to prove it. In the past 10 years, new facilities have been constructed for all of the city's eight major sports franchises

INVESCO Field at Mile High ($400 million) - home to the two-time world champion Denver Broncos

Coors Field ($215 million) - home to the Colorado Rockies

Pepsi Center ($180 million) - home to the Denver Nuggets, two-time Stanley Cup champion Colorado Avalanche, and Metro Denver's newest teams, the Colorado Mammoth (indoor lacrosse), 2005 Arena Bowl Champion Colorado Crush (arena football) and Denver Outlaws (outdoor lacrosse)

Prairie Gateway ($65 million) - new home to the Colorado Rapids soccer team

Colleges with Division I-A football within a half-hour drive of cities that boast a team in each of the five major sports leagues (NFL, NBA, MLB, NHL, MLS):

- Boston (Boston College)
- Baltimore/Washington D.C. (Maryland)
- Chicago (Northwestern)
- Dallas (Southern Methodist, TCU)
- Denver (Colorado)
- Miami (Miami, Fla.)
- San Francisco/Oakland (Stanford, California)

In recent years, Denver has hosted the MLB All-Star Game (1998), the NHL All-Star Game (2001), Game 7 of the Stanley Cup Finals (2001), the NBA All-Star Game (2005) and the AFC Championship Game (2005)

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

"A herd of buffaloes can only move as fast as the slowest buffalo. And when the herd is hunted, it is the slowest and weakest ones at the back that are killed first. This natural selection is good for the herd as a whole, because the general speed and health of the whole group keeps improving by the regular killing of the weakest members."

"The strength of the Buffalo lies not in the individual but in the herd."

Head Strength Coach Jeff Pitman was brought to Colorado from Boise State where he spent the last seven years. At CU, Pitman supervises the training programs for all of the Buffs' 16 varsity sports

Colorado's Speed-Strength & Conditioning Center is home to over 300 varsity student-athletes, where each one is trained by certified staff in an individualized and sport-specific manner ◆Bowl Championship Series: The BCS is a five-game arrangement that is designed to match the two top-rated teams in a national championship game and to create competitive match-ups in four other games. The Fiesta (Big 12), Orange (ACC), Rose (Big 10 and Pac-10) and Sugar (SEC) bowls have conference champions serving as host/regional tie-in teams. Should a BCS Bowl's "host" be ranked No. 1 or 2 in the final BCS Standings, when such bowl is not hosting the national championship game, the No. 1 or 2 team shifts to the title game and the bowl shall select a replacement team from the pool of eligible BCS teams. That pool consists of any Division I-A team ranked in the top 14 in the final BCS Standings, or in the top 16 if ranked higher than a champion of a conference that has an automatic berth, provided it has won nine games. Notre Dame will receive a berth if it is in the top eight in the BCS.

In 2006, a new double-hosting system is in place, as the four BCS bowls will rotate hosting two games a season, it's traditional bowl a week before the national title game with the Fiesta first up in this rotation. The champions of the ACC, Big East, Big 10, Big 12, Pac 10 and SEC have automatic berths into the BCS in 2006 and 2007, with standards for annual automatic qualification for conference champions after the 2008 and 2009 seasons (conference-bowl tie-ins supercede). Criteria are also in place to allow for champions from Conference USA, MAC, MWC, Sun Belt and WAC (only one team from those conferences will be eligible for BCS Selection).

The BCS Standings are formulated from a statistical rating system calculated from the USA Today Coaches' and the Harris Interactive polls, and a composite of six nationally published computer rankings, with the three polls weighted and averaged to create a school's BCS ranking. The payouts for 2006 will again be between $14-18 million per school, depending on conference affiliation, with a second conference participant netting a minimum payout of $4.5 million. (Note: 6-6 teams are eligible for bowl participation if their conferences have agreements or if slots in at-large bowls remain unfilled.)

THE UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

"The University of Colorado, and Boulder, is a town which stops where the Rocky Mountains begin. Normally in America such a superb site would be occupied by a golf course, but somebody goofed and instead they built what may be the most beautifully situated campus in the world... if anyone asks you to Boulder, I have one word of advice: 'Go.'"

From the London (England) Observer Magazine article, "Us and Them," by Simon Hoggart (April 23, 1989)

Often called the best of the United States' public universities by the Fiske Guide to Colleges, that belief was again strengthened when the University of Colorado received the largest donation ever given to an American public institution of higher learning. The quarter-billion dollar gift to run an institute for cognitive disabilities, it reinforced the fact that CU students not only have the minds to match its mountains, but they climb, and create, those mountains.

Founded in 1876 at the foot of the Flatirons, over 130 years has transformed the University of Colorado from a lone building on a bleak, windswept hill to one of the nation's leading public research institutions. Established in 1861, the University was formally founded in 1876, the year Colorado became a state. The doors of Old Main opened the following year with 44 students, an instructor and the President who taught and lived there with his family, pasturing his horse nearby.

The Boulder campus now encompasses 786 acres on the main campus, east campus (which includes a research park), Williams Village and the Mountain Research Station north of nearby Nederland (which supports ecology, chemistry and geology). In 1996 the Board of Regents purchased 308 acres of land in unincorporated Boulder County, now informally known as the south campus, in an effort to insure the growth of the University well into this century.

While over 28,000 students are educated on the main campus, another 13,000 study at the University of Colorado at Denver (including the Health Sciences Center) and the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs. Nine elected Regents and President Hank Brown who was named to the position in 2005, lead the three-campus system, while each campus has a Chancellor who serves as the chief academic and administrative officer. Dr. G. P. "Bud" Peterson is in his first year as chancellor of the Boulder campus.

Students can enter any of 10 schools and colleges offering more than 2,500 courses in 150 fields, representing a full range of disciplines in the humanities, social sciences, physical and biological sciences, the fine and performing arts, and the professions.

The largest University in the Centennial State is a big school, but its northern Italian architecture, named fourth in a ranking of the "most architecturally successful campuses in the country," in The Campus as a Work of Art, creates an intimate, visitor-friendly public space thanks to the varicolored sandstone and red-tiled roof facade of more than 200 buildings created by its rural Tuscany influence.

There are 20 residence halls that dot the campus, with more than 1,080 students enrolled in five residential academic programs, providing undergraduates with shared learning and living experiences. Colorado's Greek system, which is comprised of more than 2,000 students, became the first in the nation to ban alcohol from its houses.

Many of the high-tech companies located along the Front Range owe their origins to CU-Boulder's cutting-edge science.

CU has shown that RNA can act as a catalyst in biochemical reactions, developed the first classification system of human chromosomes, created the first national model to assess child development, successfully completed the first instance of human cloning, identified the battered child syndrome, discovered the process of aging is under direct genetic control, developed ways of dealing with natural hazards, created the coldest temperature on earth, and alerted the nation to heightened academic pressures on kindergarten children.

CU-Boulder has played a major role in NASA space programs, designing and building many scientific instruments flown in outer space, and graduated 17 men and women who became astronauts, including the late Jack Swigert, one of the three astronauts in the crippled Apollo 13 mission who made it dock to Earth safely from the moon. When the Hubble Space Telescope was launched in 1990, it was carrying seven major instruments, including a high-resolution spectrograph to study the evolution of stars and designed and built by an international science team led by astronomer Jack Brandt of CU-Boulder. Since Hubble has been up, CU-Boulder faculty and students have been among the top users of Hubble of any institution in the world. CU-Boulder is the only university in the country where undergraduate students have operated a NASA satellite.

The University has produced 19 Rhodes Scholars, five of which were former football student-athletes at CU, with Jim Hansen the most recent recipient in 1992. Faculty member Thomas Cech, a distinguished professor of chemistry and biochemistry, won the 1989 Nobel Prize in chemistry. Other notable alumni include former United States Supreme Court Justice

Byron “Whizzer” White, former big band leader Glenn Miller and actor Robert Redford.

A premier institution in and of itself, the Boulder campus is in good company with some of the finest campuses in the country:

- ◆ Colorado is one of the four most outstanding universities in the United States according to the 2006 Fiske Guide to Colleges (with Brown, Stanford and Virginia), based on academics, social life and quality of life.

- ◆ The U.S. News & World Report ranked CU-Boulder 32nd among the nation’s Top 50 Public National Universities in its 2004 Best Colleges issue. The rankings were based on factors such as academic reputation, retention, faculty resources, student selectivity and financial resources.

- ◆ U.S. News & World Report also ranked seven CU graduate programs in the nation’s top 20: Environmental Law (7th), Aerospace Engineering (12th), Clinical Psychology (15th), Entrepreneurship Specialty (Business, 15th), Speech Language-Pathology (17th), Chemical Engineering (18th) and Civil Engineering (20th).

- ◆ And in April 2004, The Economist of London ranked CU as the 11th best public university in the world, as well as one of the 50 best universities of any kind, based on criteria such as highly cited researchers and Nobel laureates in selected fields.

If the aphorism, “Somewhere between the Rockies and reality,” seems too good to believe, then come for a visit. Start with a walk on the historic Pearl Street Mall, a downtown pedestrian mall that is the ceremonial heart of the city actually that works despite the efforts of its street theatre.

Visitors may be so taken in by the scenery, the mall, Tudors and Victorians they may forget the University that put it all together. From Pearl Street, Broadway leads directly onto campus where the University of Colorado Museum and the CU Heritage Center, in the original Old Main building, which introduces the University’s past and present. Visitors can experience the University’s cosmopolitan atmosphere by visiting Fiske Planetarium, Sommers-Bausch Observatory, and Norlin Library. Lively performances are staged by the Artist Series, Department of Theatre and Dance, and the College of Music, and movie fans can relax with classic, contemporary, and avant garde films. Summer months bring the annual Shakespeare Festival to campus.

Take in the fresh mountain air on any part of 100 miles of trails and 30,000 acres of open space. Climb the Flatirons or in Eldorado Canyon State Park. Swim or board sail at the Boulder Reservoir while elite runners sprint around it.

Rest assured, like the prophesy of an Arapaho Indian Chief, “If you leave Boulder, you will return.”

MASCOT/NICKNAME

The University of Colorado has one of the more unique mascots in all of intercollegiate athletics, a real buffalo named Ralphie.

The live buffalo mascot leads the football team out on the field both at the start of the game and second half. It is truly one of the special sights that exist anywhere in college or professional sports, especially for opposing teams, who often stop in their tracks watching the massive buffalo round the end zone and head directly at their sideline.

The buffalo first appeared in 1934, three weeks after a contest to select an official school nickname by the Silver & Gold newspaper had come to an end and "Buffaloes" was the winning entry. For the final game of the '34 season, a group of students paid $25 to rent a buffalo calf along with a real cowboy as his keeper. The calf was the son of Killer, a famed bison at Trails End Ranch in Fort Collins. It took the cowboy and four students to keep the calf under control on the sidelines, a 7-0 win at the University of Denver on Thanksgiving Day.

Prior to 1934, CU athletic teams usually were referred to as the "Silver and Gold," but other nicknames teams were sometimes called included Silver Helmets, Yellow Jackets, Hornets, Arapahoes, Big Horns, Grizzlies and Frontiersmen. The student newspaper decided to sponsor a national contest in the summer of 1934, with a $5 prize to go to the author of the winning selection. Entries, over 1,000 in all, arrived from almost every state in the union. Athletic Director Harry Carlson, graduate manager Walter Franklin and Kenneth Bundy of the Silver and Gold were the judges.

Local articles first reported that Claude Bates of New Madrid, Mo., and James Proffitt of Cincinnati, Ohio, were co-winners for the prize as both submitted "Buffaloes" as their entry. But 10 days later, the newspaper declared Boulder resident Andrew Dickson the winner, after a follow-up revealed his submission of "Buffaloes" had actually arrived several days before those of the original winners. Through the years, synonyms which quickly came into use included "Bisons," "Bufs," "Thundering Herd," "Stampeding Herd," "Golden Avalanche," and "Golden Buffaloes."

Live buffaloes made appearances at CU games on and off through the years, usually in a pen on the field or sometimes driven around in a cage; in the 1940s, the school kept a baby buffalo in a special pen at the University Riding Academy. The first named buffalo was "Mr. Chips," who appeared for the first time at the 1957 CU Days kickoff rally, as supporter Mahlon White donated him to the school, and it was cared for by a men's honorary.

A few years passed between a live mascot on the sideline and the tradition Colorado fans have come to know so well. In 1966, John Lowery, the father of a CU freshman from Lubbock, Texas, donated to the school a six-month old buffalo calf from Sedgewick, Colo.

For a while, she was billed as "Rraalph," but the origin of the name is in some doubt. Some say it was given by the student body after sounds she allegedly made while running and snorting; others say it was named for Ralph Jay Wallace, the junior class president at the time; and the original handlers will tell a third version. Regardless, an astute fan soon discovered that the buffalo was in fact a female, thus the name alteration to Ralphie.

The initial tradition was for CU's five sophomore class officers to run the buffalo around the stadium in a full loop. They would pick her up from caretaker William "Bud" Hays at the Green Mountain Riding Stables, and would run her for two hours in the morning to tire her a bit to keep her under control by the time the game started. At the conclusion of the run, the fans would break into the "Buffalo Stomp," which would literally shake the stadium in deafening fashion as the team took the field. But CU officials soon had the tradition stopped because of the actual physical damage it was causing.

Around that same time, head coach Eddie Crowder was approached with the idea the charging buffalo running out on the field before the game with the team behind her.

A young Ralphie IV with John Parker

Crowder thought it was a great idea, and the debut of this great tradition took place on October 28, 1967, CU's homecoming game against Oklahoma State. Though OSU won the game, 10-7, the tradition was here to stay, though those who had some training in such an endeavor as working with a wild animal eventually replaced the sophomores. The five sophomores appointed themselves as the board of directors of a fundraising effort to bring Ralphie to the '67 Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston, raising the necessary money through selling stock.

Ralphie attended every CU home football game for 13 years (including all bowls), and retired at the end of the 1978 season. CU's first Ralphie achieved nationally celebrity status, and was even kidnapped in 1970 by some Air Force Academy students as well as being named the school's 1971 Homecoming Queen at the height of the anti-establishment era.

Ralphie's replacement on the sidelines was Ralphie II, making her first-ever appearance at CU's final home game of the 1978 season. The buffalo's original name was Moon, short for Moonshine, but the name Ralphie had become so popular and traditional that it was restored. The Bank of Boulder, a significant contributor through the years to the Ralphie program, purchased and donated Ralphie II to CU. At the age of 12, and after serving the Buffs for 10 years, Ralphie II passed away on September 19, 1987, following a 31-17 CU win over Stanford.

Ralphie III was pressed into action earlier than anticipated, as she had been in training for the 1988 season. Originally named "Tequila," she made her debut on November 7, 1987, when the Buffs beat Missouri, 27-10. After over 10 years of service, she passed away in January 1998, at the age of 13.

Colorado's latest mascot is Ralphie IV, donated to the university by media and sports entrepreneur Ted Turner.

Ralphie IV was born in April 1997 on the Flying D Ranch in Gallatin Gateway, Montana, which is a part of Turner Ranches, the largest ranch operation in the United States. Named "Rowdy" by ranch hands, she was separated from her mother when she was about a month old and was literally found in the jaws of a coyote with bite marks around her neck. She survived the attack and was bottle-fed by the hands for four months. She was released back to the herd but wouldn't bond with them, so the ranch hands took her back in and fed her grasses and grain. It was then that she was donated to CU as a yearling early in the spring of 1998. John Parker, who trained and housed both Ralphie II and III, brought her back to Colorado from Montana and supervised all of her early training.

Parker retired as Ralphie's caretaker in May 2000. Long-time CU supporters Dale and Lynn Johnson housed Ralphie for the following year, with Parker's assistant, Ted Davis, assuming the program duties for the 2000 season.

In the summer of 2001, two former Ralphie Handlers and CU graduates, Ben Frei and Kevin Priola, took over the program. Together they coordinate the selection and managing of up to 12 student handlers as well as all aspects of training.

Ralphie IV, now full grown and mature, weighs in at about 1,100 pounds, about three times her weight when she made her debut against Colorado State at Mile High Stadium in Denver on September 5, 1998. A strong and powerful animal, she can reach speeds of 25 miles per hour. Her home is an undisclosed ranch in nearby Henderson.

FOLSOM FIELD

Folsom Field, named after legendary University of Colorado Coach Frederick Folsom, opened for the 1924 season and has been the home of Buffs ever since. This will be the 83rd season the Buffs will play their home games on the "hilltop." The 400th game in the stadium's history took place in 2002.

Colorado owns one of the nation's best all-time home records, and in the previous 82 seasons of play at Folsom, the Buffaloes are 280-132-10, a winning percentage of .675.

The stadium was dedicated on October 11, 1924, as Colorado defeated Regis College, 39-0. It actually was the second home game of the season, as CU closed out playing at Gamble Field the week before with a 31-0 win over Western State.

It originally was called Colorado Stadium, the name being changed to Folsom Field in 1944 following Folsom's death. In addition, old 24th Street was also changed to Folsom Street to honor the man who coached Colorado teams three different times totaling 15 years between 1895 and 1915. His 76.5 winning percentage (77-23-2) is still tops among all coaches ever at CU.

CU had played its games at Gamble Field for two decades, where seating was limited to temporary bleachers. In the winter of 1923-24, CU President George Norlin studied the possibility of a new stadium, as the approaching completion of a sparkling new gymnasium (Carlson Gym), the inadequate number of seats at Gamble Field (roughly 9,000) and the growing interest in physical education and intercollegiate athletics demanded that a remedy needed to take place soon.

Investigation of a natural ravine just east of the site of the gymnasium as a site for the new stadium, suggested by professor Whitney Huntington, was not only a convenient location, but by using it a great expense could be avoided. After a financing plan was worked out, CU's own construction department began moving dirt with a steam shovel on January 14, 1924.

The new structure had an original capacity of 26,000, featuring wooden bleacher seating over cement, and quarter-mile running track. A California red wood, dipped in creosote, was selected as the initial material, as estimates at the time put a lifetime of around 13 years for the wood. There were 22 sections divided by radial aisles installed, the same set-up in the lower bowl that still exists today.

Accounts at the time put the cost of the stadium at around $2.60 per seat, instead of $10 had concrete been used; the total cost was $65,000. By comparison, the cost to construct Carlson Gym was $350,000.

With expansion in mind when originally built, it was by design rather easy to add an upper deck. In 1956, Folsom Field's capacity was upped to 45,000 when a second deck was erected around two-thirds of the stadium. Some 6,000 more seats were added in 1967 when the running track was removed and the team dressing facilities were constructed at the north end of the field.

Improvements continued, as the gigantic six-level press box facility was added on the west side for the start of the 1968 season. It also serves as the home for CU's Flatirons Club, a group of donors who financially support the athletic program.

In the summer of 1976, Folsom Field had another face-lift, as the wooden bleacher seats were removed and replaced with silver and gold aluminum bleachers, expanding the stadium to a capacity of 52,005.

The renovation of CU's team house in the summer of 1979 took away a few seats, changing the capacity to 51,463. The construction of the magnificent Dal Ward Center in 1991 added new bleacher seating in the north end zone and increased the capacity to 51,748. In 1992, the addition of a yellow concourse wall on the southeast side took away a few hundred seats, and corporate boxes (in 1995) lowered the capacity to 51,655.

The removal of a set of old rickety bleachers in 2001 and a few other changes placed the stadium capacity at 50,942, but that figure stood for just two seasons. The addition of suites and club seating on the east side, completed in August 2003, has increased the capacity to 53,750, an all-time Folsom Field high.

Prior to the 1971 season, the playing surface at Folsom Field was natural grass. Monsanto of St. Louis, Mo., replaced the natural grass with Astroturf for the 1971 campaign, with the first game being played on the artificial surface against the University of Wyoming on September 18 (the Buffs won 56-13); it was a godsend, as that very morning, Boulder received a rare late summer snowstorm that blanketed the field with more than two feet of snow.

The original Astroturf surface was replaced with a "new rug" for the start of the 1978 season, and in the summer of 1989, "Astroturf-8" was installed, the third artificial surfacing in the school's history. Folsom was covered with artificial surfaces for 28 seasons (168 games), and it was fairly friendly for the Buffs, which posted a 110-56-2 record in those games.

In the spring of 1999, Folsom Field returned to natural grass, as "SportGrass" was installed on the stadium floor. The project, which included bio-thermal heating, drainage and a sub-air system, cost $1.2 million. Video display boards, known as "BuffVision" were also added in the summer of 1999 at a cost of $3.6 million.

DAL WARD ATHLETIC CENTER

The 1990-91 athletic season was a landmark one for the University of Colorado in two areas. The year produced national championships in football (its first) and skiing (its 14th at the time), and the men's basketball team reached the NIT Final Four.

That was also the year that the magnificent Dal Ward Athletic Center became a reality. The entire construction process was completed in less than nine months, from ground-breaking in December 1990, to completion the following August.

The $14 million building was completely funded through private donations. This multi-functional, state-of-the-art structure is one of the top facilities anywhere in college athletics.

The Dal Ward Center boasts 92,000 square feet that includes academic and computer centers, sports medicine and weight training centers, a full-service kitchen and dining area, an auditorium, men's and women's lockerrooms, a player's lounge and offices for athletic administration and coaches.

Construction on the project actually began in November, 1990, with the demolition of the old team house building, which had stood in the north end of Folsom Field since its erection in 1967. The foundation was dug and concrete poured over the next couple of months, with construction of the actual building starting in February, 1991. The structure was available for the football team's use by mid-August, with the remainder of the building completed later that fall.

The building is named for Dallas Ward, the football coach who led CU into the Big Seven Conference in 1948. Ward was the head coach for the Buffaloes for 11 seasons (1948-1958), compiling a 63-41-6 record, with his teams noted for the single wing offense.

The facility has several outstanding attributes, which benefit both the athletic department and the entire CU-Boulder campus. The tile roof, native stone walls and traditional Italianate architecture were selected to complement the style of the Boulder campus. The Center also establishes a new sense of entry to the campus coming from the north. The building features a dramatic two-story entry and lobby space with a grand staircase.

PRESIDENT HANK BROWN

Hank Brown was named the 21st president of the University of Colorado in June 2005, as he was advanced as the sole finalist for the position on an interim basis two months earlier and took over the reins of the university system on August 1, 2005.

Brown, 66, served in that interim capacity until May 12, 2006, when CU's Board of Regents officially named him as the permanent choice for the position. A national search produced Brown as the most qualified candidate to lead the university's three campuses in Boulder, Denver and Colorado Springs.

Since taking the helm at the University, among an impressive list of first year accomplishments, Brown freed up $1 million by restructuring and reorganizing the system office, including eliminating 11 positions, appointing a treasurer, prohibited the use of state funds for alcohol purchases, revamped the University's accounting procedures, established "open hours" meetings, reinvested $1 million from savings from the president's office into critical areas such as compliance and IT security and created a Blue Ribbon Commission on diversity.

Restoring trust by revitalizing a culture of openness, transparency and accountability has become a hallmark of his presidency, and he has led this cultural shift by example.

Additionally, the University has seen an upswing in several areas during his tenure. Out-of-state applications and fundraising both increased, and research funds increased by more than $40 million from the previous year before he took over. He also launched a $7.5 million Pioneer Fund campaign to raise matching funds for Pre-Collegiate graduate scholarships, raising a third of the funds in just six months.

Brown returned to his alma mater from the Daniels Fund, where he had served as president and Chief executive officer since July 1, 2002. The Daniels Fund is a billion dollar foundation left by the late cable entrepreneur, Bill Daniels, and in his first two years there, he reduced overhead by 35% and shifted $2 million a year to increase grants and scholarships.

Prior to his employment with the Daniels Fund, Brown served as the 11th president at the University of Northern Colorado.

Before Brown entered higher education, he spent several years in public service as one of the state's most popular politicians. A republican, he served one term in the United States Senate, representing Colorado from 1991-97. That followed five consecutive terms (1981-91) in the U.S. House as Colorado's representative from the 4th Congressional District. He also served in the Colorado Senate from 1972-76. Brown was elected and re-elected to the House of Representatives by margins ranging from 69 to 74 percent, the highest in the history of the District. He was elected to the U.S. Senate by a 13 percent victory margin.

Brown was also vice president with Monfort of Colorado (Greeley) from 1969 to 1980. He is both an attorney and a certified public accountant.

He earned his Bachelor's degree in Accounting from the University of Colorado-Boulder in 1961. As an undergraduate, he participated for three years in wrestling and was also a member of the freshman football team in addition to serving as CU's student body president.

He earned a Juris Doctorate degree from the University of Colorado Law School in 1969. While in Washington, Brown earned a Master of Law Degree in 1986 from George Washington University. In 1988, he passed the exam to become a C.P.A.

Brown also served his country, as he was in the United State Navy from 1962-66, achieving the rank of lieutenant. He volunteered for service in Vietnam and was decorated for his combat service as a forward air controller.

Brown was born February 12, 1940 in Denver and moved with his family to northern California, graduating from Menlo-Atherton High School where he lettered in football, wrestling and tennis. He starred as a prep wrestler, as he was the state runner-up as a junior and the state champion as a senior in the 191-pound classification. His father, Harry, was also an accomplished wrestler, as he was the national runner-up at Iowa State in the late 1930s.

He and his wife Nan live in Denver and they have three adult children, Harry, Christy, and Lori; and two grandchildren, Lilly and Hank.

CHANCELLOR G.P. "BUD" PETERSON

George P. "Bud" Peterson is in his first year as Chancellor of the University of Colorado at Boulder, assuming the position on July 15, 2006.

Peterson, 53, came to CU from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute (RPI) in Troy, N.Y., where he had served as provost for the previous six years.

As Chancellor, Dr. Peterson is the chief academic and administrative officer of the CU-Boulder campus. Throughout his career, he has played an active role in helping to establish the national education and research agendas, serving on numerous industry, government and academic task forces and committees.

Dr. Peterson attended Kansas State University and earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering in 1975 and a second Bachelor's degree in Mathematics in 1977. In 1980, he earned his third degree from the school, as he received his Master of Science in Engineering.

In 1985 he received a Doctorate in Mechanical Engineering from Texas A&M University. He served as a Visiting Research Scientist at the NASA Johnson Space Center before returning to Texas A&M as a faculty member in the Mechanical Engineering Department, where he conducted research and taught courses in thermodynamics and heat transfer. He was later named the Halliburton Professor of Mechanical Engineering and the College of Engineering's Tenneco Professor. While at Texas A&M, he held leadership positions as Head of the Mechanical Engineering Department, Executive Associate Dean of the College of Engineering, and Associate Vice Chancellor for the Texas A&M University System. In 1993-94, he served as Program Director for the Thermal Transport and Thermal Processing Division of the National Science Foundation.

A Fellow of both the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, Dr. Peterson is the author or co-author of 12 books or book chapters, 150 refereed journal articles, more than 150 conference publications and holds eight patents. He is a member of several professional organizations and the recipient of numerous national and international honors and awards for both teaching and research.

A student-athlete as an undergraduate at Kansas State, he earned three letters in football, playing wide receiver between 1972-74, starting as a junior and senior. He caught 30 passes for 359 yards in his career and was considered the best blocker among all of the Wildcat receivers.

Peterson was born September 1, 1952 in Prairie Village, Kansas, a suburb of Kansas City. He lettered in football, basketball and track at Shawnee Mission East High School and joined the KSU football team as a walk-on. He and his wife, Valerie, have four grown children, Keith, Emily, Brennan and Sean.

PROVOST PHIL DISTEFANO

Dr. Philip DiStefano returned to his role at provost the University of Colorado at Boulder campus this past summer after serving the school well for 19 months as interim chancellor.

He was promoted in December 2004 to chancellor, and guided the campus through some of its toughest times in history, helping to restore transparency and public trust in the school. He made several key hires, including that of current CU athletic director Mike Bohn.

In the role of provost, which he initially held for five years as "second-in-command" to the chancellor, he serves as the chief operating officer for most campus academic matters.

In a campus reorganization of oversight of intercollegiate athletics, which went into effect July 1, 2004, the athletic director reported to him. But DiStefano was no stranger to CU athletics, or intercollegiate athletics for that matter.

He served five years as the University of Colorado's faculty representative to the Big 12 Conference, as he assumed the role on June 1, 2000, and held it until appointing Dr. David Clough to the position in the spring of 2005.

DiStefano, 59, was just the fifth faculty representative to serve in that capacity for CU since 1947, as he replaced Dr. Jim Corbridge, who held the position from 1989 until his retirement in the spring of 2000. He was also the vice chancellor of academic affairs, as he was promoted to that position in July 1998, after serving on an interim basis for 10 months.

He came to CU in 1974 from the Ohio State University, where he earned his Doctorate in Philosophy in Humanities Education in June of that year. While at OSU, he spent three years as a teaching and research associate in humanities education.

DiStefano's first position at CU was that of an assistant professor for curriculum and instruction. He held that appointment for six years, and was promoted to associate professor with tenure in 1981. In June 1986, he was named professor of curriculum and instruction, a position he has maintained as vice chancellor. Also within that time frame, he served as an associate dean (1984-85) and as the director of graduate studies (1985-86).

In July 1986, he was named the Dean for the School of Education, a post he would hold for the next 10 years. In September 1996, he was appointed as the associate vice chancellor for academic affairs, serving in that role for one year until assuming his vice chancellor duties on an interim basis in September 1997.

He earned his bachelor's degree from Ohio State in humanities education in 1968, and received his master's in secondary education (English) from West Virginia University in 1971.

He was born September 21, 1946 in Steubenville, Ohio, and graduated from Steubenville Catholic Central High School. He is married to the former Yvonne Pasquarella, and the couple has three daughters, Gia, Nicole and Jennifer.

A life long sports enthusiast, one of his childhood and life-long friends is former major league baseball player Rich Donnelly, who is currently the third base coach for the Milwaukee Brewers (and served the Colorado Rockies in a similar capacity for three-plus seasons).

He is very active in the Boulder community, serving on the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce as well as the Rotary Club. His hobbies include reading mysteries and biographies.

FACULTY REP DAVID CLOUGH

David Clough, professor of chemical and biological engineering, is in his second year as the University of Colorado's Faculty Athletic Representative (FAR) to the Big 12 Conference, as he was named to the position in March 2005.

Dr. Clough, 60, replaced Phil DiStefano, who had served in the role from June 1, 2000 until just shortly after his appointment as interim chancellor for the Boulder campus in 2005. Clough is only the sixth FAR in CU history, joining a very prestigious list: Walter Franklin (1947-1948), Warren Thompson (1949-1966), William Baughn (1967-1989), James Corbridge (1989-2000) and DiStefano (2000-2005).

Dr. Clough has had a significant impact on engineering education at CU-Boulder and beyond through career-long efforts to enhance the learning of engineering students. He has pioneered active- and cooperative-learning techniques in the College of Engineering and Applied Science, and in 1989 he originated the concept of the Integrated Teaching and Learning Laboratory (ITLL).

He also has been involved with student-athletes for a long time, as he's had a relationship with the CU athletic department for over 25 years. He played an integral role in Rhodes Scholarship candidacy of former football player Jim Hansen, an Academic All-American who was awarded the Rhodes in 1993; he is now teaching at M.I.T. and the two remain best of friends.

Dr. Clough received his bachelor's degree from the Case Institute of Technology (now Case Western Reserve University) in 1968 and his master's from CU-Boulder in 1969, both in chemical engineering. He worked as an engineer for E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Inc., from 1969 to 1972 before returning to CU-Boulder to earn his doctorate in 1975. He joined the faculty of the Department of Chemical Engineering at that time.

From 1986 to 1992 he served as the college's associate dean for academic affairs, playing a role in a number of important initiatives, including the Gemmill Engineering Library, the Herbst Humanities Program, and the ITLL. From 1993 through 1999, he was associate chair of the Department of Chemical Engineering and was responsible for significant improvements to the department's undergraduate advising program.

Known for his willingness to experiment with new educational concepts and technology, Dr. Clough has worked to reform traditional lecture classes into an interactive workshop format that greatly enhances the learning of students. Through these efforts, he has helped to reshape the way engineering is taught. The student-run Engineering Excellence Fund unanimously chose Dr. Clough as the first recipient of the Sullivan-Carlson Inspiration in Teaching Award in 1998. His students honored him with the AIChE Undergraduate Teaching Award three times (1996, 1997, 1998) and the college's Outstanding Advisor Award in 1993. He also has been given the college's Hutchinson Teaching Award and Peters Service Award. He received the first Boulder Faculty Assembly Teaching Award in 1980 and the Boulder Campus Outstanding Advisor Award in 1996. His merit as an educator has also been recognized outside CU, as in 1995, the American Society for Engineering Education (Rocky Mountain Section) presented him with its first Outstanding Educator Award.

In April 2000, he received the college's Distinguished Engineering Alumnus Award in the Education category. It recognized his significant impact on engineering education through pioneering the active learning concept for the ITLL, and in leading the college in changing traditional lecture courses to an active learning format.

He and his wife, Sydney, have four grown children, Astrid, William, Rodney and Damon. Dr. Clough's father, John W. Clough, was a chemical engineer, and his two brothers are retired engineers. The Clough family established a scholarship endowment in engineering at CU in honor of John Clough, who died in 1994.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR MIKE BOHN

Mike Bohn was introduced as just the sixth athletic director in University of Colorado history on April 13, 2005, returning to the surroundings where he starred as a prep athlete before embarking on a journey that would take him all over the western half of the United States and finally back home.

Bohn, 45, came to Colorado from San Diego State University, where he left an indelible imprint in just 18 months as the Aztecs' director of athletics. He agreed to a 5-year contract with the Buffaloes.

He replaced Jack Lengyel, who served as interim athletic director for five months after Dick Tharp stepped down in November 2004 after holding the position since 1996. Tharp had followed three legendary men in CU athletic history, Harry Carlson (1927-65), Eddie Crowder (1965-84) and Bill Marolt (1984-96).

Aside from Lengyel, who came out of retirement to serve in an interim capacity, Bohn is the first person to be named CU athletic director without having previously worked within the CU system. Carlson and Crowder were coaches upon being named, Marolt returned to CU where he coached for 10 years before leaving for the U.S. Olympic ski team, and Tharp was a university attorney with strong CU-Boulder campus ties.

He accomplished a lot in his first 100 days on the job, from branching out into the community with Chancellor Phil DiStefano at town meetings, to implementing the YOUR TEAM campaign to raise significant funds for immediate scholarship and capital project needs. Several other creative ideas, especially in marketing including Ralphies' Kids Roundup, were established to create better ties with CU and area communities.

Those first 100 days were just the beginning, and just one year into his service to CU, he had made major improvements in fundraising, including the establishment of the Buff Club Cabinet, attendance in football and men's basketball, especially by students in the latter, and has worked to balance a budget by making tough but necessary cuts, guaranteeing the future success of Colorado's 16 intercollegiate sports.

Bohn's brief tenure at San Diego State featured many remarkable accomplishments, including the instilling of energy, enthusiasm, accountability and determination into the Aztec staff. Officially named SDSU athletic director on October 6, 2003, his immediate task was to unify the athletic department, the campus and the community of San Diego.

Bohn strategically and steadily restructured the SDSU athletic department with emphasis on fund raising, fiscal responsibility, compliance and academics.

Under his watch, San Diego State set a new single-game attendance record in football when more than 57,000 fans watched the Aztecs' win over Idaho State in the 2004 season opener. The average football attendance of 35,995 in 2004 was the best at the school since 1993, with the increase of 14,369 fans per game marking the third largest attendance jump in the country.

The enthusiasm spread to other sports. SDSU blanked Houston, 4-0, and set a college baseball record with a crowd of 40,106 on hand in the opener of San Diego's PETCO Park. When the Aztecs hosted Colorado State in a 2005 Big Monday basketball battle, SDSU set a school record with nearly 4,000 students crammed into Cox Arena for the event.

He landed the San Diego State position after serving five years as athletic director at the University of Idaho (1999-2003), where he first made his mark as a lead administrator in the area of transformation.

At Idaho, he developed projects for new facilities, increased community and corporate support, and produced balanced budgets for the department after inheriting an operation that had accumulated a deficit of over $1 million.

During his five years in Moscow, he oversaw the transition of the Vandals to the Division I-A ranks from the Big Sky Conference. Under Bohn, Idaho began construction on the Vandal Athletics Center, the first facilities improvement for UI athletics in two decades. He was also the driving force behind a 20-percent increase in the Vandal Scholarship Fund and a $350,000 surge in annual corporate support.

Between Idaho and San Diego State, Bohn hired 12 head coaches in all as well as several administrators.

Bohn prepared for his career goal of becoming a Division I athletic director entirely in the state of Colorado, his adopted "native" state despite being born in Illinois; he moved to Colorado with his family when he was 1-year old.

His first job in athletic administration came at the Air Force Academy, where he worked for the better part of nine years (1984-92). During his tenure in Colorado Springs, Bohn advanced from an intern to assistant athletic director. He served as executive director of the Blue and Silver Club, as well as other external operations throughout his stay at the academy. He played a major role in the increase of football season ticket sales from 6,000 to 20,000 and implemented a fundraising campaign that generated $16 million for stadium improvements.

From 1992 to 1995, Bohn served as Director of Marketing for the College Football Association, where he worked for one of the most respected people in the history of college athletics, Chuck Neinas (the one-time Big Eight Conference commissioner). The CFA, the precursor to the current Bowl Championship Series, consisted of six major football conferences encompassing 67 universities. He created and developed the CFA "Good Works Team" which recognized significant off-the-field accomplishments in the area of community relations of 11 football student-athletes nationally (a team that is still selected today by the American Football Coaches Association).

Bohn was involved in many facets of the organization's operations, including the administration of a $67 million television package involving ABC, ESPN and ESPN2. He also formulated a blueprint for the promotion and development of the image of college football as a whole.

He then moved on to Colorado State University, where he spent the next three years (1996-98) as an associate athletic director for the Rams. At CSU, he was responsible for all external revenue-producing operations, including ticket sales, fund raising through the Greater Ram Club, licensing, corporate sales, signage, capital campaigns and broadcasting rights fees, as well as special events.

Along with increasing revenue on several fronts, Bohn helped escalate student interest in CSU athletics while working with the Associated Students of Colorado State University.

He earned his bachelor's of arts degree from the University of Kansas in 1983, where he was recruited as a quarterback and also played baseball. He then graduated with a master's degree in sports administration from Ohio University in 1984. While earning his master's, he worked as a graduate assistant football coach for the Bobcats.

Bohn is a former member of the NCAA Championships Cabinet and the Division I-A Athletics Directors Association Executive Council. During his stay at Idaho, he was a member of the Big West Conference executive committee and served on the University of Idaho executive council.

Born November 16, 1960 in Hinsdale, Ill., he graduated from Boulder High School where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball. He is married to the former Kim Zeren, and the couple has two children, Michaelyn (22) and Brandon (20).

Mike Bohn is the first athletic administrator to work at three of the state's Division I-A colleges (CU, Air Force, Colorado State and Denver). Only one coach is thought to have spent time at three schools: Terry Dunn served as assistant basketball coach at AFA (1991-94), CSU (1994-96) and CU (1996-2004). Several high profile people have logged time in at two of the schools; those who spent time at CU and one other include assistant football coaches Kay Dalton (CU/CSU), Chuck Heater (CU/CSU), Tom McMahon (CU/CSU) and Dan Stavely (CU/DU); track coaches Don Meyers (CU/CSU) and Jerry Quiller (CU/CSU); sports information directors Steve Hatchell (CU/CSU) and Tim Simmons (CU/CSU); gymnastics coach Dan Garcia (CU/DU), golf coaches Eric Hoos and Sammie Chergo (both assistants at CU and then head coaches at DU); assistant women's basketball coach Tanya Haave (CU/DU); trainers Eric Fry (DU/CU), Ed Lochrie (CU/DU) and Nicole Makris (DU/CU); and fundraiser Chris Kiser (CU/CSU).

HEAD COACH DAN HAWKINS

Dan Hawkins was named the 23rd head football coach in University of Colorado history on December 16, 2005, officially taking over the reins of the program on New Year's Day 2006.

Hawkins, 45, came to Colorado from Boise State, where he compiled a 53-11 record in five seasons as head coach. That included three 11-plus win seasons, and 31-game winning streaks in both Western Athletic Conference play as well as at home on Boise State's famous blue artificial turf field. His teams won or shared four WAC titles, including three outright under his direction.

In the modern history of Division I-A football, only Bob Pruett (Marshall, 58-9), Bob Stoops (Oklahoma, 55-11) and Pete Carroll (Southern California, 54-10) won more games in their first five seasons than Hawkins' 53 at Boise State (a number also matched by Miami's Larry Coker).

"Coach Hawkins represents a level of competitive spirit, integrity, work ethic and passion that will serve this institution, football program and entire athletic department well for many years to come," CU Athletic Director Mike Bohn said at the press conference announcement of Hawkins' hiring. "This is an exciting time at the University of Colorado and he is the perfect fit for what we were looking for."

Hawkins is a 1984 graduate of the University of California-Davis, earning a bachelor's degree in physical education. In 1993, he earned a master's degree in educational administration from St. Mary's (Calif.) College. He's the third head football coach in CU history, all in succession, to hold two degrees.

Hawkins agreed to a five-year, $4.25 million contract with the Buffaloes, effective January 1, 2006 through December 31, 2010, not including incentive compensation for academic progress, student citizenship and community outreach and various performance incentives ranging from rewarding bowl appearances to winning a national championship.

He has an overall record of 92-23-1 (a .797 winning percentage) in 10 seasons as a collegiate head coach, the sixth best mark of all current Division I-A head coaches. It is the top mark for a coach with over 100 career games, as the next coach on the list with at least 100 under his belt Tennessee's Philip Fulmer (128-37, .776). During his five-year tenure with Boise State, the Broncos' 53-11 record was the fourth best in the NCAA between 2001 and 2005, trailing only Texas (55-8), Miami, Fla. (53-8) and USC (54-9), all three of whom won at least one national championship in that time frame.

His overall record includes a 39-12-1 mark in five seasons as the head coach of Willamette University (Salem, Ore.), where he won or shared three conference titles between 1993 and 1997. Thus in 10 years of combined conference play between Boise

State and Willamette, Hawkins' teams won or shared seven league championships while going a remarkable 58-6-1, including six undefeated seasons, in league play (a 90.0 winning percentage).

He was 37-3 in WAC conference games, leading the Broncos to outright championships in 2002, 2003 and 2004 with 8-0 league marks, and the co-title in 2005 with a 7-1 record. At one point Hawkins guided the Broncos to a league record 31 consecutive victories, a streak that began late in his first year and continued well into his fifth campaign. His winning percentage for overall and league games stands as the highest in WAC history.

In 116 career games as a head coach, his teams have never been shut out, scoring at least one touchdown in every game while being held below 13 points just five times, only once at Boise State. The Broncos scored 40 or more points in 37 of his 64 games, as BSU averaged 41.6 points per game in his time there, the top figure in the nation for the five-year period between 2001 and 2005 (ahead of Texas and Texas Tech, who averaged 40.3 and 38.4, respectively). That included 50 or more points 19 times and 20-plus on an amazing 59 occasions.

Boise State also won 28 games by 25 or more points under Hawkins, and 43 by double-digits; however, his teams also excelled in close contests, as the Broncos were 10-5 in games decided by seven points or less. His teams were well balanced across the board, as evidenced by the Broncos owning top 10 marks for five-year NCAA numbers in his tenure not only in scoring, but also in total offense (3rd, 465.7 yards per game), passing offense (10th, 274.6), rushing defense (6th, 107.8) and kickoff returns (1st, 23.5 average for 245 total returns).

At Boise State, Hawkins had a knack for molding a talented group of players and coaches into a dominating force, part of the reason he was named the WAC Coach of the Year on two occasions (2002, 2004) and was a finalist for the 2004 Paul "Bear" Bryant College Football Coach of the Year Award.

Hawkins took over the Boise State program on December 2, 2000, replacing Dirk Koetter, whom he had served as assistant head coach, after he took the head coach position at Arizona State. Hawkins had joined the BSU staff in 1998, and coached the tight ends and special teams in addition to assistant head coach and recruiting coordinator duties. Hawkins also oversaw a highly successful community service and public involvement program for the Bronco football team during this time.

Before ascending to Boise State's head man, as tight ends coach Hawkins helped developed a wealth of Bronco talent. In each of his first four seasons on the Bronco staff, a Boise State tight end earned either first or second team all-conference honors. Twice Bronco tight ends were drafted into the National Football League, most notably Jeb Putzier, who earned first-team All-WAC honors in 2001 after putting together the most productive season by a tight end in school history and would be a sixth round draft pick by the Denver Broncos. Special teams also blossomed under his direction, with top national rankings by teams or individuals in kickoff returns, placekicking and punting.

Koetter would serve as head coach in his final game, the 2000 Crucial.com Humanitarian Bowl, but Hawkins took over leading the team in practice and preparation for the game, which Boise State defeated UTEP, 38-23. Though Hawkins served in his assistant coaching role in that game, his work as head coach was already evident to close observers of the program.

As just the eighth head coach in the school's 33-year history, on the surface, Boise State went 8-4 in his first season in 2001. But the Broncos were transitioning from the old Big West Conference, in which they had claimed back-to-back titles, into the stronger Western Athletic Conference. Hawkins met the challenge by posting a 6-2 league mark, tying for second overall, doing so after opening with losses to No. 21 South Carolina and Washington State, who would appear in the national rankings some three weeks later.

His biggest win that season came on October 20, and had an indirect link to his future school, Colorado, at the time. He took his Bronco team on the road where it would defeat Fresno State, 35-30, ranked eighth in the nation with a 6-0 mark at the time. Fresno State began its season with a 24-22 win over the Buffaloes in Boulder and had designs on crashing the BCS (Bowl Championship Series) until being derailed by Hawkins' Broncos, the school's first-ever over a ranked opponent.

That set the stage for the next three seasons, when the Broncos strung together consecutive records of 12-1, 13-1 and 11-1 in posting a 24-0 record in WAC conference play in 2002, 2003 and 2004.

The WAC championship won in 2002 came in just the school's second year in the league and was the first to go undefeated in league play since BYU did so in 1996. Along the way, BSU overwhelmed its eight league opponents, scoring an average of 51.1 points per game while owning a victory margin of 37.2 points, which broke BYU's league mark of 34.0 set in 1979. Boise State led the nation in scoring (45.6), total offense (501.5) and passing efficiency (169.4) and led the WAC in five defensive categories, with Hawkins' success recognized at the conference and regional levels as he was selected the WAC Coach of Year, and the Co-Coach of the Year for Region 4 by the American Football Coaches Association (the latter with Oklahoma's Stoops).

The Broncos appeared in the nation's top 25 late in the year, and following a 34-16 win over Iowa State in the Humanitarian Bowl, Boise State was ranked No. 12 in the final USA Today Coaches Poll (and No. 15 in the Associated Press ballot).

It was more of the same in 2003, as the 13-1 Broncos again appeared in the rankings in November and ended the year ranked 15th by the coaches and 16th by the Associated Press. The only setback came at Oregon State (a 26-24 defeat) in the third week of the season; the Broncos would end the year with 11 straight wins (which started a 22-game winning streak, the longest in the nation by the end of the 2004 regular season). The season was culminated by a 34-31 win over No. 19 TCU in the Fort Worth Bowl on the Horned Frogs' home turf.

Hawkins' 2003 team again produced the top offense in the nation averaging 43.0 points per game, and in the five major offensive categories in football, Boise State was ranked among the top 10 in four of them. The defense was no slouch either, as the Broncos was ranked among the top 12 in three categories (rushing defense, pass efficiency and scoring defense). Quarterback Ryan Dinwiddie was the league's Offensive Player of the Year and was one of five Broncos to be named first-team All-WAC.

Despite all those accomplishments, Boise State entered 2004 unranked, but at least on the national radar. After a 53-34 win over Oregon State in the second game of the year, the Broncos entered the rankings at No. 23 and were a regular from that point on. BSU survived scares from BYU, Tulsa and San Jose State (winning the latter 56-49 in two overtimes) to finish the regular season undefeated at 11-0 and ranked its highest ever — 10th — in both major polls (and ninth in the final BCS Standings). In one of the season's most anticipated bowl games, and arguably the most intriguing non-BCS bowl since the creation of the system some seven years earlier, Boise State dropped a 44-40 thriller to 10-1 and No. 7 Louisville in the Liberty Bowl.

That 2004 team prided itself on all-around excellence, with top rankings in all three phases of the game, placing in the top 21 nationally in nine major statistical categories including scoring (second), punt returns (third), total offense (fourth) and rushing defense (10th). BSU was ranked either first or second in 16 conference categories and had 16 players earn some kind of All-WAC recognition for a second straight year.

Important to note about the 2004 season was that it might have been Hawkins' best coaching job to date in his illustrious career. Despite returning just 10 starters from the '03 team, he guided the Broncos to their first perfect regular season since the school moved to four-year status in the 1960s. The team spent a school record 13 consecutive weeks in the national rankings and peaked at No. 7 in the BCS Standings in early November.

His final team there in 2005 went 9-4, but had only four senior starters, the lowest total among all 119 I-A schools while also playing one of the toughest schedules in school history. That squad rallied from a 0-2 start, winning nine of the final 10 games in earning a fourth straight bowl berth. Three of the four losses came at the hands of ranked teams, including Hawkins' finale in the MPC Computers Bowl, a 27-21 setback to No. 19 Boston College; the Broncos spotted BC a 27-0 lead in that game, only to see a fourth quarter rally come up just short. Despite some inexperience at the onset, the team of largely underclassmen finished in the top 25 in eight statistical categories including scoring (ninth), sacks (17th) and rushing offense (19th).

Overall, 20 of his players at Boise State earned first-team all-WAC honors, with three earning some kind of All-American mention and 10 either being drafted or signing as free agents with National Football League teams. Including his three years as an assistant coach, Hawkins helped the Broncos to an overall record of 79-21 and six conference championships in eight years, including Big West titles in 1999 and 2000.

Hawkins' first collegiate head coaching position was at Willamette University in Salem, Ore. He took over the program in 1993 after Willamette suffered two straight losing seasons, including a 1-8 campaign the year before his arrival. He would guide the Bearcats to five straight winning seasons between 1993-97, including two appearances in the NAIA playoffs.

Under his guidance, Willamette was 39-12-1, including a 13-1 record and a runner-up finish for the NAIA National Championship in 1997. The Bearcats had finished the regular season with a No. 7 national ranking and won three playoff games, including one in overtime, to reach the title game before succumbing to Findlay (Ohio), 14-7.

He was named the 1997 District Five Coach of the Year by the American Football Coaches Association, and was selected three times as the Mount Hood League (Columbia Football Association) coach of the year. Those accolades came in 1995 when Willamette was co-conference champion, and 1996 and 1997 when the Bearcats won the outright conference title with undefeated records in league play.

Hawkins spent time as both an offensive and defensive coordinator before taking over as head coach at Willamette. In 1992, he was in charge of the Sonoma State University defense. From 1988-91,

Hawkins was the offensive coordinator at the College of the Siskiyous (Calif.), helping lead the team to the Golden Valley Conference championship in 1991.

Hawkins began his coaching career with his alma mater, Cal-Davis, serving as the head freshman coach as well as the line-backer coach for the varsity in 1984. After three years at UC-Davis, he served as head coach at Christian Brothers High School in Sacramento in 1986 and 1987.

He was born November 10, 1960 in Fall River Mills, Calif., and graduated from Big Valley High School in Bieber, Calif., where he lettered in football, basketball, baseball and track. At UC-Davis, he lettered four times at fullback for coach Jim Sochor; as a junior, he was a member of UCD's NCAA Division II runner-up team.

He is married to the former Misti Rae Ann Hokanson, a registered nurse. They are the parents of four children, Ashley (22), Brittany (19), Cody (18, a true freshman quarterback at Colorado) and Drew (16). His interests range from doing things with his family, such as skydiving with his daughters the spring after signing on with Colorado, to reading (he owns quite a collection of books), to studying game video while listening to jazz music.

THE ASSISTANT COACHES

Chris STRAUSSER

Assistant Head Coach/
Offensive Line

Chris Strausser is in first year as assistant head coach and offensive line coach at Colorado, as he was one of four assistant coaches to join Boise State head coach Dan Hawkins when he accepted the Colorado position in December 2005. He assists Hawkins on administrative issues in addition to his on-field coaching duties.

Strausser, 42, was Boise State's offensive line coach five seasons, the last three of which he also served as the Broncos assistant head coach. He had four players earn first-team All-Western Athletic Conference honors, including one two-time performer, Daryn Colledge, who did so in both 2004 and 2005. In 2002, both Scott Huff and Rob Vian were named to the all-conference team, and in 2001 Matt Hill earned the honor. He had players earn second-team all-WAC accolades twice, Colledge in 2003 and Klayton Adams in 2004, with Tyrone Tutogi an honorable mention selection in 2003.

Hill was selected in the fifth round of the 2002 NFL Draft by the Seattle Seahawks, and Vian signed as a free agent with the Detroit Lions the same year.

A veteran assistant coach, Strausser has a varied coaching background, one that saw him make stops at five different schools in California and the Pacific Northwest in the decade prior to joining Hawkins at Boise State.

Strausser started his coaching career in 1989 as the wide receiver and tight ends coach at Menlo College in California. During the 1990 and 1991 seasons, he was a graduate assistant coach at Oregon State University, where he helped coach the running backs the first year and the offensive line his second year with the Beaver program, also while earning his master's degree.

In 1992, he moved on to Sonoma State, where he continued to work with the offensive tackles and tight ends, in addition to serving as special teams coordinator. It was there where he coached Larry Allen, who would go on to become one of the top offensive linemen in the National Football League and a perennial All-Pro performer.

It what would be the first of two stops at Portland State, Strausser served as offensive line coach and recruiting coordinator for the Vikings during the 1993 and 1994 seasons. PSU advanced to the Division II playoffs in both of those years.

He moved on to San Jose State University for the 1995 and 1996 seasons, serving as the offensive line coach and recruiting coordinator for the Spartans. In 1997, he moved on to Foothill College, where he spent three seasons as the offensive coordinator for one of California's top junior college programs. While directing the offense at Foothill, the Owls to posted back-to-back 10 win seasons in 1998 and 1999.

He returned to Portland State University for the 2000 season, where he served as the offensive line coach and run game coordinator. His work with the Viking offense played a key role in the team going 8-4 and advancing to the NCAA Division I-AA playoffs for the first time in school history. That year, PSU also posted one of the biggest upsets on the college landscape when it defeated Hawaii on the road, 45-20. Following the season, he rejoined the I-A ranks when he moved on to Boise State.

He earned his bachelor's degree in physical education in 1989 from Chico State University, and received his master's degree in education from Oregon State in 1991.

James "Chris" Strausser was born December 4, 1963 in Cleveland, Ohio, and graduated from Gunn High School in Palo Alto, Calif., where he lettered in football, baseball, track and wrestling. He is married to the former Cathy Breen, and the couple has two daughters, Maeve (11) and Sarah (10).

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Americans (1): Brian Roche. All-Western Athletic Conference Performers (3): Daryn Colledge, Matt Hill, Scott Huff. NFL Players/Draft Picks (3): Larry Allen, Hill, Roche.

RECORD—He has coached in 109 Division I-A games as a full-time coach, owning a record of 61-48 (53-11 at Boise State, 6-17 at San Jose State and 2-20 at Oregon State); he has coached in four bowl games.

Ron COLLINS

Defensive Coordinator

Ron Collins is in first year as defensive coordinator at Colorado, as he was one of four assistant coaches to join Boise State head coach Dan Hawkins when he accepted the Colorado position in December 2005. He will oversee all phases of the defense for the Buffaloes, but does not coach a specific position.

Collins, 42, served as Boise State's defensive coordinator for four seasons, while coaching the linebackers all five years he spent on the BSU staff under Hawkins. Under his guidance, the Boise State defense developed into one of the top defenses nationally and as the best in the Western Athletic Conference. All together, Collins had 26 players earn All-WAC recognition during his four seasons as defensive coordinator.

The 2005 BSU defense ranked 15th nationally against the run (107.9 ypg), a figure that also topped the WAC, and again were among the best in the nation in turnovers forced with 26. Collins also had one of his players, linebacker Korey Hall, repeat as a first-team all-WAC performer.

His 2004 unit may have been his best. That year, the Broncos ranked in the top 10 nationally in three categories: interceptions (second), turnovers gained (fifth) and rushing defense (10th), while also finishing 13th in turnover margin.

That same team also ranked first in the WAC in five different categories, including rushing defense (103.9 yards per game), turnover margin (0.83) and interceptions (23), and was also second in total defense (357.8 ypg). Seven of BSU's starters selected were selected either first or second-team or honorable mention All-WAC in 2004, including first-team linebackers Hall and Andy Avalos and cornerback Gabe Franklin.

Those accomplishments followed up on a solid 2003, when BSU ranked in the top 20 nationally in interceptions (sixth), pass efficiency defense (seventh), rushing defense (11th), scoring defense (12th), turnovers gained (14th) and turnover margin (17th). Boise State was also 37th in total defense, and ranked first in the WAC in seven of the nine major categories, including scoring defense (17.1 points per game), rushing defense (100.5 ypg), total defense (348.4 ypg), pass efficiency defense (99.0), interceptions (21) and third down conversion defense (31.3 percent). Boise State allowed just three points on two occasions and also had a shutout and had nine players earn assorted all-WAC honors that season, with all three of Collins' linebackers earning all-league recognition. Avalos was first-team, while Travis Burgher was second-team and Hall an honorable mention selection.

In 2002, Boise State led the WAC in eight defensive categories, and finished 16th in the nation in rushing defense and 17th in scoring defense. One of his linebackers also garnered postseason recognition, as Chauncey Ako was named second-team All-WAC.

During his first year at BSU, he helped develop a young linebacker corps into a solid and deep group. He had one player, Greg Sasser, named second-team All-WAC.

He spent 13 seasons at Washington University in St. Louis, Mo., the first full-time position of his career, as he joined the Bear staff under coach Ken Woody as secondary coach for the 1988 season. He was elevated to defensive coordinator a year later under new coach Larry Kindbom, a position he would hold through the 2000 season. In addition to his defensive coordinator duties, Collins also served as the special teams co-coordinator during the 1999 and 2000 seasons, and worked as the school's strength and conditioning coach for his entire 13-year stay.

With Collins at the helm of the defense, Washington University had one of the school's top football decades during the 1990s. In producing a 68-33 record from 1990-2000, Washington University shared three University Athletic Association (UAA) titles and won seven or more games on five occasions. In 1999, Collins coached the top ranked Division III defense in the country, as Washington allowed just 192 yards of total offense per game and a school record 49.8 rushing yards per game in making the NCAA playoffs for the first time in school history.

Prior to joining the Washington University staff, Collins was a graduate assistant at Iowa State University during the 1987 season. He started his coaching career as a volunteer assistant at his alma mater, Washington State, in the spring of 1987.

Collins is a 1987 graduate of Washington State, earning a bachelor's degree in physical education. The defensive team captain as a senior, he lettered four years for WSU at strong safety for coach Jim Walden. He started three seasons (1984-86) and once had three interceptions in a game (versus Stanford as a sophomore in 1984). He received a master's degree in education administration from the University of Missouri-St. Louis in 1991.

He was born January 30, 1964 in Wenatchee, Wash., and graduated from Cashmere (Wash.) High School, where he earned a total of 10 letters in football, wrestling and track. He is married to the former Sharon Arthalony, and the couple has two daughters, Taylor Rae (7) and Alexandra (5).

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Western Athletic Conference Performers (4): Chauncey Ako, Andy Avalos, Korey Hall, Greg Sasser.

RECORD—He has coached in 64 Division I-A games as a full-time coach, owning a record of 53-11 (all at Boise State); he has coached in four bowl games. He coached in 120 Division III games (76-44 record), including one playoff game, at Washington University.

Mark HELFRICH

Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks

Mark Helfrich is in first year as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Colorado, as he joined the Buffaloes as a member of the coaching staff assembled by new head coach Dan Hawkins when he accepted the Colorado position in December 2005.

Helfrich, 32, is the fifth youngest offensive coordinator in the nation (119 Division I-A schools), the second youngest at a BCS school as only Southern California's Lane Kiffin (30) is younger.

He came to CU from the Arizona State University, where he coached the quarterbacks for five seasons (2001-05), also serving as the Sun Devils' passing game coordinator the last three of those years under head coach Dirk Koetter.

Under the guidance of Helfrich, Arizona State blossomed into one of the top passing teams in the country during his tenure in Tempe. In 2005, his final season there, the Sun Devils finished third in the NCAA and easily led the Pac-10 with 373.9 passing yards per game (over 50 better than runner-up USC). The school record 4,481 yards passing put the total number for Helfrich's time as quarterbacks coach at ASU at 18,686 in 61 games, or an average of 306.3 yards per game. And that number increased to 321.7 in his 36 games as passing coordinator.

His quarterbacks put up numbers that ranked in the top three of the Pac-10 all five years he was there, leading the league twice (2004, 2005) and finishing second in 2001. His units also finished among the top 10 in the NCAA on three different occasions, as ASU was ranked fifth nationally in 2004 and ninth in 2002 before the school's highest ever finish with the third place effort in '05.

He developed quarterback Andrew Walter, the key player in ASU's maturation as a passing team, as he set school records for both career (85) and single-season touchdowns (30) in addition to shattering the previous Pac-10 record for career touchdown passes, set by John Elway at Stanford (77). The only player in ASU history to tally 3,000 passing yards in a season, Walter did it for a third time in 2004 with a season total of 3,150 yards.

Coached by Helfrich for all three years as ASU's starter, Walter was selected in the third round of the NFL draft by the Oakland Raiders. A second-team All-Pac-10 selection and a nominee for both the Johnny Unitas and Davey O'Brien Awards, Walter finished his Sun Devil career as ASU's career record holder in nearly every passing category, including yards, completions, attempts, touchdowns, interception percentage, and total offense. And when Walter missed the Sun Bowl against Purdue with an injury, Helfrich coached sophomore understudy Sam Keller to MVP honors. Finishing with 370 yards and three touchdowns on 25-of-45 passing, Keller directed the ASU offense to a fourth-quarter comeback in his first career start. Responsible for the entire passing game, Helfrich also saw freshman Zach Miller and junior Derek Hagan set school receiving marks in 2004.

In 2002, ASU's passing game finished as one of the most prolific offensive units in school history, demolishing school and conference records along the way. That was evidenced by the Sun Devil record for season passing yards being utterly destroyed by Helfrich's quarterbacks, as they totaled 4,254 yards to better the previous mark by over 1,000 yards. Four other school records fell by the wayside as well. That followed a tremendous beginning in 2001, as the Sun Devils finished second in the Pac-10 in passing offense with an average of 259.3 yards per game, the second-best season passing average in school history at the time.

Helfrich first teamed with Koetter in 1997 at the University of Oregon, where he was an offensive graduate assistant when Koetter was the offensive coordinator for the Ducks. When Koetter was named head coach at Boise State in 1998, he made the transition with him to the Idaho state capital. Working three years as the quarterback coach, he tutored one of BSU's all-time bests in Bart Hendricks, the 1999 and 2000 Big West Player of the Year. His last year there, 2000, he guided the Broncos to the country's fourth-best passing offense with 321.5 yards per game.

He graduated with a bachelor's degree in biology from Southern Oregon University in 1996, where he lettered four years at quarterback. He was an NAIA Scholar-Athlete in 1993, his sophomore season. When he led the nation in total offense, earning NAIA honorable mention All-America accolades and first-team Columbia Football Association honors in the process. That season, he had 3,196 yards of total offense, including 2,712 passing (23 touchdowns) and 484 rushing (three scores), topping the 400-yard mark in single-game total offense three times. It was that same year that Helfrich would first catch the eye of Hawkins, who was in his first year as head coach at Willamette; he watched as Helfrich had 410 yards of offense and a school record six touchdowns to lead SOU to a 61-48 win.

Helfrich began his coaching career as running backs coach at his alma mater for the 1996 season, and then both played and coached (offensive coordinator) in Europe for a year with the Vienna (Austria) Vikings, in 1997, before landing his first position at a Division I-A school.

He was born October 28, 1973 in Medford, Ore., and graduated from Marshfield High School in Coos Bay (Ore.), where he lettered in football (for coach Kent Wigle), basketball, track and golf. He is married to the former Megan Kelly.

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Pacific 10 Conference Performers (1): Andrew Walter (second-team). NFL Players/Draft Picks (3): Ryan Dinwiddie, Bart Hendricks, Walter.

RECORD—He has coached in 97 Division I-A games as a full-time coach, owning a record of 59-38 (26-10 at Boise State, 33-28 at Arizona State); he has coached in six bowl games (on the winning end five times).

Eric
KIESAU

Passing Game Coordinator/Receivers

Eric Kiesau is in first year as passing game coordinator and receivers coach at Colorado, as he joined the Buffaloes as a member of the coaching staff assembled by new head coach Dan Hawkins when he accepted the Colorado position in December 2005.

Kiesau, 33, came to CU from the University of California at Berkeley, where he coached the receivers for four seasons (2002-05). He was a significant contributor to the Bears' high-powered passing attack in his four years at the "other" UCB.

Though Kiesau had only six years as a collegiate assistant coach under his belt prior to arriving at Colorado, he seemingly mastered the art of both tutoring the accomplished performer as well as molding walk-ons into top-notch players, doing so at his previous two institutions before coming to Boulder. He personally thrives on the teaching and developmental relationship with his players, working on the total person concept in academics, athletics and character.

In 2005, his receiving corps produced four 100-yard receiving games. Robert Jordan and DeSean Jackson were his stars at the starting positions, with Jackson having two of the century games, 128 versus UCLA and 130 at New Mexico State, the latter being the most yards ever by a Cal freshman. Jordan's top performance came at Washington, when he caught 11 passes for 192-yards, the sixth-best single game total in school history; he also had three touchdowns, all in the first half, tying a school record. And with Jackson and Jordan sidelined due to injury, former walk-on LaReyelle Cunningham caught five balls for 112 yards and a score in his first career start.

Though injuries sidelined four of his top five receivers for much of 2004, the Bears continued to field first-rate pass catchers in a Cal offense triggered by quarterback Aaron Rodgers. Second-team All-American Geoff McArthur set school career marks for receptions (202) and receiving yards (3,188). In 2003, McArthur ranked second nationally and set a school season receiving record with 1,504 yards on 85 catches. That same year, Kiesau developed two walk-ons, Burl Toler and Vincent Strang, as the pair combined for 65 receptions for 814 yards and eight touchdowns, as both blossomed as they emerged in the regular rotation of receivers.

In 2002, his first campaign at Cal, he developed a wide receiving corps that featured Jonathan Makonnen (54-682, 7 TDs), LaShaun Ward (39-709, 9 TDs) and McArthur (36-454, 1 TD), a trio that combined for 129 receptions, 1,845 yards and 17 TDs.

Kiesau earned his bachelor's degree in business communications at Portland State in 1996, where he lettered at quarterback (he was PSU's starter as a senior in 1995). He was an All-American junior college quarterback as a sophomore in 1992, as selected by JC Gridwire, at Glendale Community College in southern California.

Upon graduation from PSU, he worked the better part of five years in private business, for Corporate America in Portland, and then for Eclipse Specialties, Inc., a family-owned and operated company, in North Hollywood, Calif. He first entered coaching while employed by his JUCO alma mater, Glendale Community College. He then made a brief four-month stop at the University of Oregon as head coach Mike Bellotti's teamwork coordinator in the winter and spring of 2000.

His first full-time collegiate coaching position followed later that year, when he was named running backs and receivers coach at Utah State University under Mick Dennehy. In 2000, he tutored Emmett White, Utah State's third team All-American who led the nation in all-purpose yards and ranked 13th in NCAA rushing, including a school-record 322-yard effort against New Mexico State in 2001. In his second year at USU, he coached wide receiver Kevin Curtis, who would earn Associated Press All-American honors that season with an NCAA-high 100 passes (while ranking third in yards per game and eighth in all-purpose yards). He was a semifinalist for the Biletnikoff Award, accomplished after walking on at Utah State the previous year.

He was born November 24, 1972 in Pasadena, Calif., and graduated from Glendale (Calif.) High School, where he lettered in football and baseball. He is married to the former Wendy Kanan, and they have a daughter, Tayler (8) and a son, Blake (2). (His last name is pronounced key-saw.)

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Americans (3): Kevin Curtis, Geoff McArthur, Emmett White. All-Pac-10 Performers (1): McArthur. All-Big West Performers (1): White. NFL Players/Draft Picks (2): Curtis, Chase Lyman.

RECORD—He has coached in 72 Division I-A games as a full-time coach, owning a record of 42-30 (33-17 in four seasons at Cal and 9-13 in two years at Utah State); he has coached in three bowl games.

Romeo BANDISON

Defensive Line

Romeo Bandison is in first year as defensive line coach at Colorado, as he was one of four assistants to join Boise State head coach Dan Hawkins when he accepted the Colorado position in December 2005.

Bandison, 35, was Boise State's defensive line coach for five seasons. Under Bandison, the Bronco defensive line anchored one of the top rushing defenses in the country for four seasons (2002-05), as the Broncos ranked in the top 16 in rushing defense all four of those years: 15th in 2005, 10th in 2004, 11th in 2003 and 16th in 2002.

In 2005, two of his players garnered all-Western Athletic Conference honors, Alex Guerrero (first-team) and Andrew Browning (second-team); both were honorable mention performers the previous year. In fact, in his final four years in Boise, he had two linemen recognized with postseason honors each of those seasons, as defensive end Julius Roberts earned first-team All-WAC honors, while Dane Oldham was an honorable mention all-WAC selection in 2003, and in 2002, both Ryan Nelson and Oldham were named to all-WAC teams.

Bandison began his coaching career at his alma mater, the University of Oregon, where he was a standout player for the Ducks before joining the coaching staff. During the 1999 and 2000 seasons, he served as a graduate assistant for the Ducks, working with the defensive line and coordinating the defensive scout team. Oregon made consecutive postseason bowl appearances in those two seasons, winning both the Sun Bowl (1999) and Holiday Bowl (2000).

He also served a two-week internship with the Oakland Raiders in the National Football League prior to the 2002 season.

Bandison earned his bachelor's degree in economics in 1994 from the University of Oregon, where he lettered as a defensive end and nose guard for the Ducks from 1990-93. Oregon advanced to two bowl games during his playing career, the Freedom Bowl in 1990 and the Independence Bowl in 1992.

Following his senior season, Bandison played in the Hula Bowl and East-West Shrine Classic all-star games before being selected in the third round of the 1994 NFL Draft by the Cleveland Browns. Bandison continued his NFL career the next three years (1995-97) as a defensive tackle with the Washington Redskins. He completed his professional playing career in 1998 with the Amsterdam Admirals of the World Football League.

He was born February 12, 1971 in The Hague, The Netherlands, and moved to the United States as a youth and would graduate from Tamalpais High School (Mill Valley, Calif.), where he lettered in football. He is married to the former Amy Kowalewski, and the couple has fraternal twins born this past January 18, Dominic and Olivia. (His first name is pronounced row-may-oh.)

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Western Athletic Conference Performers (2): Alex Guerrero, Julius Roberts.

RECORD—He has coached in 64 Division I-A games as a full-time coach, owning a record of 53-11 (all at Boise State); he has coached in four bowl games. Oregon was 19-5 in his two seasons as a graduate assistant coach.

He spent the 1995-96 seasons as the secondary coach for San Diego, with the Chargers finishing in the top five both years in fewest yards allowed per completion. He also coached Rodney Harrison, who eventually would become one of the league's top safeties. He moved on to the Tennessee Oilers, coaching the secondary in both 1997 and 1998; he again coached three of the top defensive backs in the game, cornerback Samari Rolle and safeties Blaine Bishop and All-Pro Marcus Robertson.

In 1999, he served as the defensive backs coach for the San Francisco 49ers; a twist with this was that had he not received an NFL offer, he was set to return to Colorado as a member of Gary Barnett's staff when he replaced Rick Neuheisel in January of that year. He rejoined the Atlanta Falcons as secondary coach for the 2000 and 2001 seasons before moving on to New Orleans, where he was a defensive assistant for quality control in 2002 before being promoted to defensive assistant/cornerbacks coach in 2003, a position he held for three seasons with the Saints.

He began his coaching career in 1981 as a graduate assistant at the University of Texas-El Paso, his alma mater, where he worked with the secondary. The following year, 1982, he came back to Colorado, working that fall as a defensive coach at Green Mountain High School in Lakewood.

He made his first move to the professional ranks the following spring, joining the staff of the Denver Gold of the United States Football League (USFL). He coached the secondary for the Gold for two seasons (1983, 1984) before moving on to the National Football League for the first time in the summer of 1984, joining the Tampa Bay Buccaneers Staff. For the Bucs, he coached three different positions: defensive quality control (1984), offensive quality control (1985) and the U-backs/tight ends (1986).

Brown returned to the college game in 1987, coaching the defensive backs for two seasons at the University of Wyoming before doing the same at Purdue University for the 1989 and 1990 campaigns. He then returned home to Colorado for a second time in joining McCartney's staff in 1991.

He graduated from the UTEP in 1980 with a bachelor's degree in education (history/physical education). At UTEP, he lettered twice at cornerback under Bill Michael, and received the Coca-Cola Hold Helmet Award for his play against San Diego State in September 1979. He earned his A.A. degree from Glendale (Ariz.) Junior College in 1978.

He was born October 10, 1957 in Denver, and graduated from Arvada (Colo.) High School, where he lettered in both football and track. His father, Irv, is Denver radio (KKFN) personality and the former head baseball coach and one-time assistant football coach at the University of Colorado. He is married to the former Stacie Bible, and the couple has two daughters, Hannah (5) and Grace (3).

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Americans (2): Deon Figures (Thorpe Award winner), Chris Hudson (Thorpe Award winner). All-Big Eight Performers (4): Ronnie Bradford, Figures, Eric Hamilton, Hudson. NFL Players/Draft Picks (5): Ronnie Bradford, Dennis Collier, Figures, Hudson, Steve Rosga. NFL All-Pro Performers (15): Ashley Ambrose, Blaine Bishop, Fakhir Brown, Ray Buchanan, Dale Carter, Scott Case, Rodney Harrison, Darrell Lewis, Tim McDonald, Mike McKenzie, Marcus Robertson, Samari Rolle, Kevin Ross, Lance Schulters, Fred Thomas.

RECORD—He has coached in 84 Division I-A games as a full-time coach, owning a record of 51-30-3 (25-8-3 in his first stint at Colorado, 21-5 at Wyoming and 5-17 with Purdue); he has coached in five bowl games, including one New Year's Day. Professionally, he coached in 241 National Football League games, including one playoff game, with six different teams (Atlanta twice, New Orleans, San Diego, San Francisco, Tampa Bay, Tennessee), as well as in 36 United States Football League games with the Denver Gold.

Greg Brown is in first year as secondary coach, as he has returned to the state of Colorado for the third time in his professional career, the second time as a member of the Buffalo coaching staff.

Brown, 48, returned to CU in January 2006, named to the staff of new Colorado head coach Dan Hawkins following the completion of the 2005 National Football League season. He wrapped up his fourth and final season as a defensive assistant with the NFL's New Orleans Saints under coach Jim Haslett. In that 2005 season, the Saints' pass defense ranked third in the entire NFL, allowing a paltry 178 yards per game.

A 15-year NFL coaching veteran, developing top notch defensive backs became his specialty as he was often sought after for new coaching staffs around the league, working with six different teams in his professional career.

He coached the secondary for three years (1991-93) at Colorado under coach Bill McCartney, tutoring a pair of Jim Thorpe Award winners during his first days at CU: cornerbacks Deon Figures (the 1992 winner) and Chris Hudson (the '94 winner). Colorado led the nation in pass completion defense and the Big Eight in pass defense in 1992; he also coached the kickoff coverage unit on special teams for the Buffs. He joined the CU staff days after the Buffs won their first national championship (January 7, 1991), and returned to the NFL in 1994, joining the Atlanta staff as defensive backs coach; the Falcons finished second that season in the league with 23 interceptions.

Brian CABRAL

Linebackers

Brian Cabral is in his 18th season at the University of Colorado, his 17th as a full time assistant coach, as he joined the Buffalo staff as graduate assistant in 1989.

His 17 years as a full-time assistant rank as the third most in CU history, as he trails two legendary Franks: Potts and Prentup, both of whom assisted Buff head coaches for 18 years. Since he joined the staff, he has always coached the inside linebackers, and occasionally has had the outside players under his direction as well. From 1999 through 2005, he also coached the punt return unit on special teams. He also served as the director of CU's summer football camps from 1995 through 2005 and as a brief time as recruiting coordinator.

Cabral has worked for four head coaches during his tenure, Bill McCartney, Rick Neuheisel, Gary Barnett and now Dan Hawkins. For all seven seasons under Barnett, Cabral also served as assistant head coach, which included a three-month period in 2004 as interim head coach when Barnett was on paid administrative leave. In that role, he continued to coach his position players but also took care of day-to-day operational details of the program.

In the summer of 2002, he was one of 500 nationwide recipients of the AFLAC National Assistant Coach-of-the-Year Award. Coaches on all levels were honored, from youth to professional, and he was one of 10 selected regionally to receive the award.

Cabral, 50, tutored the inside linebackers his first year in Boulder as a grad assistant, and assumed full-time duties in the same capacity in 1990 and has coached the position at CU to this day. He returned to Colorado, his alma mater, from Purdue, where he coached the inside linebackers for two seasons (1987-88).

Known as one of the top linebacker coaches in the nation, his students have included Matt Russell, the 1996 Butkus Award winner, and all-Big Eight performers Greg Biekert, Chad Brown and Ted Johnson, all of whom went on to stardom in the National Football League. He also recruited Rashaan Salaam, the 1994 Heisman trophy winner, and Chris Naeole, a 1996 All-American.

His 2001 punt return team led the nation with a 17.4 average, and also boasted the nation's top individual return man in Roman Hollowell, who averaged 18.0 per return and scored two touchdowns. In 2002, Jeremy Bloom averaged 15.0 yards per return and was 13th in the nation as a freshman (ranking 21st as a sophomore in '03). Cabral prided himself on the team being composed largely of non-starters, drawing comparison to his roots when he was special teams captain of the Chicago Bears.

He is a 1978 CU graduate, as he earned a B.S. degree in therapeutic recreation. He lettered three seasons for the Buffs at linebacker from 1975 to 1977 under Coach Bill Mallory, as he was a captain and played a big role on CU's Big Eight champion team in 1976. He led CU with 13 tackles (12 solo) in the 1977 Orange Bowl against Ohio State. As a senior, he was honored as the Big Eight Conference's player of the week for a monster 25 tackles in a CU 27-21 win over Stanford and shared the team's Sure Tackler Award with Mark Haynes. That 25-tackle game included 13 solo stops and is still tied for the fourth most in a single game in CU history.

Cabral had 297 tackles in his CU career (120 solo, 177 assisted), a number that still has him tied for 11th on Colorado's all-time list. A unique fact is that he has coached five of the players on the list ahead of him: Matt Russell, Greg Biekert, Ted Johnson, Chad Brown and Michael Jones. A sixth, Jashon Sykes, is the player he is tied with.

He was a nine-year NFL veteran, as Atlanta drafted him in the fourth round in 1978. He played two seasons with Atlanta, one with Green Bay and six with Chicago. As the captain of the Bears' special teams, he was a member of Chicago's Super Bowl XX champion team in 1985. He was selected as the Frito-Lay Unsung Hero in the Bears' win over New England, as he had two solo and two assisted tackles on special teams.

He was born June 23, 1956, in Fort Benning, Ga, but grew up in Kailua, Hawaii. He is married to the former Becky Lucas, and they have three children, Kyle (27), Maile (23) and Mele (18). He is an active member in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. He has authored a book ("Second String Champion"), and his hobbies include surfing, skateboarding and snowboarding.

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Americans (2): Roman Hollowell (punt returner), Matt Russell (Butkus Award winner). All-Big Eight/12 Performers (6): Greg Biekert, Chad Brown, Hollowell, Ted Johnson (Butkus Award runner-up), Michael Jones, Russell. Big 12 Defensive Newcomers-of-the-Year (1): Jordon Dizon. NFL Players/Draft Picks (8): Biekert, Brown, Johnson, Ron Merkersen, Hannibal Navies, Russell, Sean Tufts, Drew Wahlroos.

RECORD—He has coached in 218 Division I-A games as a full-time coach, owning a record of 129-63-4 at Colorado (140-64-4 including his graduate assistant year); Purdue was 7-14-1 when he was on the Boilermaker staff. He has coached in 13 bowl games (six New Year's Day).

Darian HAGAN

Running Backs

Darian Hagan, one of the names synonymous with Colorado's rise to glory in the late 1980s, is in his first season as running backs coach, as he was one of two assistant coaches retained by new CU head coach Dan Hawkins when he was named to the position in December 2005.

Hagan, 36, was named an offensive assistant coach on Gary Barnett's staff on February 9, 2005, and worked with the skill position players on offense in the spring and fall in his first year as a full-time collegiate assistant.

He had a brief taste of coaching in the spring of 2004 as he subbed as secondary coach when the staff was minus a full-time assistant. Otherwise, he was the defensive technical intern for the '04 season, assuming that role in February of that year. It marked the third time he has made the University of Colorado his destination of choice.

He starred at quarterback for the Buffaloes between 1988 and 1991, leading the school to its first national championship, and following his professional playing career, returned in the mid-1990s to work as CU's Alumni C Club Director.

Hagan left CU in the spring of 1998 to work as an area sales manager for the Transit Marketing Group. Three months into his new position, he was promoted to Southeast Regional Sales Manager. He remained in that position for over five years until deciding to pursue his dream as a coach and return to his alma mater for the third time. By working as a technical intern, he learned the intricacies of the profession in a hands-on role in his desire to coach; when a temporary vacancy opened on the staff, he was "activated" as a coach to work with the defensive backs and it added to his penchant for the profession.

Arguably the best all-around athlete in the history of the CU football program, he was an integral part of CU's run at two national championships in 1989 and 1990. The Buffs were 11-1 in 1989, losing to Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl, but went 11-1-1 in 1990 with a win over the Irish in an Orange Bowl rematch to give CU its first national title in football. CU was 28-5-2 with him as the starting quarterback for three seasons, including a 20-0-1 mark in Big Eight Conference games as he led the Buffs to three straight league titles in 1989, 1990 and 1991.

In 1989, he became just the sixth player in NCAA history at the time to run and pass for over 1,000 yards in the same season, finishing, as just a sophomore, fifth in the balloting for the Heisman Trophy. He established the school record for total offense with 5,808 yards (broken three years later by Kordell Stewart), and is one of two players ever at CU to amass over 2,000 yards both rushing and passing along with Bobby Anderson. He was a two-time all-Big Eight performer, and the league's offensive player of the year for 1989 when he also was afforded various All-America honors. He still holds several CU records and was the school's male athlete-of-the-year for the 1991-92 academic year.

In 2002, he was a member of the fourth class to be inducted into CU's Athletic Hall of Fame, and his jersey (No. 3) is one of several to have been honored.

Hagan played for Toronto, Las Vegas and Edmonton over the course of five seasons in the Canadian Football League, mostly as a defensive back and special teams performer. He returned to CU to earn his diploma just prior to his last professional season, and graduated with a bachelor's degree in sociology in May 1996. He was hired later that year (December 1) as the Alumni C Club Director, a position he held for 16 months until leaving for an incredible opportunity in private business.

He was born February 1, 1970 in Lynwood, Calif., and graduated from Los Angeles' Locke High School in 1988, where he lettered in football, basketball, baseball and track. He was drafted in two sports, football (by San Francisco in the fourth round in the 1992 NFL Draft) and baseball (selected as a shortstop by both Seattle and Toronto). He is the father of a son, Darian, Jr. (17), and a daughter, Danielle (10).

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—N/A (one season).

RECORD—He has coached in 13 Division I-A games as a full-time coach, all at Colorado, with a record of 7-6.

Kent RIDDLE

Tight Ends/
Special Teams

Kent Riddle is in first year as tight ends coach and special teams coordinator at Colorado, as he was one of four assistants to join Boise State head coach Dan Hawkins when he accepted the Colorado position in December 2005.

Riddle, 37, was Boise State's running backs and special teams coach for five seasons, all under Hawkins. Many of his special team units finished regularly in the NCAA top 25, as the kickoff return team was in the top 21 all five years and the punt return team placed in the top 18 the last four seasons. And over the course of his five years, precision reigned in the kicking game, as BSU kickers converted 96.8 percent of their PAT kicks (330-of-341) and 73.1 percent of their field goal tries (68-of-93).

In 2005, Boise State ranked 12th in the nation in kickoff returns (24.2), anchored by Lee Marks, who was 10th nationally as an individual (27.9, 1 TD). The Broncos were also 18th in punt returns (12.8), with Quinton Jones second in the country with a gaudy 20.9 yards per return, including three scores. The coverage units were exceptional as well; BSU was 17th in punt return defense (5.9) and 29th in kickoff return defense (18.7).

Riddle coached placekicker Tyler Jones to an All-American season and a spot as one of three finalists for the Lou Groza Award in 2004. Overall, BSU's special teams proved to be as good as any unit in the country. In addition to Jones, punter Kyle Stringer was named second-team all-WAC, averaging 43.9 yards per punt. The Broncos finished third in the nation in punt returns (16.6), 21st in kickoff returns (23.0) and 29th in net punting (37.3 yards). The Broncos also blocked four kicks for the second straight season, including a possible game winning field goal by San Jose State. Following the 2004 season, he spoke at the American Football Coaches Association convention on special teams, one of his many personal highlights.

In 2003, the Broncos ranked 15th in the country in both kickoff and punt returns, following up a 2002 campaign when both finished 13th in the NCAA. The Broncos also led the WAC in punt returns and kickoff coverage, allowing just 17.0 yards per return. In 2001, David Mikell was seventh in the nation in kickoff returns (28.4, 1 TD), leading the team to a 19th place national ranking.

He achieved significant success as the Broncos running back coach as well. Though the perception is out there that Boise State makes its bones as a passing team, the 2005 edition under Riddle's tutelage finished 19th in the NCAA, averaging 202.5 yards per game. That followed up a 2004 effort which saw the Broncos finish 14th nationally (229.8 per game), which was good for second in the WAC, as the "tail-back-by-committee" scheme that featured six different players scored a school record 49 touchdowns.

In his first three seasons at Boise State, the Broncos produced a 1,000-yard rusher every year. In 2003, David Mikell earned honorable mention all-WAC honors after rushing for 1,142 yards and 13 touchdowns. In 2002, Brock Forsey was named the WAC Offensive Player of the Year, as he rushed for 1,611 yards (11th in the NCAA), and led the nation in scoring with 26 touchdowns. In his first year, 2001, Forsey was a first-team all-WAC performer after gaining 1,207 yards.

Riddle had moved on to Boise State after serving as an assistant coach at the United States Military Academy for six seasons. At Army, his first full-time coaching position, he coached the fullbacks for his four seasons there (1995-98), and then switched to special teams coach and recruiting coordinator for the 1999 and 2000 seasons. He worked his first five years there under head coach Bob Sutton, and was retained when Todd Berry was named coach in 2000. Additionally, he worked as Army's junior varsity head coach and offensive coordinator, while also overseeing the program's summer camp. In 1996, he helped coach Army to its only 10-win season in history, as the Black Knights went 10-2, including a loss to Auburn in the Independence Bowl.

Prior to joining the Army staff, Riddle began his coaching career in 1991 as a student assistant football coach at Oregon State University. In 1992, he was promoted to a graduate assistant position with the Beavers, first working one year as the video G.A. before working as the offensive grad assistant in both 1993 and 1994, helping tutor the running backs while also being in charge of preparation for the defensive scout team.

He earned his bachelor's degree in hotel, restaurant and tourism management from Oregon State in 1992, after completing his playing career for the Beavers, as he played quarterback for coach Dave Kragthorpe.

He was born June 25, 1969 in Iowa City, Iowa, and graduated from City High School in Iowa City, where he lettered in football, basketball and track. His grandfather, Bucky O'Connor, was the legendary men's basketball coach at Iowa, where he led the Hawkeyes to a 108-54 record in seven seasons; he coached the '54-55 Hawkeye team that lost to Colorado in the national third place game. He is married to the former Camaren Matlock, and the couple has a son, Connor (5).

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Americans (2): Quinton Jones, Tyler Jones (Lou Groza Award finalist). All-WAC Performers (6): Chris Carr, Brock Forsey, Tim Gilligan, Q.Jones, T.Jones, Kyle Stringer. NFL Players/Draft Picks (2): Carr, Forsey, T.Jones. CFL Players/Draft Picks (1): Gilligan.

RECORD—He has coached in 131 Division I-A games as a full-time coach, owning a record of 79-51-1 (53-11 in five seasons at Boise State, 26-40-1 in six years at Army); he has coached in five bowl games. He also worked 44 games in his various roles at Oregon State.

FOOTBALL SUPPORT STAFF

DAVID HANSBURG

Associate AD/
Coordinator of Football Operations

David Hansburg is now in his second "tour of duty" on the Colorado football staff, as he returned to the Buffalo program in January 2002 as the coordinator of football operations. In his role, he also oversees the administrative side of recruiting. In the summer of 2005, CU's new athletic director Mike Bohn promoted him to an associate athletic director.

Hansburg, 37, held the same position at Colorado for the 1999 season before leaving Boulder for the University of Idaho where he was an assistant coach (safeties) for the Vandals in both 2000 and 2001. He also was the special teams coordinator his second year there under former CU offensive coordinator Tom Cable, who took Hansburg with him when he was named head coach.

He was associated for five years (1994-98) with Northwestern under Gary Barnett, working the first three years as a graduate assistant coach with the defensive backs. He was present for the Wildcats' 1995 and 1996 Big 10 championship seasons, which earned Northwestern appearances in the '96 Rose Bowl and '97 Citrus Bowl. In the spring of '97, he was hired full-time as the coordinator of football operations. He joined Barnett when he moved on to Colorado, and then was retained by Dan Hawkins following the coaching change following the 2005 season.

Hansburg graduated from Amherst (Mass.) College in 1990, where he lettered in football as a free safety and four times in lacrosse (defenseman) while earning his bachelor's degree in history. He earned his master's while working in the football office at Northwestern, receiving his degree in higher education administration in 1996.

He was the head junior high football coach at Dwight-Englewood (N.J.) High School for two years (1990-91), and coordinated the defense there for the varsity lacrosse team for four seasons (1991-94). In 1992, he was named head coach of the varsity football team at DEHS, serving in that capacity for two years. As a head coach, he oversaw the entire program, was the offensive coordinator and worked specifically with the offensive and defensive backs. He was the youngest head coach in the New Jersey High School ranks when he was hired at the age of 23 in 1992.

He was born October 1, 1968 in New York City, and graduated from Roslyn (N.Y.) High School, where he lettered in football, lacrosse and track. He is married to the former Holly Kreiman and they have three children, Paxton (5), Zoe (4) and Quincy (1).

ROBERT TUCKER

Assistant Director/Recruiting & Operations

Robert Tucker is in his first year as the assistant director for football recruiting and operations at the University of Colorado, having joined the CU staff in January 2006, continuing his long association with head coach Dan Hawkins.

Tucker, 32, came to Colorado with Hawkins from Boise State, where he spent five seasons as the Broncos safeties coach and recruiting coordinator. In four of those five seasons, he coached one of his safeties to first-team All-WAC honors, including Quintin Mikell, who was the 2002 Western Athletic Conference Defensive Player of the Year who has gone on to play in the National Football League with the Philadelphia Eagles.

He first joined the Boise State coaching staff in 2000, working as a defensive graduate assistant for the Crucial.com Humanitarian Bowl champions. He was then promoted to full-time status the next season.

Prior to arriving at Boise State, Tucker served as teamwork coordinator at the University of Oregon for the 1999 season (from June to January), spending most of his time with the Ducks specializing in recruiting.

Tucker graduated from Willamette University in 1997 with a degree in psychology, where he played for Hawkins. He earned four letters in football, playing defensive back, and earned NAIA Honorable Mention All-American honors at safety as a senior in 1996.

His first coaching position came at his alma mater, as for the 1997 and 1998 seasons, he was the assistant defensive backs and defensive line coach, the first year under Hawkins and the next for Mark Speckman. In his two years as an assistant coach, Tucker helped Willamette go 20-4, win a conference championship and advance to the NAIA National Championship game in '97.

Following each of those seasons, from January to June, Tucker crossed the Atlantic and was a player/coach for the semi-pro Molosses team in Asnieres of the French Federation of American Football. Tucker led the team to an overall two-year record of 17-6-1 as the team's head coach, including playing in the 1999 French National Championship. He then moved on to Division I-A football for the first time and joined the Oregon program.

While coaching at Boise State, Tucker earned his master's degree in physical education and athletic administration from Idaho State University in 2001.

He was born July 10, 1974 in Tucson, Ariz., and graduated Grant High School (Sacramento, Calif.) in 1993, where lettered in football and baseball. He is single.

ANDY AVALOS

Graduate Assistant

Andy Avalos is in his first year as the defensive graduate assistant, joining the Colorado staff in January 2006, shortly after CU hired his college head coach, Dan Hawkins.

He works with most aspects of the defense, but specifically helps linebacker coach Brian Cabral with the outside linebackers.

Avalos, 24, was a teacher and coached football at his prep alma mater, Corona (Calif.) High School, prior to coming to CU.

He graduated with a degree in criminal justice in 2004 from Boise State University, where he lettered four times in football between 2001 and 2004. A three-year starter for the Broncos, Avalos earned All-Western Athletic Conference honors at outside linebacker as a junior and senior. He ended his career fourth all-time in tackles in BSU history with 355, including team-highs of 107 as a sophomore, 113 as a junior and 86 as a senior. He had a 92-yard interception return for a touchdown in BSU's 44-40 loss to No. 10 Louisville in the 2004 Liberty Bowl, a game that Boise State entered undefeated and ranked No. 7 in the nation.

He was born November 5, 1981 in Corona, Calif., and graduated from Corona High School in 2000, where he lettered in football and baseball. In the summer of 2005, he appeared in Gridiron Gang, a movie due out this September in which he was an extra performing football skills. He is single.

MIKE BABCOCK

Offensive Technical Intern

Mike Babcock is in his second year as the offensive technical intern on the Colorado staff, as he joined the program in June 2005. He works with the offensive coaches in addition to other administrative chores.

Babcock, 27, came to CU from his alma mater, UCLA, where he spent the last five seasons as a member of the coaching staff. He spent three years (2002-04) as a graduate assistant coach after working the two previous years as an undergraduate assistant coach. He worked with both the offense and defense, working under offensive coordinator Tom Cable (a one-time assistant at Colorado) in 2004.

Babcock played three seasons as an inside linebacker at UCLA, and was a member of the Bruins' 1997 and 1998 Pacific-10 Conference championship teams, which played in the Cotton and Rose bowls, respectively. He earned his bachelor's of arts degree in sociology from UCLA in 2002.

He was born February 13, 1979, in Walnut Creek, Calif., and graduated from Miramonte High School (Orinda, Calif.), where he lettered in football (all-league as a senior) and baseball. He is single.

DONNELL LEOMITI

Defensive Technical Intern

Donnell Leomiti is in his second year as the defensive technical intern, as he assumed the role in March 2005, returning to his alma mater to continue working in the football coaching ranks.

Leomiti, 33, joined CU from Boulder High School, where he coached the linebackers for four years while coaching an after school youth program for the Boulder County School District, which he had done since graduating from CU in 1998. The last two years he worked as a counselor for at-risk minority students and low-income families for the Family Learning Center in Boulder.

He completed his playing career in the Cotton Bowl on New Year's Day 1996, signed as a free agent with the San Francisco but a previous neck injury eventually ruled out his pursuing a pro football career. He returned to CU and finished up his degree in communication in the spring of 1998. He then started coaching, working as an assistant at Denver North High School for two years (1999-2000), also while working his Boulder County job.

Starting out as a receiver at CU, he saw action in 11 games including the Fiesta Bowl as a true freshman in 1992, but was moved to the safety the following year, where he would earn three letters and start at strong safety his junior and senior years. He had 159 career tackles, including 98 as a senior (the third most on the team), along with three interceptions, three fumble recoveries and seven pass deflections. Two of his biggest plays came his junior year (1994): he returned an interception for a touchdown at Missouri and had a key fumble recovery in the fourth quarter at Michigan, a big play in the game now referred to as both "The Miracle in Michigan" and "The Catch."

He was born June 10, 1973 in Santa Ana, Calif., and graduated from Leone High School in Pavaiai, American Samoa, in 1992 where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball. He was a two-time Ashaa League most valuable player on offense, earning the honor his junior and senior years. He married the former Veronica Barajas in 1996, and the couple has two children, Donnell Jr. (10) and Siliaga (8).

JOE BEVER

Administrative Intern

Joe Bever is in his first year as an administrative intern, as he joined the Colorado staff in February 2006. He will shift into the offensive graduate assistant role once enrolled in graduate school, as he will pursue studies in engineering management.

Bever, 25, came to CU from Boise State University, where he worked as a volunteer for the football program for one year. He joined the BSU staff after working in private business (construction) in Boise for a year. He was the quarterback and running backs coach for St. Peter's College (Jersey City, N.J.) for the 2004 season.

He earned his bachelor's degree in finance in 2003 from Clemson University, where lettered as a senior for the Tigers in 2002. A walk-on member of the football team, he was a reserve quarterback for three seasons.

He was born October 23, 1980 in Reedsport, Ore., and graduated from Evergreen High School (Vancouver, Wash.), where he lettered in football and baseball. He is single.

MARK NOLAN

Assistant Director/On-Campus Recruiting

Mark Nolan is in his first year as the assistant director for on-campus recruiting, as he officially joined the Colorado staff in June 2006.

Nolan, 33, joined the CU staff from Brophy Prep in Phoenix, Ariz., where he spent the last four years teaching history and was the school's defensive coordinator.

He earned his bachelor's degree in history from Willamette University in 1995, where he lettered four seasons as a defensive back and earning all-conference honors as a senior. He played two seasons under current CU coach Dan Hawkins. He also lettered four times in track (sprints and relays).

He began his coaching career at his alma mater, coaching the defensive line in 1995 and the defensive backs in 1996, both under Hawkins, with one of his players being current CU assistant operations director Robert Tucker that season. He then moved on to Gilbert (Ariz.) High School, where he taught classes (history and physical education) and was the school's defensive coordinator from 1997-2001. He then moved on to Brophy.

He was born October 13, 1973 in Stayton, Ore., and graduated from Stayton High School, where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball. He is married to the former Aspen Phelps, and they have a daughter, Barrett (3).

Jean Onaga is in her 21st year with the Colorado football program, and she handles all secretarial duties for the assistant coaches. She graduated from Kapiolani C.C. in Honolulu, Hawaii, with a degree in business. Onaga's first season with the Buffaloes was in 1986, and she is the longest continuous employee in the football department. A native of Honolulu, she is married (Loren).

Megan Rogers is in her first year as the administrative assistant for head coach Dan Hawkins, and her third year overall as an employee in the football office. In her previous role, she worked closely with both the offensive and defensive coordinators and handled almost all the administrative duties in recruiting. She graduated from the University of Colorado in 2002 with a degree in psychology, and as an undergraduate, worked five years as a student equipment manager for the football team.

2006 OUTLOOK

The 117th football season at the University of Colorado will kickoff this fall with new faces and renewed expectations under Dan Hawkins, who was hired as the 23rd head coach in the school's history last December.

While most coaching changes occur after a team has endured a string of 3-8 or 2-9 type seasons, the Buffaloes are coming off a fourth Big 12 Conference North Division title (in five years), so the cupboard isn't exactly bare for Hawkins and his assistants, which includes two coaches from the previous staff. But CU has only won the overall league title once, and was battling to be competitive from start-to-finish in the other three championship games, which was thus the foundation for the change in leadership.

An experienced defense and a perennially solid kicking game will make the transition easier for the new coaches, as those two strengths should buy the Buffaloes some time on offense to develop. Eight starters on defense return, along with a ninth who redshirted due to injury, and the leg of consensus All-America placekicker Mason Crosby is an outright weapon.

Crosby was really the only player "safe" at his position, as Hawkins and his staff listed everyone else alphabetically on the initial depth chart, which Hawkins isn't big into to begin with.

"I want us to always have the sort of mentality that we are starting new every year," Hawkins said. "When you get to the spring, I don't care if you have a senior quarterback coming back, that guy has got to go back out and start all over and prove himself. There are no locked positions on this team... well, maybe Mason Crosby."

"And I'll keep saying this, and some people think the depth chart is a big thing, but when we get to the fall, we'll have a group of guys who contribute, and those guys will all be lumped in there," he added. "I'm just one of those guys who isn't and never have been into (depth charts). The quarterback and the offensive line mean something, but everybody else, basically they're broken down into the contributors and those who are redshirting. So be prepared for a lot of 'ands' and 'ors.'"

That philosophy was one of the grass root reasons Boise State went 53-11 under Hawkins in his five years as the Broncos head coach. He brought with him five members of his coaching staff, hired two offensive geniuses from other staffs, and retained two former CU assistants who had long-time ties to the program. Hawkins has also embraced CU's history and has already had numerous conversations with former head coaches Eddie Crowder and Bill McCartney.

With the defense expected to be at least as good as last year, one that spent much of the year in the top five in rushing defense and in the top 30 in total defense, the development of the offense will be vital to this year's success. And the key there is replacing quarterback Joel Klatt, who graduated with 44 school records; make that 45—the 44 records he set is also a record for the number of records set by any individual in any CU sport.

CU's new offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach Mark Helfrich comes from Arizona State, where his teams passed for almost 19,000 yards in five seasons. Passing game coordinator and receivers coach Eric Kiesau joins CU from the California staff, and the two will be in charge of revving up a Buff offense that has been inconsistent. The final spring scrimmage reinforced that there is plenty of work to do; neither the first or second unit was able to put together a sustained drive, and Crosby would attempt 16 field goals on the afternoon, despite a swirling wind that often gusted to 40 miles per hour.

With all that passing know-how, Hawkins is firm when he says success on offense must start with a solid running game, and is proud of the fact that while his Boise State teams seemed to be known for its passing accomplishments, they also had a 1,000-yard rusher every season.

That will be pivotal for the Buffaloes, who have had just two 1,000-yard runners since Rashaan Salaam won the Heisman Trophy with 2,055 in 1994: Chris Brown (1,744 in 2002) and Bobby Purify (1,017) in 2004 (although both topped 900 in 2001, CU's Big12 title season). The offensive line has had injury and depth issues much of the last decade, and has been operating with less than a dozen healthy bodies each of the last two years. Hawkins wants 17-20 on the roster and will recruit the position until it is well stocked.

"We really believe in a good, solid running game," Hawkins said. "I think the biggest fallacy with our offense is that people think we are just going to chuck it and run around and do those sorts of things, but you have to be able to run the football. Our passing game has been very much a play-action and vertical passing game. We will try to be creative and do some innovative things. We are not afraid to do reverse passes and throwbacks and double passes. Those things are viable options."

The line does have two solid anchors in center Mark Fenton, a first-team All-Big 12 performer in 2005 when he was also a Rimington Award finalist, and guard Brian Daniels, a two-time honorable mention all-conference player who has also applied for the Rhodes Scholarship. These two elite seniors in the interior will provide a solid foundation to build upon, and there is talent in the ranks, but the Buffs will need to avoid the injury bug to help the offense click. That, and the Buffs do have to find suitable replacements for their "two-headed tight end monster," Joe Klopfenstein and Quinn Sypniewski, two of their best overall receivers a year ago, as well a V-back Lawrence Vickers, the team's best blocker.

Coming to Boulder with Hawkins is his reputation as a "high-risk" coach, but don't confuse him with being a gambler. Imagine the Buffs facing a fourth-and-one on their own 21-yard line on their opening series versus Montana State in the season opener. Punt, right? Well, maybe not.

"We're going for it," Hawkins said. "It has to do with the philosophy of deserving to win, deserving to have success. If you've got four downs and need 10 yards, and all you need is six inches on the last down, you probably ought to get that if you deserve to win."

C Mark Fenton

DE Abraham Wright

"Sometimes you need a momentum breaker; sometimes maybe you need to force a momentum breaker. That being said, you just don't roll the dice. I think you have to have the right play on the right hash mark and you have to understand how that all fits together."

The 19 lettermen and five starters returning on offense are trumped by the 25 and seven, respectively, back from a defense that at one point late in the year ranked second nationally against the run (eventually finishing ninth, allowing just 110.3 yard per game). New defensive coordinator Ron Collins accompanied Hawkins to Boulder from Boise State, and the two put together a solid staff on that side of the ball, retaining Brian Cabral, one of the nation's top linebacker coaches and recruiters, and luring Greg Brown back to Boulder from the NFL, where he had been since he last walked a college sideline in 1993.

"I really believe in attacking teams and getting after them," Hawkins said of his defensive philosophy. "I think you have to make sure people don't run the ball on you and you have to put pressure on the quarterback and make that guy make fast decisions. We won't be a static team. I think you have to disguise (formations) and move around and change things up."

The Buffs should be the strongest at defensive end, inside linebacker and across the secondary, as those three areas return players with a combined 211 starts (122 by the defensive backs), exactly two-thirds of the total (316) of all returning players.

Senior Thaddaeus Washington and junior Jordon Dizon, the starters the last two seasons, are the likely leaders of the defense that prides itself on stopping the run. CU is fairly loaded at defensive end, returning four players with significant starting experience. Seniors Abraham Wright, Walter Boye-Doe and Alex Ligon, junior Alonzo Barrett and sophomore Maurice Lucas all figure to be in a rotation to keep them fresh.

The secondary returns every player from last season, sans safety Tom Hubbard and bolstered by a healthy Terrence Wheatley, the junior who missed all of 2005 recovering from wrist surgery. Senior J.J. Billingsley returned to form last fall after sitting out the '04 season with a knee injury and is the leader of the group, which still has almost as many non-seniors (four) as seniors (five) that figure to see the bulk of the playing time.

The special teams should benefit from having a coach (Kent Riddle) assigned full-time to coach the unit, with the help of some of the other assistants. Gone are snapper Greg Pace and All-Big 12 punter and Ray Guy Award runner-up John Torp. No less than five players competed in the spring to replace Torp, including Crosby and heralded redshirt frosh Matt DiLallo. Pace was missed during the spring, but why wouldn't he have been? He handled each of the 256 snaps over the last two years, and his backup was also a senior. So in the spring, a slew of players were auditioning for the role, and the Buffs also signed a snapping specialist in recruiting.

The placekicking game comes back unscathed, led by Crosby, who is a threat to put points on the board for CU from midfield on in. He will also benefit from returning holder (Hawkins refers to the position as the "pinner"), Nick Holz. CU fans are undoubtedly ecstatic about Crosby returning for his senior season, but will they get to see him attempt a field goal with the number '7' in front of it?

"Yep. I'll let him (try one)," Hawkins said. "I'm going to let him hit it."

Crosby, with two game winning kicks in 2005, might be called upon again as CU will likely have a few down-to-the-wire games this fall, especially with another tough schedule. True, the opener against Montana State is CU's first-ever game against a Division I-AA opponent, but the Bobcats gave Oklahoma State all it could handle in Stillwater last year. Then a run in non-league play against Colorado State in Denver, Arizona State at home and a road trip to Georgia precede the Big 12 opener at Missouri. The conference slate also includes road games at Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska, while CU hosts Baylor, Texas Tech, Kansas State and Iowa State.

"I mean this in all sincerity," Hawkins said. "One of the reasons I came here was a chance to be a part of the Big 12. I've had tremendous familiarity with the Pac-10 and know all of those towns and programs. But part of the appeal of the Big 12 is that you have some really dynamic teams. Texas is on fire and Oklahoma has been recently too; and along with Nebraska have all won national championships as member schools. That really is an appealing thing to me, and it brings a whole lot of variety that I haven't had before."

"I think this is a conference that is really scratching to make strides," he added. "You look at Oklahoma State dumping in a lot of money (into athletics), Kansas dumping in a bunch and Baylor looking to get after it. So everybody is really jumping in on this deal. I think you hear a lot about the SEC and the Big 10, but I really think you are going to see this conference charge here in the next decade."

And Hawkins has every intent of making sure Colorado is part of that charge.

IN-DEPTH LOOK AT THE BUFFS

Offense

Quarterback

REDSHIRTS: Mack Brown, Fr.-RS; Patrick Devenny, Fr.-RS

The last time this position was as wide open as it is this fall was 2003, when a sophomore walk-on named Joel Klatt won the battle and went on to start three years and set 44 school records. This time around, not only is it totally up for grabs, throw in the fact that there was a coaching change and with that comes a new multiple system for the kids to learn as well. Cox has seen the most game action of the returnees, as he has made two career starts along with key game action in other spots; however, he missed most of spring with a thumb injury. White has seen meaningful action other than “take-a-knee” type duty just one time, but played well in that appearance in the 2005 Champs Sports Bowl. Jackson has yet to take a game snap at quarterback, but has seen limited action at tailback, receiver and on returns. Combined, they have just 104 pass attempts, the 24th fewest in the nation of all returning QB units, and less than 200 total game snaps between them. All three bring different styles to the table, with White the purest passer and Cox and Jackson more mobile, Cox the better thrower and Jackson the more dangerous man with his feet. Brown and Devenny redshirted last fall, and didn’t see much spring action as the upperclassmen are getting the first look.

Fall Additions: Cody Hawkins (recruit). Key Losses: Joel Klatt (graduation).

Running Back

VETERANS: Hugh Charles, Jr.; Byron Ellis, Jr.; Mell Holliday, Sr.
REDSHIRTS: Kevin Moyd, Fr.-RS; Samson Jagoras, Jr.; Jake Behrens, Fr.-RS.

Charles had one of the top 15 most productive sophomore seasons in CU history, doing much of it behind an offensive line that was never fully healthy, so the likely Doak Walker Award candidate could have a breakout season on the national landscape ahead of him. Holliday was on track to be the surprise addition of last fall until the NCAA ruled him ineligible on a transfer technicality, but he stuck it out and is making the most of his chance, catching the eye of the new coaching staff as well in the spring. Ellis, a big, bruising back, and Moyd, a more diminutive speedster, bring different styles to the table and showed in spring drills that they can be dangerous, too. With Hawkins’ coaching philosophy to play groups of players at several positions, all four could have significant roles in the fall.

Fullback CU loses one of the best fullbacks in the nation (Lawrence Vickers) and a capable backup (Brendan Schaub), but Jagoras, a transfer from Western New Mexico, emerged in the spring as a viable replacement. Behrens, a redshirt freshman, remains in the mix, and with no incoming recruits specific to the position, CU’s fullback play will come from this duo barring any position switches.

Fall Additions: TB Thomas Perez, TB Demetrius Sumler (recruits).
Key Losses: Vickers, Schaub (graduation).

Offensive Line

REDSHIRTS: Paul Backowski, Fr.-RS; Jeremy Hauck, Fr.-RS; Devin Head, Fr.-RS; Zach Jones, Fr.-RS

While anchored by two of the best seniors in the nation in Daniels (left guard) and Fenton (center), injuries wreaked havoc in 2005, as the Buffs had just six active linemen available for the Champs Sports Bowl (and three of those were injured). Harrison (tackle) and Sanders (right guard) figure to join the pair as starters come fall, as would Polumbus, who missed spring drills while mending from shoulder surgery. Harrison practiced at left tackle in the spring, where Polumbus played when he was in the lineup, so who lines up where will likely be decided in fall camp. Depth again could be an issue, and likely will be until the position is restocked; Hawkins has said he would like to sign at least five “big guys” in every class, but in the interim, CU had just 12 on the roster for the spring (two on the injured list), and are adding four to the fold in the fall, including Erick Faatagi, a JUCO transfer. The four frosh redshirts all have massive potential, and with four upperclassmen on the first-team, their time will come soon; Backowski was running with the first unit in Polumbus’ absence during the spring, as the 10 available to the coaching staff did benefit from the extra reps.

Fall Additions: Quinton Borders, Erick Faatagi, Wes Palazzi (recruits). Key Losses: OL Gary Moore, OT Clint O’Neal (graduation).

Receiver

VETERANS: Alvin Barnett, Sr.; Blake Mackey, Sr.; Stephone Robinson, Jr.; Dusty Sprague, Jr.; Patrick Williams, Soph.; Reggie Joseph, Soph.; Chase McBride, Jr.; Charlie Sherman, Soph.; Cody Crawford, Soph. REDSHIRT: Jarrell Yates, Fr.-RS

A healthy Mackey would make all the difference for the group, as CU had to operate without his services last year after he went down with a knee injury early in fall camp; he participated on a limited basis in the spring. Sprague emerged as one of the go-to guys, and was CU’s leading pass catcher with 43 receptions. Williams (28 catches) and Barnett (17) also became popular targets as the year progressed, while Robinson was switched back to the position (from cornerback) a month into the season and showed signs of being a capable option as well. Yates, who also returns from a knee injury, didn’t have the chance to show what he can do, but is expected to work his way into the rotation come fall drills. Joseph hasn’t had many opportunities but figures to vie for playing time, as does Holz, the team holder, and Sherman. McBride, Crawford and Kachmer, three walk-ons, rounded out the spring personnel at the position.

Fall Additions: Sherman Lang (recruit). Key Losses: Evan Judge (graduation).

Tight End

KEY PERSONNEL: Paul Creighton, Sr.; Tyson DeVree, Jr.; Riar Geer, Fr.-RS, Dan Goettsch, Sr.

Losing basically co-starters to graduation, this position is up for grabs. Creighton, who split time at both fullback and tight last year and has throughout his career, gets a trial solely at tight end this spring. DeVree, a highly-regarded transfer from Western Michigan, had two solid years there and figures to be in the mix for starting honors, as does Geer, who is mended from a shoulder injury. Four walk-ons fill out depth at the position, headlined by Goettsch, who has waited patiently for a chance to show what he can do, along with senior Brandon English, sophomore Justin Adams and frosh redshirt Devin Shanahan.

Fall Additions: Steve Fendry, Nate Solder (recruits). Key Losses: Joe Klopfenstein, Quinn Sypniewski (graduation).

Defense

Defensive Front

VETERANS: Alex Ligon, Sr.; Abraham Wright, Sr.; Alonzo Barrett, Jr.; Walter Boye-Doe, Sr.; Maurice Lucas, Soph.; George Hypolite, Soph.; Marcus Jones, Sr. REDSHIRTS: Taj Kaynor, Fr.-RS; Brandon Nicolas, Soph.

There is talent up front, but the depth is minimal, as at the end of the spring, there were only eight healthy players for the four positions combined. Wright is likely to recapture his starting role from a year ago, with Boye-Doe coming on strong for his senior year and ended the spring opposite Wright on the first team. He took over the spot from Barrett, who missed most of the last two weeks after joining the ranks of the injured with a dislocated elbow. All indications are the staff will rotate these four positions heavily, so they will be looking for six-to-eight players to surface as a starting group. Lucas, who started the last half of the season, will be in that mix, along with Hypolite, who saw quality time as a true frosh, and Nicolas, a transfer from Notre Dame. Kaynor, instead of Lucas, almost got the call to sacrifice his redshirt year in 2005, and will contribute as well. Ligon, who will contend for first-unit honors in the fall, tore a pec muscle in winter conditioning and missed the entire spring, and will shift over to tackle from end upon his return in August.

Fall Additions: Jason Brace, Marquez Herrod, Eric Lawson (recruits). Key Losses: James Garee, Vaka Manupuna, John Guydon (graduation).

Inside Linebacker

VETERANS: Thaddaeus Washington, Sr.; Jordon Dizon, Jr.; Marcus Burton, Soph.; Jason Ackermann, Sr.; R.J. Brown, Soph.; Maurice Cantrell, Soph. REDSHIRTS: Jeff Smart, Fr.-RS, Bryan Stengel, Fr.-RS.

There aren't many better 1-2 punches at the position nationally than what Colorado can boast about, as Washington, a Butkus Award candidate a year ago, and Dizon, combined for 173 tackles in 2004. Washington, who has emerged as a team leader individually, was tops in tackles (112), tackles for loss (13) and sacks (5) last fall for the Buffaloes and is well on his way to finishing in the top 10 all-time at the school in tackles. Washington topped the "mike" spot at the end of spring, while Dizon was first at the "will" position; each has 23 career starts heading into 2006. Burton had some big plays as a frosh, including a 99-yard interception return for a touchdown at Oklahoma State, the longest play in school history involving a freshman. Ackermann and Cantrell are the other scholarship players at inside 'backer, with the depth filled in by four walk-ons, including Brown, who ascended to second at mike following spring drills.

Fall Additions: Justin Nonu, Michael Sipili (recruits). Key Losses: Akarika Dawn (graduation).

Outside Linebacker

VETERANS: Brad Jones, Soph.; Joe Sanders, Jr.; Ben Carpenter, Sr.; Chad Cusworth, Sr.

Jones played over 200 snaps at the position including the bowl game a year ago, and he's the odds-on-favorite to replace Brian Iwuh, who had been the mainstay at the spot the previous three seasons. Sanders moved back to the outside spot, where he played as a redshirt frosh in 2004, and didn't miss a beat in the spring at the position he played very well when subbing for an injured Iwuh on occasion that '04 season. Carpenter and Cusworth provide depth and were key special team performers on multiple units last year.

Fall Additions: B.J. Beatty (recruit). Key Losses: Iwuh (graduation).

Secondary

VETERANS: J.J. Billingsley, Sr.; Terrence Wheatley, Jr.; Lorenzo Sims, Sr.; Tyrone Henderson, Sr.; Terry Washington, Sr.; Gardner McKay, Soph.; Ben Burney, Soph.; Vance Washington, Sr.; Lionel Harris, Jr.; Ryan Walters, Soph.; Dominique Brooks, Sr.; Terry Wilson, Soph. REDSHIRTS: Reggie Foster, Fr.-RS

An experienced group, one that has had just one senior over the last two years combined (safety Tom Hubbard), so the group certainly knows each other's strengths and weaknesses. With Greg Brown returning to CU to coach the secondary, his wealth of NFL knowledge and the experience of the group could very well mean that the secondary might be the strength of the team. Billingsley and Wheatley are Thorpe Award candidate material; Wheatley is back after sitting out 2005 following a pair of wrist surgeries and bolsters an already strong group. Sims practiced more at safety than corner in the spring and finished drills behind Billingsley at free safety; he'll likely swing between the two spots come fall. Walters was solid in limited action as a freshman and ended the spring atop the list at strong safety, with Henderson, last year's starter, right behind him. Wheatley figures to be one starting corner, and the other could be McKay, since Gerett Burl, last year's co-defensive MVP, will not return after being suspended for violating team rules. Terry Washington, also an excellent kick returner, could see action rotating between corner positions or as the nickel back, while Burney played mostly special teams a year ago and has promise at corner; Wilson shores up the depth at the position. Vance Washington and Brooks are both recovering from injuries and their fall status won't be determined until August. Foster, who moved over to the defense and practiced at corner after practicing at tailback last year, and walk-ons Joel Adams (also a member of CU's NCAA champion ski team) and Matt Yegge round out depth at safety.

Fall Additions: Cha'pelle Brown, Jalil Brown, Jonathan Hawkins, Jimmy Smith (recruits). Key Losses: Burl (dismissed), Hubbard (graduation).

Kicking Game / Special Teams

VETERAN PERSONNEL: PK Mason Crosby, Sr.; PK Kevin Eberhart, Jr.; PK Isaac Garden, Jr.; P Matt DiLallo, Fr.-RS; KR Stephone Robinson, Jr.; KR Terrence Wheatley, Jr.; H Nick Holz, Sr.

Most consider Crosby the top placekicker in the nation (the consensus first-team All-American in 2005 and Lou Groza Award runner-up), and should vie for both honors again. Crosby will enter the fall as a candidate to take over the punting chores as well, averaging over 50 yards in most daily competitions during the spring. DiLallo watched and learned from one of the best last year in John Torp, and he'll compete for the punter job as well. Eberhart was injured in the spring and saw limited activity, while Garden also showed he has a strong leg and entered the punting competition, too. The coaches have twice recognized Robinson on their all-league team for his play as a return man, and a healthy Wheatley gives CU a solid 1-2 punch at returning kicks, with a few others still in the mix there, namely Terry Washington, Reggie Joseph, Hugh Charles and Chase McBride. Holz returns as one of the finest holders anywhere, but the man who snapped to him, Greg Pace, graduated after excelling for four years in that role, one that won't be filled until fall camp.

Fall Additions: SN Justin Drescher (recruit). Key Losses: SN Greg Pace, P John Torp (graduation).

JASON ACKERMANN, ILB

6-1, 225, Sr., 1L

Louisville, Colo. (Boulder Fairview)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—Is fully recovered from a nasty knee injury he suffered late in his sophomore (2004) season, one in which he tore both ligaments and cartilage. Expected to line up this fall as a reserve at the mike inside linebacker position, he has zoomed up the depth chart before and should also see duty on special team coverage units. He had three tackles in the spring game and five total in the three main spring scrimmages.

2005 (Jr.)—He did not see any action, as he did not return from a knee injury until very late in the season, dressing for the final three games of the year though he was not really at 100 percent. It was originally hopeful he would return at some point early in the season, but the rehab process took longer than expected. He missed all of spring drills.

2004 (Soph.)—He saw action in nine games, seven on defense and in all nine on special teams before he suffered torn ligaments and cartilage in the Kansas game. He had surgery (Nov. 19) and missed the remainder of the year. Prior to the injury, he racked up nine tackles (seven solo) in 86 plays from scrimmage as the backup inside (will) linebacker. He added two more stops, both solo and one inside-the-20, on special teams coverage duty and also had a downed punt. He enjoyed a solid spring, tying for the second most tackles in the three main scrimmages with 21 (12 solo, two for losses).

2003 (Fr.-RS)—He saw action in 11 games, one on defense at inside linebacker and in all on special teams. In 27 snaps on defense against Baylor, he was on three tackles, including a solo stop; on special teams, he had two points on the strength of an assisted tackle and a fourth down stop on a misplayed punt (also against Baylor). He had a solid spring, posted 17 tackles, four for losses, in the three full scrimmages; with only three healthy inside linebackers for much of spring ball, he received plenty of quality reps.

2002 (Fr.)—Redshirted; he practiced the entire fall at inside linebacker. Originally slated for January enrollment, some attrition enabled him to join the team in fall camp after the first week of drills.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he garnered Prep Football Report all-Midwest and PrepStar and SuperPrep all-Midlands honors. Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 17 ILB in the land. He was the all-Colorado Defensive Player-of-the-Year (Rocky Mountain News), and was also all-Colorado by the Denver Post and first-team all-state by both newspapers. He was all-Boulder County (Boulder Camera) and all-Centennial League as both a junior and senior. As a sophomore, he was Fairview's Newcomer-of-the-Year, as he played the last half of the year with varsity, including starts in four games (two playoff). He totaled some gaudy numbers in his prep career, topped by 388 tackles, over 120 for losses, 18 quarterback sacks, 17 forced fumbles, 11 blocked kicks and six interceptions. As a senior, he was in 189 tackles (108 solo), with an amazing 82 for losses including eight quarterback sacks. But the numbers didn't stop there, as he had over two dozen hurries, 11 forced fumbles, five recoveries (one for a touchdown), three interceptions (returning one for a TD) and five blocked kicks (four FG, one punt). As a junior, he was in on 132 tackles, including 83 solo stops, 30 tackles for loss and six sacks, to go with four forced fumbles, three interceptions and three blocked kicks (two FG and a punt he returned for a score). He had 67 tackles, four sacks, two forced fumbles and three blocked kicks as a sophomore. He played some spot tight end throughout his career, primarily as a blocker though he did have three career receptions. His top games as a senior: in a 21-17 win over Columbine, he had 22 tackles (seven TFL's, two sacks) and two forced fumbles; in a 20-13 victory over rival Boulder, he had 18 tackles (four TFL's, one sack), an interception, a forced fumble and a blocked punt; and in a 38-14 win over Mullen, he had 17 tackles (eight TFL's, one sack), an interception, a forced fumble, and a 34-yard kickoff return. Fairview was 12-2 his senior year, reaching the state championship game (a 9-3 loss to Chatfield), 9-2 his junior season and 10-2 his sophomore year under coach Tom McCartney, winning the Centennial League title all three years. He also lettered twice in basketball (power forward) and once in baseball (centerfielder).

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in sociology at Colorado. Owner of a 3.62 grade point average in high school, he was one of nine 2001 Colorado Chapter National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame Scholar-Athletes.

PERSONAL—He was born January 19, 1984 in Boulder. His hobbies include most sports, camping, fishing, drama, music and dancing. He is also active with Young Life, Student Venture and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. His cousin, Amber Metoyer (another Fairview student), played two seasons for CU's women's basketball and outdoor track teams. An aunt (Sonja Hardy) was a U.S. Olympic hurdler at the '76 Summer Olympics; several uncles played college football: Mike Metoyer (at Colorado, a defensive end on the 1973 team), Lucien Hardy (UNLV) and Travis Hardy (Kansas), with a cousin (Lucien Hardy, Jr.) playing at Weber State.

JOEL ADAMS, S

5-11, 185, Soph., VR

Steamboat Springs, Colo.

(Steamboat)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS)—Enters the fall listed as a reserve at free safety.

2005 (Fr.)—He did not see any action after joining the team as a walk-on for August drills; he was already enrolled at Colorado, as he was a member of the varsity ski team. Thus, his collegiate "clock" had already started, and with five years to play four, it will go down as a redshirt season in football. He practiced all fall at safety, and on three occasions was awarded the Scout Team Defense Award for his efforts leading up to the Colorado State, Kansas and Nebraska games. He rejoined the ski team after the Champs Sports Bowl, though he practiced both sports in December.

SKIING—A two-time letterman in skiing, he was a member of CU's national championship team as a sophomore in 2006. He had four top 20 finishes on the winter, with a best of 11th in the giant slalom in the Alaska Invitational (which was held at Park City, Utah); his top slalom finish was 17th in Western State's invite. He was ranked 24th in the giant slalom and 26th in the slalom in the west, but did not qualify to ski at the NCAA meet. In 2005, he was the lone member of the CU men's alpine team to qualify for the NCAA's, finishing 19th in the slalom and 22nd in the giant slalom. He had three top 10 finishes in 12 races on the year, all in the GS, with his best a fifth place effort at the New Mexico Invitational, followed by a seventh place showing in the Utah Invitational and 10th place in the Alaska meet; his best effort in the slalom was 12th in Utah. He skied for the Steamboat Springs Ski Club for 10 years, four of those on Team Colorado, and also spent one year skiing in Park City, Utah. In 2001 he won the International Whistler Cup at 15-years-old (the best 15-and-under skiers in the world) and qualified for the U.S. Development Team, but declined the opportunity because he wanted to continue playing prep football. In 2004 he turned in a fifth place finish in the Mammoth Spring Series against competition that included U.S. Ski Team members.

HIGH SCHOOL—He earned four letters in football, as he was Steamboat's starting quarterback for three years and was the captain of the 2002 team. He holds Steamboat's single-game passing yards record and in a one game he passed for a touchdown, ran for a second and returned an interception for yet another, also a school first.

ACADEMICS—He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is interested in following in his father's footsteps and studying international business.

PERSONAL—Born January 6, 1985 in Steamboat Springs. His hobbies include playing golf and spending time outdoors. He never considered any other college than CU, his childhood favorite from the beginning.

81

JUSTIN ADAMS, TE
6-1, 235, Soph., VR
Denver, Colo. (Montbello)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall listed as a reserve tight end.

2005 (Fr.-RS)—He did not see any game action, though he did dress for seven games including the Big 12 Championship and the Champs Sports Bowl.

2004 (Fr.)—Redshirted; he practiced the entire year at tight end. He joined the team as a walk-on for preseason practices, and stayed late after almost every practice with former walk-on quarterback Casey Brown and the two would work together for up to a half hour.

HIGH SCHOOL—He lettered once in football. As a senior, he reeled in three passes for 50 yards and one touchdown, helping Montbello capture the Denver Public League championship. Under coach Oliver Lucas his team was 10-2 that year, while he lists the biggest moment of the season when he scored a touchdown against Denver South in what was later tabbed the DPS "Game of the Year." He also played baseball (right field) one season.

ACADEMICS—He is a journalism and mass communication major at Colorado, as he has designs on being a sports anchor someday. He was a consistent honor roll student in high school, and was also a Young Life Leader, member of the Mile High Flight program and Colorado Association of Black Journalists.

PERSONAL—Born January 1, 1986 in Denver. His hobbies include watching sports and reading the Bible; he coordinates his own off-campus Bible study groups and in conjunction with the Young Life Organization, does ministry work every weekend for high school students in Montbello. A distant cousin (James Williams) played linebacker at Mississippi State and went on to play for New Orleans, Jacksonville and San Francisco in the NFL. He interned in the summer of 2005 in the sports department at KMGH-TV in Denver.

PAUL BACKOWSKI, OL
6-6, 285, Fr., RS
Foley, Minn. (Foley)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS)—With several injuries to fellow offensive linemen, he had the luxury of practicing much of the spring with the first unit and ended drills listed atop the depth chart at right tackle. He has added 20 pounds to his frame since arriving on the Boulder campus.

2005 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced the entire season as an offensive lineman, mainly at tackle. He was one of five linemen to earn the Scout Team Offense Award for the week leading up to the Oklahoma State game.

HIGH SCHOOL—A three-year letterman who excelled on both sides of the ball, he was a first-team all-state offensive tackle by the Associated Press and the St. Paul Pioneer Press his senior season, as well as an honorable mention all-state defensive end. A senior team captain, he was also a first-team Rum River Conference honoree, while he was selected as the Most Valuable Lineman in the league and for Foley. SuperPrep named him to its All-Midwest team in both the pre- and postseason, while the G&W Recruiting Report named him to its 2004 Top Midlands Players List. One recruiting magazine noted him for his outstanding "range and wingspan." During his junior campaign he garnered second-team all-state and first-team all-conference honors on the offensive line, and was also named his team's Most Valuable Lineman. As a senior, he had 52 pancake blocks, allowed no quarterback sacks and only committed four penalties. On defense in his first taste at end, he racked up 30 tackles (17 solo, six for losses and four sacks), one forced fumble and two pass deflections. J.J. BILLINGSLEY, FS

Aurora, Colo. (Eaglecrest)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—CU's starting free safety and one of the top defensive backs in the nation, he earned some recognition in the national publications. He was a preseason first-team All-Big 12 selection by Athlon, collegefootballnews.com, Lindy's Big 12 Football and USA Today Sports Weekly, while The Sporting News tabbed him a second-team choice and ranked him as the No. 9 free safety in the nation (Lindy's ranked him as the No. 16 overall safety in the land). He is also on the Football Writer's Association of America preseason All-America checklist. He will enter his senior year in 2006 with 255 career tackles, the eighth most by a defensive back at Colorado and 24th overall, with his 181 solo stops tied for 12th on that all-time list.

2005 (Jr.)—He started all 13 games including the Champs Sports Bowl at safety in earning honorable mention All-Big 12 Conference honors from both the Associated Press and the league coaches (he was a second-team All-Colorado team member by the Colorado Chapter of the National Football Foundation). In playing the second most snaps on defense (747), he finished second on the team in tackles with 85, including 58 solo and seven for losses (with one quarterback sack). He was fourth with 12 third down stops, adding five pass deflections, four hurries, two fumble recoveries, two quarterback chasedowns, a touchdown save and a forced fumble to go with two interceptions, which he posted against Colorado State and Kansas. Against the Jayhawks, he also matched his career high with 15 tackles (eight solo), and forced a fumble at midfield in the third quarter that led to a key touchdown that put the Buffs up 30-13 at the time in a 44-13 win. Other top games included 11 tackles against Colorado State, 10 at Kansas State, nine at Texas and eight (all solo) against the Longhorns in the Big 12 title game. In the bowl game against Clemson, he recorded three tackles, all unassisted stops. He was CU's defensive back of the week for three games, Colorado State, Texas A&M and Kansas. Surgeries and other issues behind him, he rejoined the team for the fall and helped shore up both CU's rush defense and overall secondary. He did not participate in spring drills as he completed rehabilitation for knee surgery in addition to not participating in all team activities while concentrating on academics. Phil Steele's College Football ranked him as the No. 25 defensive back in the nation despite his playing in just two games last fall.

2004 (Jr.-RS)—He suffered a sprained knee midway during August drills (August 19), but he was able to play in the opener against Colorado State, where he saw action for 44 plays... none bigger than the game's final one, when he stuffed Colorado State's Tristian Walker for a 2-yard loss on a third-and-goal play as time ran out to preserve a 27-24 CU win. He sat out the next two games, and with an open week in the mix as well, was hopeful of being healthy for the league portion of the schedule. Though he did play 38 snaps at Missouri and had a big game (six tackles, a forced fumble, a hurry and a third down stop), the swelling persisted and he had season-ending surgery on October 12. Thus, he played in just the two games and was eligible for a medical redshirt year since he had one available to him. Street & Smith's tabbed him as a preseason honorable mention All-American and one of 26 candidates for the Jim Thorpe Award, while Lindy's Big 12 Football selected him as a preseason second-team all-Big 12 Conference performer as well as the No. 16 safety in the nation.

2003 (Soph.)—In earning honorable mention all-Big 12 Conference honors from the league coaches, he started all 12 games and finished third on the team in tackles with 94 (69 solo), along with eight tackles for loss, six third down stops, six quarterback hurries, three touchdown saves, three pass deflections and two interceptions. He also earned first-team all-Colorado honors from the Colorado chapter of the National Football Foundation/College Football Hall of Fame. He was CU's defensive back of the week on three occasions, all late in the season after he really got things going: against Texas Tech he had six tackles and two interceptions; against Missouri he posted a season-high 14 tackles, including two for losses; and against Iowa State, he had five tackles, two for losses with a sack, a third down stop and a fumble recovery. His two interceptions against Tech came three-and-a-half minutes apart in the first quarter, making him the 10th CU player in history to record two thefts in the same quarter. He also had 13 tackles against Kansas State, 10 against Nebraska and nine each versus Colorado State and Washington State. He earned three special team points on the strength of two solo tackles and a downed punt. He sat out the second half of spring drills to concentrate on academics (he needed to catch up a bit), but was back on schedule by fall camp.

2002 (Fr.)—A first-team Freshman All-American by both the FWAA and The Sporting News, he was also first-team Freshman All-Big 12 and the recipient of CU's Lee Willard Award, presented by the coaches to the most outstanding freshman. He played in all 14 games, including the Alamo Bowl, with six starts; he saw most of his action in CU's dime package, and played the bulk of his snaps at free safety. In earning his way on to CU's prestigious Victory Club, he finished seventh on the team in tackles with 67, a number that ranked him eighth in the NCAA for tackles by a true freshman. It also set a CU record for the most tackles in a season by a true frosh, as he broke the old mark of 52 set by Jashon Sykes in 1998. In his first start against San Diego State, he established a school record for the most tackles by a true freshman when he posted 15, including 12 solo stops. He had 47 unassisted tackles on the year, with seven for losses and a quarterback sack. He had two third down stops, a fumble recovery and two forced fumbles, one of which was huge: it came in overtime at Missouri, preventing a Tiger first down as Kory Mossoni recovered the ball to end the game. Other top games came against Kansas (12 tackles) and Baylor (10); in the bowl game against Wisconsin he had one tackle (for a 4-yard loss). He finished second on the team in special team points with 13, on the strength of nine tackles (one inside-the-20), two knockdown blocks and a forced fumble. He also won a "CUSPY," as he was selected as CU's Male Freshman of the Year for all sports.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he garnered PrepStar and SuperPrep All-America accolades along with first-team all-Colorado honors (Denver Post, Rocky Mountain News), with the Post selecting him to its 12-man Blue Chip list. He also earned first-team all-state and all-conference honors playing slot back, with Prep Football Report and SP both selecting him to their all-Midlands teams. Rivals.com ranked him No. 34 in its special "athlete" category; PrepStar had him as the No. 6 athlete out of the Midlands. As a junior, he earned first-team all-league honors at linebacker, and was an honorable mention all-state performer. He amassed 1,177 total yards as a senior, including 736 rushing (105 carries, 7 touchdowns) and 441 receiving (17 catches, 5 TDs). He had five touchdowns of 70 yards or longer in length; two came on 89- and 81-yard runs against Smoky Hill. He did not play defense as a senior; as a junior, he was in on 80 tackles, with four forced fumbles, two sacks, three interceptions and a recovery playing linebacker, the same position he logged 50 tackles and an interception as a sophomore. Over on offense, he racked up just shy of 1,000 yards, as he had 700-plus rushing and 200-plus receiving with two scores. He also returned a kickoff for a touchdown as a junior showing his versatility. Top games included the 42-20 win over Smoky Hill as a senior, when he had 226 yards and three scores; he had 14 carries for 184 yards and three scores in a 28-21 win over Overland and in a 35-24 loss to Mullen, he had 170 yards and two scores. Eaglecrest was 8-3 his senior year, reaching the state quarterfinals, and was 2-8 his junior and 4-6 his sophomore seasons under coach Gary Thompson. He also lettered in twice in basketball as a guard/forward and three times in track (hurdles and relays). He was a member of the state champion 4-x100 relay team as a junior, and was the state champ in the 110- and 300-meter hurdles (14.02 and 37.37 times, respectively) and on the 800-meter winning relay team (1:27.09) as well as a senior.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in sociology at Colorado.

PERSONAL—He was born November 16, 1983 in Denver. His hobbies include listening to music and video games. His father (Jon, Sr.) played college football at Central Methodist College, with a cousin, Micha-

Billingsley, played wide receiver first at Fort Lewis and then at Northern Michigan. J.J. stands for Jon, Jr.

Keller, Texas (Keller)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—He had a great spring, as due to injuries as defensive end, he had the bulk of his reps with the first unit and made the most of it. In the spring game, he tied for the team lead with seven tackles, but spent much of his time in the offensive backfield as he had five stops for losses, including four quarterback sacks that totaled 39 yards. He also had two third stops and a pass broken up. He is set to play at about 10-15 pounds more than he did as a junior.

He played in all on special teams and in eight on defense, where he logged 10 tackles (four solo) in 158 snaps from scrimmage. He also was credited with three passes broken up, a quarterback pressure and half a sack. He had a high of three tackles against both New Mexico State (two solo) and Texas A&M (one unassisted). He was healthy for fall camp after missing all of spring practice following winter surgery to repair chronic ankle problems. When he finally hit the field, it was at a new position for him, as he has been moved to defensive end from inside linebacker.

2004 (Soph.)—He was slowed the first portion of the season due to an ankle injury, but eventually saw action in seven games on defense including the Houston Bowl and in eight overall including special teams (no starts). He had 13 tackles (six solo) in 69 snaps from scrimmage, the highest ratio of tackles-to-snaps played on the team, along with one tackle for loss and a third down stop. He had four tackles against both Iowa State and Kansas, and added three in the Big 12 title game against Oklahoma. He also earned the Scout Team Defense Award for two games (Oklahoma State, Texas). He missed spring practice while tending to personal (family) matters.

2003 (Fr.)—He saw action in 11 games, all on special teams and five on defense including three starts at will linebacker (versus Kansas State, Missouri and Iowa State). He played 117 snaps from scrimmage on defense, racking up 17 tackles (12 solo), with a third down stop and a quarterback pressure. He had a season-high six tackles (five solo) against Oklahoma, along with five tackles against Missouri and three against Kansas State. On special teams, he was mainly on the kickoff return unit and posted four kickoff blocks clearing the way for Jeremy Bloom and the other return men.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned first-team all-district (5-5A), all Northeast Tarrant County and all-area honors, while earning mention on the Texas Top 100 and Lone Star Top 100 lists. DOMINIQUE BROOKS, S

6-1, 200, Sr., 2L

Mesquite, Texas (North Mesquite)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—He missed spring drills while undergoing rehabilitation following January 10 knee surgery, an injury which also required a follow-up arthroscopy in May. His status for the fall is uncertain, but he does have a redshirt year available to him if need be.

2005 (Jr.)—He missed the first four games of the year with ankle and toe injuries, and then played in the next eight solely on special teams duty, registering one solo tackle on coverage unit duty. Against Kansas, he scooped a blocked punt and returned it 28 yards for a touchdown early in the third quarter to help swing full momentum over to CU's side. He suffered torn knee ligaments against Texas in the Big 12 Championship game and missed the bowl game as the injury required surgery. He had entered the fall listed first at strong safety on the depth chart. In spring conditioning tests, he posted a team best in the standing long jump (11-0 feet).

2004 (Soph.)—He started the first nine games of the season, the first five at strong safety and the next four at free safety and then came off the bench in the final three before starting again in the Houston Bowl as he played in all 13 games. In 647 snaps from scrimmage during the regular season, he finished fourth on the team in tackles with 72 (54 solo), with six third down stops, four passes broken up, two quarterback hurries, a forced fumble and recovery. His fumble recovery was huge, as he returned it 41 yards for a touchdown at Kansas in the first quarter that swung the game's momentum after the Jayhawks had stormed to a 14-0 lead in the game's first four minutes. He also had seven special team points on the strength of five tackles (four solo and two inside-the-20). He had a career high 11 tackles (8 solo) in the overtime loss at Texas A&M, and posted nine against Oklahoma State, eight against Missouri and seven versus both North Texas and Texas. He had five or more tackles in nine games, including six against both Washington State and Oklahoma, in both cases all unassisted stops. Against UTEP in the bowl game, he had one solo tackle (for a 1-yard loss) and a pass broken up on a fourth down play—the Miners last gasp from their own 40 with just under a minute remaining.

2003 (Fr.)—He saw action in 10 games, on both defense and special teams, and started three contests (Baylor, Kansas, Texas Tech) when CU opened in its dime defense. He played 326 snaps from scrimmage, the second most by any true freshman on the team (topped only by OG Brian Daniels), and posted 24 tackles, which included 20 solo and three for losses with one quarterback sack. He was always sniffing out the big play, as he led the team with eight third down stops, two touchdown saves and two interceptions on the year, both coming in the Missouri game; that made him the 69th player at CU to have two in a game, but only the third true freshman to accomplish the feat (the first since 1996). He also had five pass deflections and one quarterback hurry; on special teams, he added two solo tackles. He had four tackles, three being unassisted stops, in three different games: Washington State, Kansas and Iowa State, and against Texas Tech, he had three solo tackles, all for losses. Against Missouri, he had four third down stops (two interceptions, one tackle, one pass deflection), the most by a CU player since the 1997 season.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned first-team all-Dallas/Fort Worth Area and all-district (10-5A) honors, with Prep Football Report and SuperPrep naming him to their all-Southwest teams and PrepStar tabbing him all-Midlands. Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 33 safety in the nation, SuperPrep had him as the No. 40 player in Texas and PFR the No. 57 player in the region (the ninth defensive back). He played in the Coca-Cola All-Star game, racking up seven tackles. As a junior, one of only four who saw action on the team, he was second-team all-state and first-team all-area and all-district. As a senior, playing free safety in what Prep Football Report called “the country's finest secondary,” he had 77 tackles (53 solo), six pass deflections, three interceptions, two forced fumbles, two recoveries and a blocked punt. He had 73 tackles as a junior (43 solo), with eight interceptions, five passes broken up, two caused fumbles and one recovery. He also returned punts on occasion, averaging just over 25 yards for nine career returns. Top career games included two efforts as a junior: he had seven tackles and three interceptions in a 37-0 win of Namaan Forrest, and in an overtime playoff loss to Plano, he had 17 tackles and two passes broken up. In two years on the varsity, North Mesquite was 8-2 his senior year and 7-4 his junior year under coach Steve Bragg; it lost in the first round of the playoffs both years, both times by three points in overtime. He also lettered twice in track (sprints, relays), and played two years of basketball.

HUGH CHARLES, TB

5-8, 190, Jr., 2L

Keller, Texas (Keller)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Jr.)—CU’s starting tailback. He received some preseason accolades, as The Sporting News selected him second-team All-Big 12 and Phil Steele’s College Football tabbed him fourth. His 891 rushing yards rank 52nd in school history.

2005 (Soph.)—He played in all 13 games, starting 12 including the Champs Sports Bowl (he saw action for just one play against Missouri due to an ankle sprain. He earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors from the Associated Press and the league coaches (he was a second-team choice by the Kansas City Star and the San Antonio Express-News), and honorable mention All-Colorado team honors from the state’s chapter of the National Football Foundation. He was one of just nine players to earn his way on to CU’s prestigious Victory Club, as those who qualify have to post a winning productivity grade in at least eight games. He rushed for 842 yards on the season, the sixth most ever by a sophomore at Colorado, as he had 176 carries and six touchdowns in averaging 4.8 yards per rush. He had 26 rushes for 10 or more yards and 60 for five or longer, with the crown carry a 74-yard touchdown run to open the game at Oklahoma State. That was the longest rushing play by a Buff in three years, the longest on CU’s first possession of a game in 16 years, and the second fastest score from scrimmage in school history, coming 18 seconds into the game. In his first start, he rushed for 101 yards and two scores on 15 carries against Colorado State in the season opener, becoming just the 14th player in CU history to run for 100 yards in his first career start. He topped the century mark two other times, as he had a career best 120 yards against OSU and 105 yards versus New Mexico State. He also opened the Nebraska game with a 45-yard run, one of seven times he carried the ball on CU’s first play of the game: he gained 177 yards on those seven plays, or 25.3 per (six of the seven runs gained at least seven yards, four 13 or more). He proved dangerous as a receiver as well, catching 26 passes for 226 yards (8.7 per), including a 51-yard touchdown from Joel Klatt against Texas A&M; he thus registered three of the five longest plays from scrimmage on the season for the Buffs. His 226 yards receiving marked the 15th time a running back caught passes for 200-plus yards, his total being the eighth most in school history. He also earned the second most first downs on the team with 43 (35 rushing, eight receiving). Against Clemson in the bowl game, he rushed 13 times for 16 yards, caught two passes for five yards and took a handoff on a kickoff return to add 21 yards to the play. He was CU’s offensive back of the week for the CSU and Oklahoma State games, as selected by the coaching staff. In spring conditioning tests, he was the overall strength and conditioning champion for the “Speed” group (RB, DB, WR, QB, K/P) with 82 points, owning a team best 40-yard dash time of 4.37, with group bests in three other categories.

2004 (Fr.)—He played in 12 games including the Houston Bowl (no starts), sitting out only the season opener as he saw the bulk of his action on special teams. Had 17 rushes for 49 yards for the regular season, with five carries for five or more yards; however, in the bowl game against UTEP, he had the chance to show off his speed. He had more of a role in that game, as he had seven rushes for 51 yards and a touchdown, including a 37-yard sprint that opened the drive on which he eventually scored what would be his first career TD. On the year, 13 of his carries were on first down (for 79 yards), and he earned four first downs (three rushing, one receiving). He also had a kickoff return for 14 yards in the bowl. He carried four times for 17 yards against North Texas and had five carries for 14 yards at Kansas, when he also had a reception for eight yards. On special teams, he finished tied for third in the team point standings with nine on the strength of six tackles (five solo, one inside-the-20), a downed punt and a knockdown block.

TRACK—Though he has competed minimally, his personal bests in the long jump both indoors and outdoors are topped by only one other performer in school history: Kingsley Adams owns the top four indoor and the top five outdoor marks, all set between 1973-75. He lettered in indoor track as a freshman, as he finished eighth in the long jump at Big 12 Indoor Championships with a 23-10 $\frac{1}{4}$ effort. He qualified provisionally for the NCAA Championships at Washington's Husky Classic with a jump of 24-5 $\frac{1}{2}$ (placing third in the meet), and won the Air Force Classic with a 24-5 effort (he wound up not making it into the NCAA's); his personal indoor best is 25-3 $\frac{3}{4}$. Also at Air Force, he ran a collegiate best 6.88 in the 60-meter dash in finishing second. As a sophomore, he competed both indoors and outdoors, but did not letter (team policy requires scoring at the league meet to earn one); once again, he qualified provisionally for the NCAA Indoor at the Husky Classic (24-6 $\frac{1}{4}$) but did not advance to the national meet. He jumped 23-8 at the Big 12 Indoor meet. Outdoors, he posted a personal best of 24-5 in CU's Potts Invitational, which he did one day after the fourth football practice of the spring.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior team captain, he was an All-Southwest performer by SuperPrep and Prep Football Report, with PrepStar naming him to its preseason All-Midlands squad. SuperPrep also tabbed him as the No. 56 player (fourth RB) in the Southwest, and Prep Football Report named him the No. 71 player overall (11th RB) in the Midlands. Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 59 overall player in Texas, and the No. 16 running back in the nation. As a senior, he earned first-team all-district (5-5A) honors at both running back and kick returner (he was special teams district MVP), as he averaged 34 yards per return on eight attempts, including one touchdown for 92 yards. On the ground, he totaled 1,084 yards with a long run of 54 and seven touchdowns on 150 attempts, as he also reeled in 24 passes for 200 yards and three scores. A team captain again during his junior year, he garnered first-team all-district honors at kick returner and running back. Averaging about 40 yards for six returns, he scored two touchdowns on dashes of 97 and 82 yards. He had 84 rushes for 607 yards and four touchdowns, with a long run of 50, while making 18 receptions for 120 yards and two more scores. During his sophomore campaign, when he was named the 2002 5A Sophomore Defensive Back of the Year playing free safety, he racked up 20 total tackles, with all eight solo stops going for losses, including four sacks; he also added two pressures and three pass deflections and returned four kickoffs, one for a 91-yard touchdown. Top games: in a 34-31 win over Fossil Ridge his senior year, he rushed the ball 18 times for 180 yards and two touchdowns; in a 38-24 win against Sam Houston in the first round of the 2003 state playoffs, he recorded 140 yards and one score on 16 carries, as he also caught one pass for a 10-yard touchdown; in win over Colleyville that same year, he had 138 yards rushing with one touchdown on 17 attempts, along with a 92-yard kick return for a touchdown. Under coach Kevin Atkinson, Keller was 8-2 his senior season, as it won the district championship before advancing to the second round of the state playoffs; the team went 5-4 his junior year and 4-5 his sophomore season. He also lettered four times in track and was a first-team all-district performer in the 100-meter dash (career best of 10.34) and the long jump (25-3 $\frac{1}{2}$). He was the only prep athlete in the nation in 2004 to record a jump beyond 25 feet, taking district honors with the effort along with winning the triple jump and being a key member on the 4x100 and 4x200 relay teams. He went on to win the regional championship in the 100 and the long jump in addition to finishing second in the triple jump.

ACADEMICS—He is deciding between communication and sociology for his major at Colorado. He owned a 3.4 grade point average in high school.

ADDITIONAL STATISTICS—Special Team Tackles: 5,1—6 (2004).

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—He missed most of spring practice, as he injured both his hand and thumb in the third session (March 16) when he hit a defender's helmet with his follow through. He was healthy by the end of June and will attempt to re-enter the fray for starting honors at quarterback in August drills.

2005 (Jr.)—He saw action in seven regular season games, all coming late in games after the outcome was decided; however, that changed for the Champs Sports Bowl, as he got the starting nod with Joel Klatt out after he was injured in the Big 12 Championship game. He struggled in the bowl game, in part due to CU having just six healthy offensive linemen, completing 4-of-12 passes for 26 yards while being sacked four times. In the regular season, he completed 13-of-29 passes for 93 yards (no touchdowns or interceptions), while rushing four times for 17 yards before two sacks for 14 yards in losses were deducted from his totals. He was 4-of-8 for 47 yards against New Mexico State, and completed both his throws for 17 yards at Oklahoma State for his top games. He saw the most action against Texas in the Big 12 title game, going in after Klatt went down, completing 1-of-8 passes for nine yards.

2004 (Soph.)—He saw action in five games, including his first career start (coming against Iowa State). He had come off the bench the previous week to complete 15-of-21 passes for 175 yards against Oklahoma State (1 TD/2 INT), but struggled a bit in his start against ISU, as he was 7-of-16 for 67 yards (1 TD/1 INT). For the year, he completed 28-of-49 passes for 330 yards (2 TD/3 INT) for a passer rating of 114.9, but proved to be pretty adept on his feet, as he was sacked just twice and had three runs of 10 yards or longer in rushing nine actual times for 46 yards (11 for 37 officially including the sacks). He enjoyed great success on first down, completing 10-of-16 throws for 123 yards and eight first downs; his two touchdown passes came on third down plays, including his career first to Dusty Sprague that covered 21 yards against Oklahoma State. He did not see any action in the bowl game. He entered the fall listed second on the depth chart, as he moved up a notch over the course of spring practices.

2003 (Fr.-RS)—He saw action late in two games (Florida State, Iowa State), completing his first collegiate pass against the Seminoles (though going for zero yards). He rushed once for two yards and was sacked once. He received plenty of reps during the spring and completed 15 of 31 passes for 194 yards and two touchdowns in the three main scrimmages (but was sacked 13 times).

2002 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any game action. He practiced the entire fall at quarterback, and was the Scout Team Offense Award winner on two occasions (the Baylor and the first Oklahoma game).

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he garnered SuperPrep All-Far West honors (both pre- and postseason) and PrepStar All-West accolades, with Rivals.com ranking him as the No. 24 quarterback nationally in its "dual-threat" category. He also earned first-team All-Ventura County, All-Southern CIF Section and All-Marmonte League honors. He was a second-team all-league and honorable mention all-county performer as a junior. He had a 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ -to-1 ratio of touchdown passes to interceptions (35-14) his junior and senior seasons combined. As a senior, he completed

160-of-296 passes (54 percent) for 1,800 yards and 18 touchdowns, with just seven interceptions. He also rushed 101 times for 560 yards and eight scores with a long run of 84, and also caught three passes for 90 yards and a touchdown (that covered 65 yards). As a junior, he completed 56 percent of his passes for 1,780 yards and 17 touchdowns, again throwing only seven picks. He rushed for 465 yards and 13 touchdowns to compliment his passing stats. On defense, starting at both safety and cornerback, he had 59 tackles, four pass deflections, three interceptions and two forced fumbles as a senior. He played one game on defense as a junior, racking up 10 tackles and two interceptions in barely 20 plays. Top games included a 28-21 loss to Ventura in the third round of the playoffs his junior year: he completed 20-of-30 passes for 250 yards and two touchdowns, along with rushing for 80 yards and a third score. In a 34-28 overtime loss to Thousand Oaks that same year, he was 19-of-31 for 285 yards and a TD, with 100 rushing yards and two touchdowns. 30

PAUL CREIGHTON, TE
6-5, 250, Sr., 3L
Niwot, Colo. (Niwot)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—Listed solely as a tight end as a senior, as he shed his tag doubling as a fullback, though he can still be called upon in that role. He ended spring drills tied atop the depth chart at tight end and figures to see plenty of playing time come this fall, as CU will often utilize two-tight end sets.

2005 (Jr.)—He saw action in all 13 games on both offense and special teams, including the Champs Sports Bowl (no starts). He finished fourth in special team points with seven on the strength of three tackles (one inside-the-20), two knockdown blocks and a downed punt. He also played every snap (61) on the FG/PAT unit.

2004 (Soph.)—He played in all 13 games including the Houston Bowl (no starts), seeing action at both fullback and tight end (due to injuries) as well as on special teams. He had no traditional stats on offense (rushes, receptions), but he was versatile enough to play both positions in primarily a blocking role and provide several key blocks. On special teams, he had two tackles (one solo) and a knockdown block. He had switched from tight end to fullback for spring practice, and adapted very well to the change. Primarily used as a blocker in drills, he did catch one pass (for 2 yards) in the spring game.

2003 (Fr.-RS)—He saw action in 11 games (no starts), mostly on special teams though he played occasionally in several games at tight end. He had two special team points on the year, on the strength of one knockdown block and one wedge break.

2002 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any action but practiced all year at tight end. He earned the Scout Team Offense Award for the Big 12 Championship game against Oklahoma. He joined the team as a recruited walk-on prior to August drills, and was placed on scholarship for the spring semester (he was originally going to enroll in January, but was invited into camp when a space opened for him).

HIGH SCHOOL—He lettered three times in football, playing both tight end and defensive end. He garnered all-state honors as a senior, as he set school records for all-time receiving yards and sacks in a season (20½). He had 33 catches for over 800 yards and eight touchdowns on offense as a senior, with 100 total tackles, 20 quarterback sacks, two forced fumbles, two fumble recoveries and three pass deflections. His top games included a win over Sterling as a senior, when he had nine tackles and four sacks, one being the game-saver. Against Valley, he reeled in six catches for 180 yards and two touchdowns, while his top high school moment came against Steamboat Springs in the 2001 state playoffs, as Niwot won after a tough a goal line stand. Niwot was 9-3 his senior year under new coach Ron Tesone, 3-7 his junior year and 2-8 during his sophomore season (when he played offensive guard). He lettered four years in basketball at forward, as he exited as Niwot's all-time leading scorer and blocked shot leader, earning honorable mention all-state honors as a senior. He also lettered three times in outdoor track, and was an all-conference and all-region selection in the 110-meter hurdles.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in psychology at Colorado.

MASON CROSBY, PK/P
6-2, 215, Sr., 3L
Georgetown, Texas (Georgetown)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—The nation's premier placekicker, as evidenced by him being the unanimous first-team All-American in every notable preseason publication: Athlon, CBS SportsLine.com, collegefootballnews.com, Lindy's Big 12 Football, Football.com, Football News, Nationalchamps.net, Phil Steele's College Football, Playboy, Rivals.com, The Sporting News and Street & Smith's. He enters his senior year tied for second overall on CU's all-time scoring charts with 231 points, as well as tied for the most by a placekicker at Colorado (along with Jeremy Aldrich). He is also second in field goals made (47), second in PAT kicks made (90), second in field goal attempts (60) and first in PAT attempts (98). He has also excelled in late game heroics, making a name for himself in the clutch: he is 12-of-13 in the fourth quarter, including 10-of-10 in the final 8½ minutes with eight kicks of 41 yards or longer and seven of them with the score of the game within six points. In addition, he has kicked off 157 times, with 110 going for touchbacks, with the average starting yardline of the opponent its 22 after his kicks. In the postseason, he is fourth all-time in scoring with 19 points in bowls (5-of-7 FG, 4-of-4 PAT), the second in kick scoring, trailing Aldrich. He may very well add the punting chores to his resume, as he averaged 49.5 yards for eight punts in the three major spring scrimmages. He put on a show in the spring game, connecting on 7-of-16 field goals: his average make was 46 yards, the average "miss" from 55 yards, as he tried kicks in less than great conditions from 70, 69, 68, 65 and 62 yards to entertain the fans.

2005 (Jr.)—The runner-up for the Lou Groza Award (by just six points to Oregon State's Alexis Serna), he became the first placekicker in Colorado history to earn first-team All-America honors, doing it in consensus fashion as he was honored by the Associated Press, the Football Writers Association of America, The Sporting News, SI.com, Walter Camp and Rivals.com. He was also the unanimous selection for first-team All-Big 12 honors from both the AP and league coaches, and was the pick for the Big 12 Special Teams Player-of-the-Year by the coaches. He also earned first-team All-Colorado team honors from the state's chapter of the National Football Foundation, which also selected him as the state's special teams POY. He had an amazing list of accomplishments for the season, the crown jewel being a 58-yard field goal at Miami, Fla., the longest ever at sea level (7 feet) without a kicking tee in NCAA Division I-A history. He led the team in scoring with 94 points, converting all 31 PAT kicks (he has made 38 consecutive) and 21-of-28 field goals; he led the nation in the average distance per field goal made at an astounding 41.2 yards. He strung together a school record 10 straight field goals made between the end of his sophomore year and his junior season, in both of which he led the NCAA in field goals made from 50 yards or longer (six in 2004, five in 2005). Of the five 50-plus he made on the season, four came on the road. He had the first two game-winning kicks of his career; in opening his junior season in grand style on his 21st birthday (Sept. 3), he scored 11 points (3-3 FG, 2-2 PAT) in the 31-28 win over Colorado State. Those included a 48-yard field goal to tie the score at 21-21 with 2:32 left, and a game-winning 47-yard boot with 0:04 on the clock. Later in the year at Kansas State, and after already making a 52-yard kick in the second quarter, he drilled a 50-yarder with six seconds left in swirling winds to beat the Wildcats, 23-20. That tied his own school record for 50-plus yard kicks made in a game. For his career, he is 23-of-25 from 40 yards and in, as well as a most impressive 24-of-35 from 41 yards or longer. He has now been selected the Big 12 Special Teams Player-of-the-Week seven times in his career (CSU, Miami, Kansas State and Missouri games as a junior to go with the Iowa State and Nebraska games in 2004 and for the Kansas game in 2003). That puts him in select company, as the seven are tied for the most in a career with two other players in Big 12 history: RB Ricky Williams (Texas, 1996-98) and QB Eric Crouch (NU, 1998-2001). Williams was recognized five times in 1998 (Heisman season); Crosby, this year, and Texas Tech QB Kliff Kingsbury ('02) are the only others to honored at least four times in a season. In addition, the Lou Groza Award Committee named him one of its three "Stars of the Week" the times, making it four in his career (Iowa State in '04; CSU, Miami and K-State in '05). In the Champs Sports Bowl against Clemson, he made good on his only two kicks, a 36-yard field goal and a PAT. The CU coaches again selected him as the recipient for the Bill McCartney Award for special teams achievement, and he was also just one of nine players to earn his way on to CU's prestigious Victory Club list (minimum eight games with a high productivity grade). He was a near unanimous selection for preseason first-team All-America honors, including being named to the prestigious Playboy team.

2004 (Soph.)—He was the unanimous first-team All-Big 12 placekicker and one of 20 semifinalists for the Lou Groza Award, though the main All-America teams didn't throw anything his way. Rivals.com selected him as a second-team All-American and SI.com tabbed him with honorable mention status. He led the NCAA in field goals made from 50-plus yards with six (topping Ohio State's Mike Nugent, the Groza winner, who had five), and connected on 23-of-29 on the season (19-of-23 during the regular season, 4-of-6 in the bowl game). He led the Big 12 and was sixth in the nation in field goals made per game (1.77), and became just the 10th player in NCAA history to make a 60-yard or longer field goal without a tee when he nailed a 60-yarder against Iowa State, the longest in the nation in 2004. It was one of four field goals he had in CU's 19-14 win; in fact, he also had a 54-yard kick in that game, becoming the first CU player to make two of 50-plus yards in the same game. The Groza committee cited him as one of its Three Stars of the Week Award winner for his performance against the Cyclones, while he was the Colorado Chapter/NFF player of the week for the same. The five 50-plus yard kicks he made during the regular season, the first five of his career, set CU career and season marks. He scored 85 total points to lead the team, as he also had another 4-field goal game at Nebraska, and was a deadly weapon on kick-offs. Overall, he was third in the league and 34th in the nation in scoring (7.7 points per game), a number that ranked him first and sixth, respectively, in kick scoring in the Big 12 and NCAA. Including the bowl, of his 67 kickoffs, only 18 were returned (seven inside-the-20), with 48 going for touchbacks (30 through the end zone). The opponents average starting yardline after all his kicks was the 21, and just the 22 for the 18 returned. In the bowl win over Texas-El Paso, he made good on field goals from 26, 54, 37 and 20 yards with seven kickoffs going for touchbacks (with the eighth returned to just the 18). He was CU's special teams player of the week on four occasions, and the Big 12 Conference's for the Iowa State and Nebraska games. He won the Bill McCartney Award as the most outstanding special teams player as selected by the coaches for both the fall as well as for spring practice, and was one of just 10 players to earn his way on CU's prestigious Victory Club.

2003 (Fr.)—He set a Colorado record for the most points scored by a freshman with 52 (the old record of 48 was shared by two players). He was only the second true frosh to handle the placekicking chores in a CU season opener in school history, and only the fifth to see any action, period. The Big 12 Conference (and the CU coaches) honored him as the Special Teams Player of the Week for October 11, as he was 3-of-3 on PAT kicks, 3-of-3 on field goals (23, 41 and 23 yards, the latter coming with 0:14 on the clock to send the game into overtime) and kicked off for the first time collegiately, sending eight of nine kickoffs into the end zone for touchbacks (with the one that was returned going for just five yards to the Kansas 18). For the season, he made 7-of-9 field goals, as he was perfect from 44 yards in with his misses coming from 47 and 53 yards; he made 31-of-37 PAT kicks, with three of the misses coming on blocks. His long of 44 yards came in the season finale against Nebraska, while his first career make from 40 yards out against UCLA tied for the fifth longest for the first in a CU kicker's career in Buff history. He made the first five field goals of his career, one shy of the record for the most at the start of a CU career. He kicked off 37 times on the year, with 26 going for touch-downs with just 10 returned for an average starting field position for the opponent at its own 23.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned first-team all-district honors (13-5A) at placekicker, punter and free safety, and was All-Central Texas at kicker. PrepStar named him to its All-Midlands team, while Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 3 placekicker in the nation. He was first-team all-district and second-team all-region at kicker as a junior. As a senior, he converted 7-of-11 field goals (long of 59) and 23-of-25 extra point kicks; he owned a 39.8 average for 40 punts (61 long), with 10 inside-the-20 and five inside-the-5. He also kicked 60-plus yard field goals consistently in practice. At free safety, he had 78 tackles (26 solo), eight for losses, three interceptions, three passes broken up, three forced fumbles and two recoveries. As a junior, he made 8-of-10 field goals (52 long) and 17-of-20 PATs (all misses were blocked). He averaged 37 yards on 60 punts (64 long), with eight inside-the-20. He had 58 tackles (25 solo, 10 for losses), with three interceptions, four passes broken up, three hurries and two fumble recoveries. Top career games included a 30-20 loss to Copperas Cove as a junior, when he made three field goals (52, 46 and 39 yards) against a team that came in with five straight shutouts. In a 10-3 loss to Cedar Park his senior year, he made the longest field goal in Texas in eight years when he drilled a career-best 59-yarder; it tied him for the third longest in state history. He also had a 61-yard punt in the game. And in a 21-7 win over Round Rock as a senior, he had seven tackles and two interceptions, returning one for a touchdown and kicking the PAT following the score. Georgetown was 5-5 his senior year and 6-4 his junior season under coach Larry Moore. He also earned two letters in soccer (defense/midfielder), earning all-district honors as both a sophomore (14 goals) and junior (17 goals).

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in communication at Colorado. He was a consistent member of the "A-B" honor roll throughout high school (five out of six semesters).

PERSONAL—He was born September 3, 1984 in Lubbock, Texas. His hobbies include hunting (deer/exotic), fishing, hiking, basketball and golf (he owns a single-digit handicap). He spent two years in Fort Collins as a youngster, and attended several CU games during that time and became a Buff fan. Highlands Ranch, Colo.
(ThunderRidge)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—Enters the fall listed fourth at the outside "sam" linebacker position.

2005 (Jr.)—He saw action in all 13 games including the Champ Sports Bowl (no starts), all on special teams. He tied for fifth in special team points with six, as he had three tackles (one inside-the-20), a forced fumble and a wedge break.

2004 (Soph.)—He was to enter the fall listed third at outside linebacker, but he required knee surgery after he tore his ACL the first day of fall practice and went on to miss the entire season. He switched to outside linebacker from safety as the newly created position in CU's defensive scheme provided a challenge for him, and the need was there for depth. He responded well to the move, as he registered 10 tackles, including five solo, one for a loss and a third down stop in the three main spring scrimmages. He had five of those tackles in the spring game despite playing with a sprained elbow.

2003 (Fr.-RS)—He did not see any game action, but dressed for eight games in all. He practiced at safety the entire year.

2002 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced the entire fall with the team after joining the squad as a walk-on for August drills.

HIGH SCHOOL — As a senior, he earned Class 4A first-team all-state defensive honors at linebacker (The Denver Post), first-team All-Prairie League honors and academic all-state honorable mention accolades. In that contest, he recorded 17 tackles (all solo), with one sack, a pass broken up and two touchdown-saving tackles. He also had three forced fumbles, two recoveries and an interception. He recorded 95 tackles and five interceptions as a junior. ThunderRidge was 13-1 his senior season, winning the 4A state title, and was 8-3 his junior year under coach Joe Johnson; TRHS was 11-1 his sophomore season under coach Marty Heaton; his teams won league championships as a soph and junior. He posted the high single-game grade of the season by any O-lineman when he recorded an 88.2 percent mark against Oklahoma State. He also played every snap (53) on the field goal and PAT unit on special teams. MATT DiLALLO, P

6-1, 195, Fr., RS

Wellington, Fla. (Wellington)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS)—Enters the fall tied atop the depth chart at punter, with All-American placekicker Mason Crosby. But with Crosby also handling the kickoff chores, DiLallo could emerge as the top man with a solid August and lessen the load on him. He averaged 36.8 yards on nine punts in the major scrimmages, but had better numbers during daily sessions as the kickers were all affected by inconsistent long-snapping in the spring.

2005 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any action. Practiced the entire fall at punter, as he was tutored by one of the best in John Torp, who finished as the runner-up for the Ray Guy Award.

JORDON DIZON, ILB

6-0, 225, Jr., 2L

Waimea, Hawai'i (Waimea)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Jr.)—CU's starting inside "will" linebacker, he was named preseason first-team All-Big 12 for the second straight year by Street & Smith's (second-team by Athlon and third-team by Phil Steele's College Football). With 143 career tackles entering his junior season, he is poised to become the 100th player in school history to record at least 150 in a career.

2005 (Soph.)— He played in all 13 games including the Champs Sports Bowl (12 starts, he deferred to hometown senior Akarika Dawn in the Big 12 title game). There was no sophomore jinx for him in following up his tremendous freshman year as he earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors from the league coaches, as he tied for fifth on the team in tackles with 61 (42 solo) in 475 snaps from scrimmage. He had seven tackles for losses, including three quarterback sacks, along with five third down stops, four hurries, three quarterback chasedowns (near sacks) and a pass deflection. He had six tackles in five games, and had five stops in another five games; against Kansas and versus Texas in the Big 12 title game, he posted a season-best six solo stops. Against Missouri, he had five tackles, including a pair of quarterback sacks, and he was CU's defensive lineman of the week in the Kansas State game when he posted six total tackles and a sack. He had four tackles, all solo, against Clemson in the bowl game. On special teams, he had two tackles, one inside-the-20, for three points. In the preseason, Street & Smith's selected him as a first-team All-Big 12 Conference performer.

2004 (Fr.)—He enjoyed one of the finest seasons by a true freshman in school history, as he was CU's first true frosh to ever be recognized with the conference's Defensive Newcomer of the Year (Associated Press) and the Defensive Freshman of the Year (Big 12 Coaches) awards. The Sporting News and Rivals.com selected him as a second-team Freshman All-American, he earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors from the AP, and TSN also selected him to its Freshman All-Big 12 team. Dizon led all freshmen in the conference in tackles with 82 (51 solo), which also established a CU true freshman record as he bettered the old total by some 15 stops (it was the second most tackles posted by a frosh, red-shirt or true, missing a new mark by just four). He led the team in tackles from game one through game eight, eventually finishing third overall, easily the highest ever by a true freshman at CU (two others had previously finished seventh). He also had six tackles for loss, including one sack (against Texas), seven third down stops, four passes broken up, two touchdown saves, a forced fumble and one recovery. He had two big plays out of the gate, both of his touchdown saves: in the opener against Colorado State, he stuffed former Buff Marcus Houston at the 1-yard line on a second-and-goal run with less than 30 seconds remaining in a 27-24 Buff victory, and a week later at Washington State, he tackled quarterback Alex Brink at the 2, forcing a fumble that teammate Matt McChesney recovered with five seconds to go to preserve the 20-12 win. He had eight tackles in the opener (6 solo, along with a caused interception), and his 13 (9 solo) against WSU were the second most in a single-game by a CU true freshman. He had 10 stops (7 solo) against Texas and nine versus Missouri as he had at least four tackles in every game, five-plus in 10 games and six or more in eight contests. On special teams duty, he racked up seven points on the strength of four knockdown blocks on returns and two assisted tackles, one inside-the-20. When he reported to camp, the coaches had no idea what position he would play; they thought running back or safety would be his first home, but five days into drills after a trial at linebacker, it was evident that he was something special at the position. He would become the first true freshman to start a season opener at inside linebacker in school history, and he went on to start 11 games including the Houston Bowl (he played in all 13), tied for the most starts ever by a true freshman at Colorado. In the bowl win over UTEP, he had three solo tackles and a fumble recovery, the latter coming on the Miner's first possession of the second half and led to a CU field goal. He won the Lee Willard Award, presented by the coaches, as the team's most outstanding freshman, only the third inside linebacker to ever win the honor.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he was a Prep Football Report and PrepStar All-West regional team member, earning second-team all-state and Kauai Interscholastic Federation (KIF) All-Star honors. PFR ranked him as the No. 65 player in the region and the third ranked running back, calling him "potentially the top fullback on the west coast," while Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 8 running back prospect nationally. He earned second-team all-state honors both as a sophomore and junior, when he was also selected as the KIF most valuable player. He was injured most of the regular season his senior year, rushing once for a 12 yard touchdown run but catching nine passes for 250 yards and three scores in just over two games (he played in four preseason games and rushed for about 600 yards). As a junior, he rushed 150 times for 1,157 yards and 13 touchdowns, with a long of 84, while catching 15 passes for 175 yards. He started at linebacker on defense and was in on 75 tackles. He also handled some of the punting chores in high school, and in the state semifinal as a junior, he pinned four punts inside-the-10 yardline. Top games: in a 55-0 win over Kapaa as a junior, he rushed for 37 times for 376 yards and five touchdowns; in a 42-35 win over Hawaii Prep Academy as a senior, he had 40 rushes for 315 yards and five scores; and in a win over Woodbridge his senior year, he had 33 carries for 275 yards and four TDs. Waimea was 6-2 his senior year and 6-1 his junior and sophomore seasons under coach Liko Pereira (not including preseason games), losing in the state semifinals all three seasons. He also lettered four times in basketball (forward), was a three-time Player of the Year/Island (KIF), as well as a three-time honorable mention all-state performer. He also lettered three times in track (sprints, the 100-meter KIF champion as a junior), and once in soccer.

He helped block for the Texas player of the year, quarterback Greg McElroy, as Southlake dominated most opponents on the line of scrimmage. He started four games from scrimmage as a junior, but over the course of his 32 games on the varsity, he snapped every extra point attempt, field goal and punt with just one bad snap out of well over 100. As a senior, his top production games, a combination of individual game grades and offensive team goals achieved, came against Katy in the state title game, versus Irving MacArthur in the second round of the playoffs, and in a regular season battle of unbeaten against Colleyville Heritage. Under coach Todd Dodge, Southlake posted back-to-back 16-0 records in his two years on the varsity, claiming the Texas 5A state championship both years (in addition to being named the mythical national champions both seasons by USA Today). KEVIN EBERHART, PK

Broomfield, Colo. (Broomfield)

AT COLORADO—This Season (Jr.)—He missed most of spring drills after straining a quad muscle in an early practice.

2005 (Soph.-RS)—He did not see any game action, though was listed second on the depth chart behind consensus All-American Mason Crosby. He was 100 percent for the season after he missed spring practice with a knee injury, one that required arthroscopic surgery in mid-April.

2004 (Soph.)—Redshirted; did not see any action. He nursed a couple of injuries over the course of the season and it was decided to save a year of eligibility. He batted 1.000 so-to-speak in the three main spring scrimmages, making all four PAT kicks as well as all three field goal tries, including a spring-best 52 yards by all the kickers.

2003 (Fr.)—He saw action in five games, becoming just the third place-kicker in CU history to play as a true freshman (he kicked off to start the season opener; fellow frosh Mason Crosby didn't play until CU's first PAT attempt). He was CU's regular kickoff man the first half of the season, as he had 24 kickoffs, nine going for touchbacks (four through the end zone); the average starting yardline for the opponent was the 26, inflated by over three yards due to one touchdown return. He made his only PAT kick on the season (against Washington State), but missed on his lone two field goal attempts (22 and 42 yards at Florida State, both missing just wide right). He was CU's special teams player of the week for the UCLA game, as he kicked off four times, three for touchbacks (two through the end zone), with the one that was returned taken only to the 10-yard line. He graduated from high school in December '02, and chose to enroll at CU for the spring semester. He participated in spring drills, making 2-of-3 field goals (25, 31 yards) in the three main scrimmages.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned first-team All-Colorado (Denver Post, Rocky Mountain News), all-state (4A), all-region (Boulder Camera) and All-Skyline League honors. Prep Football Report and SuperPrep both named him to their All-Midland teams (the top placekicker regionally in both; PFR also called him one of the nation's top punters), while Rivals.com rated him as the No. 24 kicker in the nation. He was a second-team all-league performer at his scrimmage positions, receiver and strong safety. He was also all-state and all-league at both kicker and punter as a sophomore and junior. He finished his career as Colorado's all-time state leader in points by kicking (255) and field goals made (36), along with tying the record for the most career extra points made (147). As a senior, he made 10-of-15 field goals, including a 57-yard kick against Monarch that was the sixth longest in Colorado prep history. He also converted 28-of-29 PAT kicks, and owned a 43.6 average on 30 punts. He not only handled the placekicking and punting chores, but played receiver on offense (15 catches for 60 yards and a TD) and strong safety on defense (98 tackles, 66 solo, with 12 for losses and four sacks; he also had three passes broken up, three hurries and two forced fumbles). As a junior, he made 7-of-12 field goals (55 long) along with 61-of-67 PAT kicks. He was in on 50 tackles on defense (30 solo), with two pass deflections. One of just a handful of players in state history to make two field goals of 50-yards or longer in the same season, his top career game came against Monarch as a senior when he nailed the 57-yard three-pointer; he was in on 23 tackles (18 solo), with a forced fumble, one PBU and a second field goal from 35 yards out. A 32-yard field goal against Monarch his sophomore year gave Broomfield a two-point win and clinched the Skyline title. Broomfield was 8-3 his senior year, 13-1 his junior season (league champs, state runner-up) and 10-3 his sophomore year (league titleists) under coach Gary Davies. He also played basketball as a freshman.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in aerospace engineering at Colorado (wants to work for NASA or Ball Aerospace as an engineer after graduation). He made the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll his first semester in college (spring 2003). A consistent member of the "A" honor roll throughout high school (3.733 grade point), he was one of 11 scholar-athletes in Colorado for 2002 as selected by the Colorado Chapter National Football Foundation/College Hall of Fame.

2005 (Jr.)—He played in all 13 games, starting 12 including the Champs Sports Bowl (he did not start against Texas in the Big 12 title game), as a solid camp propelled him into the starting role at safety where he would earn honorable mention all-Big 12 honors from the league coaches. He finished third on the team in tackles with 78 (63 solo, two for losses), as he tied for second on the team with 13 third down stops. He had a “monster” game against WSU, as he also posted five tackles (four solo) and two third down stops as the coaches rewarded him with both the defensive back and special team player of the week awards. But he is in the mix, as he has patiently waited for his chance to play Division I-A football and has overcome many trials and tribulations to get to this point. He had several spectacular runs in the spring, including a dazzling 25-yard touchdown jaunt in the second major scrimmage.

2005 (Jr.)—Originally thought to be eligible by CU compliance officials, a second review of his situation initiated by the coaches prompted a reversal under the NCAA's one year-in-residency rule and thus was ruled ineligible late in fall camp. He had turned heads in practice and ascended as high as third on the depth chart at one point. But Holliday stuck things out and was a key scout team performer over the course of the fall, and earned the Scout Team Offense Award for his practice efforts leading up to the Nebraska game. He joined the team as a walk-on for August drills.

OTHER YEARS—He was enrolled at Wayne State (Neb.) the entire 2002-03 academic year, as well as the spring of 2003; he lettered twice at fullback. The last player to serve as holder for as many as three seasons was almost 20 years ago, when All-America punter Barry Helton handled the chore between 1985-87.

He was one of just nine players to earn prestigious CU Victory Club honors as selected by the coaching staff, and was the Scout Team Offense Award on two occasions, for the Colorado State and the first Texas games.

2004 (Soph.)—He played in all 13 games, including the Houston Bowl, on special teams and in one on offense, as he was the first-team holder the entire season. In playing 53 snaps on the FG/PAT team and earning his first letter, he corralled a wayward snap several times and got it in place for Mason Crosby to boot through (he was the holder for the nation's longest field goal, 60 yards, by Crosby versus Iowa State). He also saw action on other special team units, and posted three knock-down blocks on return duty. He was one of only 10 players to earn his way on CU's prestigious Victory Club, as he had a winning production grade in at least eight games on the year. He had an active spring and hauled down five passes for 73 yards in the three main scrimmages.

2003 (Fr.-RS)—He did not see any action, but dressed for eight games. He was the backup holder for a couple of games due to injuries.

Bakersfield, Calif. (Bakersfield)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—He is on schedule for a 100 percent return from a nasty knee injury, and was able to participate in spring drills on a limited, non-contact basis. If he can come all the way back following the surgery, he will again be one of the top receivers in the Big 12 Conference.

2005 (Jr.)—He missed the entire season after suffering a completely torn ACL when tackled in what was a non-contact practice, just the third session of fall camp before the team even donned pads. He had surgery on August 16 and was lost for the season. He was the co-starter at the “x” receiver position at the time, and was looking to have a big year after coming on at the end of his sophomore season. He ran the second fastest 40-yard dash time on the team (4.38) in spring conditioning tests.

2004 (Soph.)—He enjoyed a breakout season, especially over the last eight games. He was fifth on the team in receptions, as he caught 26 passes for a team-high 417 yards, 16.0 per catch, with one touchdown. He had another top outing at Nebraska in his first career start, catching eight balls for 116 yards, including his first career TD, a 6-yard pass from Joel Klatt that opened the scoring in the contest. He averaged 18.5 yards on 11 first down receptions, earning nine first downs in the process, and caught nine balls on third down, six of which earned first downs (his TD grab was also on a third down play). He had 19 plays of 10 yards or longer, third most on the team (Bobby Purify had 35 and Lawrence Vickers 21), though 68 percent of his touches went for double figures, the best ratio on the team. In the bowl win over UTEP, he caught two passes for 32 yards. He was starting to shine in practice when a shin injury knocked him for the last two weeks of spring drills; he did catch a 16-yard touchdown pass in the first full scrimmage.

2003 (Fr.-RS)—He was injured most of the season, as he was finally healthy enough to play in the final two games of the season (though he did not catch any passes). As a junior, he started at right tackle and was named first-team all-state, all-county, all-area and all-district. He finished with 84 pancakes and two sacks allowed in helping the spread (passing) offense average almost 350 yards per game. As a sophomore, he played right guard and recorded 33 pancake blocks while allowing no sacks on the year; he graded out perfectly in six games that season. His career total of 219 pancake blocks set a district record. Top career games include 26 pancake blocks against Louisville as a senior in a 45-7 win, and as a junior, in a 34-14 win over Naaman Forest, when he had 17 pancake blocks. Under coach Mike Hughes, Plano West was 6-4 his senior year, 10-2 his junior year, beating DeSoto and losing in the second round of the playoffs, and 7-3 his sophomore year. He also wrestled as a freshman, but discontinued the sport after he got too big.

ACADEMICS—He is interested in business as his major at Colorado. He owned a 3.2 grade point average in high school and had many advanced classes, including Honors English.

A grandfather (Lou Palazzi) played center for Penn State in the mid-1940s and went on to play in the NFL for the New York Giants (1946-47) and then served as a referee for 30 years in the league. Simon had a summer job building signs for former Nebraska and Dallas Cowboys defensive tackle John Dutton. If the NFL is not an option after college, he hopes to be an entrepreneur in the executive marketing field. He may still be growing, as he's grown three inches and has added 35 pounds to his frame since his sophomore year. Recruited as Wes Simon, he took his mother's maiden name prior to coming to CU.

Under coach Angelo Jackson, Compton was 7-3 his sophomore year and 6-4 his freshman season.

HIGH SCHOOL—His family moved to California from Texas prior to his senior year, thus playing one year in the CIF system. As a senior, he earned first-team all-CIF and all-Suburban League honors, and was named to the Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best in the West team when he rushed 134 times for 1,207 yards and 22 touchdowns (9.0 average). He is a close friend with USC running backs Reggie Bush and LenDale White, and played against former Buff Lawrence Vickers when both were prep stars in Texas. He goes by the nickname "T.P."—as in his initials.

TYLER POLUMBUS, OT

6-8, 295, Jr., 2L

Englewood, Colo. (Cherry Creek)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Jr.)—He missed spring drills, as he was under going rehabilitation following surgery on January 10 to relieve a chronic shoulder condition. His rehab was going well in the early summer and he was expected to be 100 percent for fall camp. He should contend for starting honors at right tackle. He's also added 15 pounds to his frame from his playing weight as a sophomore.

2005 (Soph.)—He played in all 13 games, including starts in the first two (Colorado State, New Mexico State) and the Champs Sports Bowl. He was hampered in the middle of the year a bit due to an ankle sprain. In the regular season, he played 311 snaps from scrimmage, along with another 56 on the field goal/PAT unit on special teams, grading out as the third best lineman on the team with a 2.57 average on a 0-4 point per play system. He did not allow a quarterback sack, allowed a team low three pressures, and was called for just two penalties in racking up 12 knock-down blocks and six "Perfect 4" plays. His best game grade was 2.77 versus Missouri. He had a solid spring, despite battling a chronic shoulder injury on which he had surgery to repair following spring practice.

2004 (Fr.-RS)—He saw action in three games on offense and in 10 overall counting his participation on the field goal/PAT unit on special teams. He had 21 plays from scrimmage on offense, earning a season grade of 86.7 percent as he racked up 18 plus plays. He had one knockdown block with a high game grade of 88.9 against North Texas. He played 29 additional snaps on special teams.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned SuperPrep All-American and all-Midlands honors, while Prep Football Report and PrepStar named him to their first-team all-Midlands squads. PrepStar also named him to its pre-season all-Midlands team. SuperPrep tabbed him the No. 42 offensive lineman in the country (the No. 30 overall player in the Midlands), with Prep Football Report selecting him as the No. 16 player in the Midlands (the fifth offensive lineman). Rivals.com selected him as the No. 58 tackle in the nation (and the No. 6 player in Colorado.) He was named first-team All-Colorado and all-state (5A) by the Denver Post, as he also garnered all-state second team honors from the Rocky Mountain News. He also received first-team all-Centennial League honors on his way to being voted his team's most inspirational player. As a junior, he earned second-team all-state honors (Rocky Mountain News) and first-team all-league accolades. As a senior, he blocked for a 1,200-yard rusher, as he allowed no sacks, just four pressures and racked up 78 domination blocks and 12 touchdown blocks. As a junior, he plowed the way for a pair of 1,000-yard rushers, as he recorded 75 domination blocks, 14 touchdown blocks, and allowed only one sack. He had 55 domination and eight touchdown blocks as a sophomore, allowing just three sacks. 1

STEPHONE ROBINSON, WR

5-9, 185, Jr., 2L

Denver, Colo. (Mullen)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Jr.)—Enters the fall tied atop the depth chart at the "z" receiver position, and is CU's top return man for both punts and kickoffs. He was selected a preseason honorable mention All-American by Nationalchamps.net, with CBS SportsLine.com naming him to its first-team All-Big 12 squad (he was a second-team choice by Athlon and The Sporting News, the latter ranking him as the No. 9 return specialist in the nation). He enters his junior season already ranked 11th all-time at Colorado in punt return yards (517) and sixth in punt returns (60).

2005 (Soph.)—He played in all 13 games including the Champs Sports Bowl, in every one on special teams and in seven on offense, as he moved from cornerback back to wide receiver in practice prior to the Miami game in a move designed to get a little more speed at the position. He earned second-team all-Big 12 honors from the league coaches at kick returner, as they had more appreciation for what he did in the return game than the casual observer. While his punt return average was 9.9 yards for 25 returns, and he did return one 81 yards against Kansas for a touchdown, the Buffs called the unit the "punt block" team and seldom set up for a return, leaving him to often fend for himself along with those times when he would snare a ball in traffic rather than letting it hit and bounce, salvaging better field position. He also returned 18 kickoffs for an 18.2 average, ran three reverses for 35 yards and caught six passes for 61 yards (the bulk of those came against Missouri, when he caught five for 50 yards). In the bowl game versus Clemson, he returned two punts for 20 yards and three kickoffs for 44 yards, including a 25-yard effort that was CU's second longest play of the game (all phases). He was CU's special teams player of the week on two occasions, versus New Mexico State and Kansas, also being selected as CU's athlete of the week for all sports for the latter, when he had 124 total yards on just three returns. He also earned honorable mention All-Colorado team honors at kick returner from the state's chapter of the National Football Foundation.

2004 (Fr.-RS)—He earned second-team all-Big 12 honors at kick return specialist from the league coaches, as he was eighth in the conference in punt returns and 10th in kickoff returns. He played in all 13 games on special teams and in two on defense (seven snaps, recording a solo tackle and a pass deflection). He returned 35 punts for 269 yards for a 7.7 average and a touchdown; however, the average was misleading as he often caught balls in traffic without signaling for a fair catch just so he could pickup even a single yard to help with field position (14 of his returns were in this fashion for a net 13 yards; he averaged 12.2 yards on the other 21 returns). The 35 returns were the third most punt returns for a single-season in school history and the most since 1992. He also had 15 kickoff returns for 269 yards (a 17.9 average) with a long of 27. He tied for sixth in special team points with eight on the strength of three solo tackles, two fumble recoveries, a forced fumble, a touchdown save and a first downfield credit. He was the Big 12 Special Teams Player of the Week (as well as CU's) for the Kansas game, when he had 98 return yards, including his first career punt return for a touchdown; his 48-yard sprint for a score put CU ahead for good late in the third quarter in the 30-21 win. He had two returns (for 2 yards) in the bowl win over UTEP. He moved from wide receiver to cornerback during fall camp to bolster the depth in the secondary. He missed most of spring practice after suffering a hamstring pull the third day of drills.

2003 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced all season at wide receiver and returned kicks on scout team duty. He was the Scout Team Offense Award winner for the Kansas State game.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned all-Midlands honors from PrepStar, Prep Football Report and SuperPrep, as PFR ranked him as the No. 18 player in the region (the second receiver), and SuperPrep tabbing him No. 36 regionally (and as the third WR). Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 27 receiver in the nation, and called him “arguably the top prospect in Colorado.” He also garnered all-Colorado (all classes) and all-state (5A) honors from both the Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News. A two-time first-team all-Centennial League pick, he was also first team all-Colorado and all-state as a junior. A four-year starter at wide receiver, as a senior, he caught 35 passes for 896 yards and eight scores, averaging 25.6 yards per catch, and including his kick return yardage, he accounted for over 1,600 all-purpose yards despite missing the better part of four games with a sprained ankle. As a junior, he led the state in receiving with 73 catches for 1,230 yards and 10 touchdowns, while returning four kicks (two punts, two kickoffs) for touchdowns. He averaged over 18 yards per punt return and 30-plus yards on kickoff returns. He caught 20 passes his sophomore year, six for scores, and he had 19 receptions as a freshman. He saw some brief time on defense as a junior (safety/cornerback), making around 25 tackles in four games. Mullen posted a 40-11 record during his time there; the Mustangs were 10-2 his senior year and 9-4 his junior season under coach Jay Madden, and were 11-2 his sophomore year (reaching the state semis) and 10-3 his freshman year under Mick McCall. He also lettered two years in basketball (guard) and twice in track (sprints and relays).

ACADEMICS—He is earning a double major in business and sociology at Colorado. He was a member of the French Honor Society in high school, when he owned a 3.57 grade point average and was one of 11 statewide honorees to receive the prestigious National Football Foundation/College Football Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete Award.

PERSONAL—He was born December 31, 1984 in Denver. His hobbies include playing basketball, listening to music and lifting weights. An uncle (Thadus Swazer) played college football, starting out at Colorado in 1992 and finishing up at Kansas State. (First name is pronounced “steph-on.”)

DANIEL SANDERS, OG

6-3, 310, Soph., 1L
Vista, Calif. (El Camino)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall listed first at right offensive guard, as he had a fine spring and could be emerging as one of CU's next great offensive linemen. He has bulked up some 20 pounds over his playing weight of 285-290 as a redshirt frosh.

2005 (Fr.-RS)—He played in 10 games, including four starts, missing two games with a partially torn hamstring in the middle of the year (Texas, Kansas). He also missed the Champs Sports Bowl against Clemson due to a severe knee sprain he suffered December 16 in bowl practices; the same injury hampered him a bit late in the year but he played through it. The Sporting News selected him to its Freshman All-Big 12 team. He played in nine games on offense, seeing action for 420 snaps, along with another 46 snaps on the field goal/PAT unit on special teams. He graded out to 2.49 for the season on a 0-4 point per play scale, with a high game grade of 2.74 versus Missouri. In getting his feet wet so-to-speak collegiately, he had two knockdown blocks, two touchdown blocks (tying for the team lead), he allowed five pressures and three sacks and was called for one penalty.

2004 (Fr.)—Redshirted; he did not see any action but practiced as an offensive lineman the entire fall. He was the Scout Team Offense Award winner for the Texas A&M game as selected by the coaching staff.

HIGH SCHOOL—A three-year letterman, he played all three positions on the offensive line during his prep career. He played both guard and center as a senior, when he led his team with 112 pancake blocks, as well as in cut blocks and big hits by an offensive lineman. He did not allow a quarterback sack, and the only penalty he was called for was an illegal procedure for rolling the ball over to grab the laces to snap it. As a junior, he played tackle in starting the five games he played in, but he missed seven others with a broken bone in his foot. He played guard as a sophomore, ascending into the starting lineup for the last three games of the year. Top games his senior year came in a 31-24 win over Valley Center, when he had 15 pancakes and three touchdown blocks in helping his team rush for 430 yards, and in a 29-28 loss to Carlsbad, when he switched off between center and guard the entire game in piling up 14 pancakes. El Camino was 3-7 his senior year, 6-6 his junior season and 7-4 his sophomore campaign under coach Herb Meyer. He lettered four times in track, participating in throws (career best of 50-1 in the shot put and 130-0 in the discus). He was seventh in the CIF meet in the shot put as a junior.

ACADEMICS—He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but interested in business management. A two-time member of the San Diego Union-Tribune All-Academic team as a junior and senior as well as a consistent member of the honor roll in high school with a 3.21 grade point average.

PERSONAL—He was born February 3, 1986 in Oceanside, Calif. Hobbies include playing basketball, working out and going to the beach. A cousin (Kurt Rubin) played football at Cal-Poly San Luis Obispo.

2005 (Soph.)—He saw action in 10 games (the first 10 of the season), mainly on special teams, though he did scrimmage action for 26 plays. He was in on one solo tackle, with a third down stop and a pass deflection, the latter of which caused an interception in the Kansas game. On special teams duty, he had two unassisted tackles and a knockdown block for a total of three special team points. He had a good spring, with eight tackles (three for losses) and a fumble recovery in the three full scrimmages. He ran the fifth fastest 40-yard dash time on the team (4.52) in spring conditioning tests.

2004 (Fr.-RS)—He played in all 13 games including the Houston Bowl (no starts), seven on defense and in all on special teams. In 74 snaps from scrimmage, he had nine tackles (five solo, one for a loss) and an interception, one of the biggest plays of the year for the Buffs. Subbing for a nicked up Brian Iwuh, he played 36 snaps at Washington State, where with 10 minutes left and CU ahead 10-6, he made his first career interception and returned it 51 yards for a touchdown, what proved to be the winning points in CU's 20-12 victory. He was one of five finalists on Sept. 11 for the ESPN/Pontiac Game Changing Play of the Week for his interception and ensuing TD return. He also had three tackles in that game, and matched that total the following week against North Texas. He didn't post any stats in the bowl game, seeing mostly special teams duty in the win over UTEP. He switched to the outside from the inside during fall camp, after entering August drills as a mike 'backer. He moved from tight end to inside linebacker about midway into spring drills, and impressed the coaches enough to where the switch was made permanent. In two scrimmages on defense, he had six tackles (three solo), a fumble recovery and an interception, the latter coming in the spring game.

2003 (Fr.)—He was projected as a tight end in his true freshman year in college, but shoulder surgery prevented him from taking the practice field the entire fall. He was injured in the practices leading up to the Tennessee-Kentucky All-Star game, and underwent shoulder surgery in July.

HIGH SCHOOL—A standout at both tight end and linebacker, lettering four times during his career. As a senior, he earned PrepStar All-Southeast honors at tight end and was tabbed the No. 5 player in Tennessee, while Rivals.com ranked him the No. 34 tight end in the country. He was selected as the Nashville Tennessean's player of the year in Tennessee, also claiming the defensive player of the year honor and was a finalist for the class 4A Mr. Football Award. He was named to the all-state, all-Midstate, all-region (11-4A) and first-team all-city at both tight end and linebacker. One of Hillsboro's captains, he was also selected defensive MVP for his region, city and team, and was invited to play in the summer 2003 Tennessee-Kentucky All-Star game. His junior year, he was also all-state, all-Midstate, all-region and all-city first-teams at both positions, and he garnered all-region and all-city honorable mention honors during his sophomore year. As a senior, he caught 25 passes for 480 yards and seven touchdowns. Under coach Ron Aydelott, Hillsboro compiled an impressive 50-6 record during his career, as it won its region all four years. 45

CHARLIE SHERMAN III, WR
 6-1, 195, Soph., VR
 Sacramento, Calif. (Foothill)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—He missed most of spring drills due to a chronic ankle condition, one that required surgery, which went well. He was out of a cast in early July with designs on being ready for fall practices.

2005 (Fr.-RS)—He did not see any game action, but dressed for seven games including the Champs Sports Bowl. He was moved to wide receiver in fall practices (from safety), where he practiced most of the fall when he wasn't working as a scout team quarterback due to his versatility. He was the Scout Team Offense Award winner for the Missouri game (impersonating Tiger quarterback Brad Smith for the second straight year). He had a good spring, with four tackles, two passes broken up and a forced fumble in the three full scrimmages.

2004 (Fr.)—Redshirted; he did not see any action but practiced most of the fall at safety unless shifted around for scout team purposes. VANCE WASHINGTON, CB

5-10, 180, Sr., 2L

Friendswood, Texas (Clear Brook)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—He missed almost all of spring drills after suffering a torn ACL in the opening week of practices; he had surgery on April 14 but was making a remarkable recovery as of press time. He was jogging by early July and is expected to be 100 percent by the start of the season.

2005 (Jr.)—He saw action in 12 games including the Champs Sports Bowl (did not play at Texas in the regular season). He had entered the season listed second at cornerback, but underwent arthroscopic surgery on a shoulder July 21; upon his return, he had a trial at wide receiver and impressed the coaches to the point where he was moved there on August 18 (changing jersey numbers from 7 to 21 in the process). He ran a reverse for 14 yards in the opener against Colorado State, but did not see much action at receiver and returned to defense midway through the season. He saw plenty of action on special teams, racking up six points with a tackle inside-the-20, a forced fumble and three downed punts inside-the-20. The forced fumble came in the final minute of play with the score tied at 20 at Kansas State, setting the stage for Mason Crosby's game winning field goal. In the bowl game against Clemson, he partially blocked the Tigers first punt of the game early in the first quarter. In the spring, he was the runner-up in the team's strength and conditioning competition for the "Speed" group (RB, DB, WR, QB, K/P), as he owned a team-best 40.5 in the vertical jump and the third fastest 40-yard dash time on the team (4.45).

2004 (Soph.-RS)—He was granted a medical redshirt for the season as he underwent shoulder surgery in late August and missed the entire season. He figured to be in the regular rotation as he was one of just two players on the roster with any Division I experience at the position, albeit minimal (19 snaps). He had a solid spring, with nine tackles (eight solo), four pass deflections, three third down stops and a quarterback sack in the three main scrimmages.

2003 (Soph.)—He saw action in all 12 games on special teams and in one on defense: he recorded one solo tackles in 19 snaps at cornerback against Iowa State. He tied for fourth on the team in special team points with seven, on the strength of three four tackles (three solo), a fumble recovery, a knockdown block and a blocked kick. That block was important, as it was an extra point with 8:55 left in the fourth quarter against Kansas; it left the score at 44-38 in favor of the Jayhawks and CU was able to tie the game with two field goals and send it into overtime.

He missed spring practice recovering from a shoulder subluxation, which he suffered in a January car accident.

2002 (Fr.)—He saw action in 12 games, including the Alamo Bowl (no starts), with all the action coming on special teams.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned Super Prep All-Southwest honors, with Rivals.com ranking him as the No. 35 cornerback in the nation. He also earned all-district (24-5A) honors and was invited to play in two unique high school all-star games, in Europe and Australia. He was a second-team all-district selection at running back as a junior. As a senior, he was in on 80 tackles (40 solo), with two for losses, two passes broken up, two recoveries and two forced fumbles. On offense, he caught 27 passes for 200 yards, rushed one time for a 20-yard touchdown, and owned gaudy averages for kickoff (50.0) and punt (34.0) returns. As a junior, he gained over 1,000 yards on just 82 carries, scoring 10 times with a long run of 85. He didn't play much defense as a junior, but as a sophomore, he was in 15 tackles and had 10 pass deflections and three interceptions playing corner. One of his top games was a 42-13 win over Beaumont Westbrook as a junior, when he rushed 15 times for 187 yards and four touchdowns. Clear Brook was 0-10 his senior year, 6-4 his junior season and 8-2 his sophomore campaign under coach James Smith. He also lettered four times in track, participating in sprints and relays (owned prep bests of 10.27 in the 100 and 21.01 in the 200, placing third in the state in the latter in 2001).

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in sociology at Colorado. An honor roll student in high school, he has consistently maintained a 3.5 grade point average as a prep.

TERRENCE WHEATLEY, CB

5-10, 180, Jr., 2L

Richardson, Texas (Plano East)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Jr.)—He is back at 100 percent, as he has overcome three different wrist surgeries; some thought his career could be over but he worked hard in rehabilitation and could emerge as one of the top defensive backs in the conference. He participated at full speed in spring drills, with two interceptions (one for a 47-yard touchdown) in full scrimmage action. He should battle for starting honors at cornerback, and should also figure in returning kicks; Phil Steele's College Football acknowledged his talents from two years ago and named him as its preseason first-team All-Big 12 kick returner.

2005 (Jr.-RS)—He missed all of spring drills following wrist surgery in February, but his chronic problems continued and underwent additional surgery in August, forcing him to miss the entire season. He had a redshirt year available so he did not lose a year of eligibility. He had garnered some preseason All-Big 12 honors at both cornerback (third-team from Phil Steele's College Football) as well as kickoff return specialist (second-team from Huskers Illustrated and third-team from Athlon).

2004 (Soph.)—He played in all 13 games, and started the last five including the Houston Bowl, as he was finally 100 percent back from a couple of nagging injuries (wrist, groin and hamstring, the latter two suffered during two-a-days). He played 535 snaps from scrimmage in posting 33 tackles (27 solo), with five third down stops and three passes broken up. He was second on the team in interceptions with four, making all over the last five games of the regular season (he ranked seventh in the Big 12 and 51st in the NCAA in picks). The first of his career he made memorable, as he returned it 37 yards for a touchdown against Texas, becoming the 12th Buffalo since 1992 to return his first pick for a score. He also had four tackles in that game (all solo), one of six occasions he had four or more in a game. He had six (each unassisted) in the win over Kansas State, and also had six (five solo) with a pick in the victory at Kansas. The coaching staff twice honored him as CU's defensive back of the week (for the Texas and Kansas games). On special teams, he was a dangerous return man, as he averaged 22.0 yards for 19 kickoff returns, including a 59-yard effort against Washington State and 43-yarder in the bowl against UTEP; he was fourth in the Big 12 and 53rd in the NCAA. He also earned six special team points on the strength of three tackles (one inside-the-20), a downed punt and a knockdown block. In the bowl win, he had four tackles, four pass deflections (a CU bowl record) and a third down stop. He missed most of spring practice after suffering a dislocated wrist on the third day of April work and was lost for the remainder of the spring; the cast came off in mid-June but was not really fully recovered until after the season started. He was the fastest player on the team in the spring conditioning tests, as he runs the 40-yard dash in 4.38.

2003 (Fr.)—He saw action in all 12 games on special teams and in six defensively, including two starts (against Baylor and Kansas State). He played 268 snaps at cornerback, registering 24 tackles (19 solo), five pass deflections and two touchdown saves. His first start against Baylor was historical as with the other starting cornerback being redshirt frosh Sammy Joseph, it marked the first time in CU history that a pair of freshmen started at the position in the same game (not to mention two starting at least one game in the same season). He posted his season high with eight tackles (six solo) against the Bears, and he also had five tackles (all solo) with two pass deflections at Kansas State. He tied for fourth in special team points with seven, on the strength of five tackles, one inside-the-20, and a downed punt.

2005 (Soph.)—He saw action in just one regular season game, basically mop-up duty against Texas A&M where he took just four snaps, one being a kneel-down to end the game. He completed all three passes on that first possession, the last a 2-yard touchdown throw to tight end Quinn Sypniewski, rallying CU to within 13-10 at the time. He finished the game 7-of-12 for 81 yards with the one score (and no interceptions). He missed all of spring practice after undergoing surgery for an injured wrist, which he suffered in the weight room spotting for a teammate, but was back to 100 percent come August drills.

2005 IN-REVIEW

COLORADO 31 COLORADO STATE 28

Game One; September 3, 2005

BOULDER — It is always said that things often come in threes, and that is certainly the case with the CU-Colorado State football series.

For the third straight year, the outcome wasn't known until the final play of the game, and for the Buffaloes, all three times have been charms as this time CU rallied from an 11-point fourth quarter deficit to topple the Rams, 31-28, before a record Folsom Field crowd of 54,972.

Mason Crosby, arguably America's best kicker, drilled a 47-yard field goal with four seconds remaining to provide the winning points; that kick came just 148 seconds after he made a 48-yard kick that tied the game at 21. In-between, there were plenty of fireworks that amounted to a classic shootout between in-state rivals.

After Crosby's tying kick, the Rams took over at their own 20. On second-and-10, Justin Holland was flushed to his left and pressured by Alex Ligon to throw on the run, where downfield Gerett Burl picked off his pass at the CSU 37 and returned it 14 yards. On CU's very first offensive play, Hugh Charles put a couple of nifty moves on the Ram defense and went 23 yards for the go-ahead touchdown with just 1:30 left.

But Holland, being the competitor that he is, would not be denied, as he marched his team 80 yards in eight plays and in just 54 seconds to tie the game at 28. In completing six passes on the drive (for all 80 yards), he used throws of 23 and 22 yards to David Anderson to pick up real estate in chunks before finding Kory Sperry in the end zone with a 9-yard scoring toss with only 36 seconds remaining.

CSU opted to squib kick the ensuing kickoff, but the plan backfired to a degree thanks to Stephone Robinson's muffing the football. As he scooted over to pickup the ball, many on the coverage team were now out of position, enabling him to break free for a 30-yard return to the Buff 40. Joel Klatt hit Patrick Williams with a 22-yard pass on the first play from scrimmage, and after an incomplection, he found Dusty Sprague on the right side for eight more to set Crosby up for his winning kick from the Ram 30.

CSU had built its lead to 21-10 after Holland threw a 1-yard touchdown pass, via defender tip, to Matt Bartz with 5:04 left in the third quarter.

CSU got on the board first on a 1-yard touchdown run by Jimmy Green after the Rams recovered a Dusty Sprague fumble at the Buff 28. CU scored the next 10 points on a 32-yard Crosby field goal and a 1-yard run by Lawrence Vickers on a fourth-and-goal play to cap off an 11-play, 73-yard drive. CSU took a 14-10 halftime lead when Holland and Anderson hooked up on a 1-yard TD pass with 33 seconds left before intermission.

The Buffs held the Rams to just 95 yards rushing, the sixth time in the last 10 games CSU failed to reach 100 against CU. Colorado had a slight edge in total offense by 396-386, but saw 90 additional yards and a touchdown called back due to six offensive penalties.

NOTES—The previous Folsom Field top crowd of 54,954 had been set at the 2004 game between the two... Charles became just the 14th player in school history to run for 100 or more yards in his first start at running back... CU's four interceptions were the most in a season opener since stealing four against Texas in 1993... This was the eighth fourth quarter comeback to either win a game or send it into overtime engineered by quarterback Joel Klatt... The 89-degree temperature at kickoff made it the sixth warmest in CU history (the third warmest in Boulder)... The last four games in the series have been decided by a total of 18 points.

COLORADO 39 NEW MEXICO STATE 0

Game Two; September 10, 2005

BOULDER — Lawrence Vickers scored three touchdowns and the Colorado defense posted its first shutout since 2002 as the Buffaloes improved to 2-0 on the season with a 39-0 win over New Mexico State.

Joel Klatt passed for 186 yards and two touchdowns, joining Kordell Stewart and Koy Detmer as the only Colorado players with 5,000 career passing yards while also jumping past Stewart with the most career completions in a CU uniform.

New Mexico State's defense kept the Aggies in the contest, as the Buffs didn't put the game away until logging back-to-back touchdown drives to open the third quarter to add to their 22-0 halftime lead. The Buffs led 7-0 after the first quarter and were ahead by just 10-0 until putting 12 points on the board in the final 1:52 of the first half, taking control of the game in the process.

Mason Crosby started that spree, tacking on a 28-yard field goal that had followed up a 33-yard effort earlier in the quarter to put CU ahead, 13-0. The Buff defense forced three straight incomplete passes by Royal Gill, and then on fourth down, the center snap for the Aggie punt sailed over Brad Evan's head; he chased it down in the back of the end zone and kicked it toward the stands for a Buff safety. Now up 15-0 and with 1:20 left, the Buffs had time to go for the kills. Taking over after the free kick at its own 37, it took CU just four plays to score, all completed passes by Klatt. The first went to Hugh Charles for eight yards, the next to Dusty Sprague for 24, the third to Evan Judge for 28, and the last to Vickers for three yards and the touchdown.

CU salted things away with the two TD drives to start the second half. The first was culminated with 11-yard pass from Klatt to Sypniewski, the sixth-year senior's first career touchdown reception. The second came at the end of an impressive 11-play, 89-yard march with Vickers bowling over several would-be tacklers with an 11-yard run. He had a 19-yard run and a 17-yard reception earlier in the drive as he accounted for 46 yards in four plays.

NMSU threatened to score three times in the half, two ending with turnovers, including an interception in the end zone by Lionel Harris, and the third with a blocked 29-yard field goal attempt by James Garee.

Vickers opened the scoring with a 2-yard run in the first quarter, capping a modest 7-play, 42-yard drive that featured two Charles' runs of 11 yards. Stephone Robinson's 18-yard punt return had set the Buffs up for business at the NMSU 42.

The Buffs held the Aggies to just 5 yards rushing, though an errant 20-yard center snap and 16 yards in quarterback sacks contributed to the low total. NMSU had just 181 yards overall, the fewest allowed by the Buffs since 2001 when they held Kansas State to 196 in Manhattan. It was CU's first shutout since a 34-0 verdict over Baylor in Boulder in 2002, a span of 33 games.

NOTES—The game's 8:10 p.m. kickoff was the latest in Folsom Field history, and even though the time was a modest 3 hours and 17 minutes, when it ended at 11:27, it became the latest finishing one by a single minute over the 1996 Oklahoma State contest... Mason Crosby saw his school record string of 10 consecutive field goals end with a 55-yarder sailing wide left in the first quarter, but he bounced right back and made his next two... The Buffs had 14 first downs in the third quarter, a school record; the old mark of 13 had been attained on two previous occasions... Charles ran for 105 yards, his second straight 100-plus yard game.

MIAMI 23 COLORADO 3

Game Three; September 24, 2005

MIAMI, Fla. — Kyle Wright passed for one touchdown and rushed for another and the Miami defense stifled Colorado one time after another once it crossed midfield as the No. 12 Hurricanes slowly pulled away tin defeating the Buffaloes, 23-3.

Mason Crosby's 58-yard field goal just under four minutes into the fourth quarter, the longest without a tee at sea level in NCAA Division I-A history, were CU's lone points on the day. But the way the game started, it didn't appear head coach Gary Barnett would have to wait almost 50 minutes for his team to dent the scoreboard.

In perhaps what set the tone for the game, the Buffs moved from their own 46 to the Miami 7 in just two plays on their first possession. Hugh Charles picked up 29 yards on an outside scamper and Joel Klatt then hit Quinn Sypniewski with an 18-yard pass to get the Buffs deep into Hurricane territory. But Charles was thrown for a 4-yard loss on the next play, and after two straight incomplete passes, Crosby missed a 28-yard field goal wide left, the kick being affected by a bad snap.

Locked in a classic field position battle, Miami eventually broke through first with a 34-yard field goal from Jon Peattie to take a 3-0 lead with 6:07 left in the first quarter. He added a 20-yard boot with 11:12 remaining in the half to make it 6-0, the kick coming after the Buffs stopped the Hurricanes on a first-and-goal from the CU 4.

Penalties started to mount for the Buffaloes, who were called for 17 on the day. Two offside calls helped set UM up for the game's first touchdown, as on a first-and-5, Wright went deep and connected with Sinorice Moss for a 53-yard touchdown along the right sideline to get the Hurricanes some breathing room. Peattie's PAT kick made it 13-0 eight minutes before the half. CU would again be thwarted on its next possession, in part due to an illegal formation penalty after driving to the Miami 35.

The Buffs came out blazing again in the second half, even though starting at their own 10 after a short kickoff return. CU moved just past midfield, but a delay of game penalty and a three-yard loss by Charles helped stall the drive. Two series later, Miami turned a Brandon Meriweather interception of a Klatt pass into a third Peattie field goal, this one from 33 yards, to take a 16-0 lead.

Crosby's kick not only got CU on the board and put the Buffs back into it, albeit temporarily, it marked the 200th straight game Colorado had scored, becoming only the 12th school in history to score in that many consecutive games. The celebration was short-lived however, as any hopes for a fourth quarter comeback were dashed when Miami countered with a 9-play, 80-yard drive resulting in a 2-yard touchdown run by Wright. The play was aided by two CU penalties, as the Buffs were flagged 17 times in the game, the second most in their history.

Miami outgained Colorado by 389-331, with the statistics close to even in most categories. The Hurricanes had a decided edge in penalties (5-17), return yards (131-5) and tackles for loss (10-2). A telling stat was once the teams crossed the 50; the Buffs ran 21 plays for 66 yards, including 38 on one play late in the game, while Miami ran 34 for 140 yards.

NOTES—This was CU's sixth straight loss to a ranked team... Crosby was 19-of-19 inside 40 yards for his career prior to the first quarter miss... The 38-yard pass play from Klatt to Byron Ellis in the late stages of the game was CU's longest from scrimmage in the first three games...

Colorado had 29 plays gain five or more yards to Miami's 24... The Buffs won the time of possession battle with 33:41, including 26:51 over the last three quarters; CU had almost 700 20-oz. bottles of fluid to combat the heat and humidity.

COLORADO 34 OKLAHOMA STATE 0

Game Four; October 1, 2005

STILLWATER, Okla. — The first play for Colorado covered 74 yards and the last one 99 as the Buffaloes snapped a nine-game losing streak to Big 12 Conference South Division schools with a resounding 34-0 win over host and previously unbeaten Oklahoma State.

In the conference opener for both schools, the Buffs set the tone early as on the first play from scrimmage, Hugh Charles cut through the middle untouched and raced 74 yards for a touchdown just 18 seconds into the game. It was the second fastest score from scrimmage in CU history, topped only in 1996 when Rae Carruth scored on a 28-yard reverse following a CU recovery of a fumble on the opening kickoff.

That score would stand alone until two seconds before halftime, when Mason Crosby's 48-yard field goal extended the CU lead to 10-0. Though the Buffs had a 230-94 edge in total offense, they had two penetrations into Cowboy territory ended by a blocked field goal and a fumble. That, and OSU's defense sucked it up and did all it could to keep things close.

That changed in the opening moments of the second half, when Abraham Wright made his first career interception, setting the Buffs up for business at the OSU 29. Two plays later, Charles ran around the left end for 15 yards and a touchdown to provide the Buffs some breathing room at 17-0. For all intensive purposes, CU sealed things on its next possession, marching 59 yards in just six plays to take a 24-0 lead. Joel Klatt hooked up with Evan Judge on a 27-yard pass play to the OSU 11, and then found Joe Klopfenstein in the end zone for the touchdown, with the play covering the final 11 yards.

Crosby added a 42-yard field goal with 2:07 remaining, but the Cowboys still did their best to avert being shutout. Bobby Reid hit D'Juan Woods along the right sideline for a 49-yard gain to the CU 31, with the 'Pokes driving to the CU 8 with 43 seconds remaining. On a third-and-five play, Reid was intercepted by CU freshman Marcus Burton, who raced 99 yards back down the right sideline for the closing touchdown. It was the longest play by a freshman in Colorado history in addition to preserving the shutout, CU's second this season. It marked the first time since 1992 the Buffs posted two in one year, and the first time in 40 years the Buffs had two in a three-game span.

Charles rushed for a career-high 132 yards, the third time in four games this year he topped the 100-yard mark, while Klatt moved into second place on CU's all-time passing yards list and into third on the total offense list. Wright had four tackles to go with his interception, also recording a sack, a forced fumble, a third down stop and a pass deflection in being one of several defensive stars for the Buffs on the afternoon.

Colorado racked up 381 yards of total offense while limiting OSU to 208, including just 92 on the ground.

NOTES—CU's last road conference prior to this was also in Stillwater in 2001... This was just the fifth shutout ever posted in the 44 game series, all by Colorado; it was the first since 1992 when CU won 28-0 in Boulder... Charles' 74-yard run was the longest rush by a Buff since Chris Brown scampered 78 yards for a score at Kansas in 2002... OSU was the fourth team in four games against CU to go three plays and out on the first series of the game... The Buffs improved to 6-4 in Big 12 openers, including 2-2 on the road in snapping a two-game losing streak.

COLORADO 41 TEXAS A&M 20

Game Five; October 8, 2005

BOULDER — On the popular College GameDay program on ESPN, when it came time for the crew to make their selections for possible game breakers of the week, long-time host and Colorado alum Chris Fowler selected CU quarterback Joel Klatt.

Klatt made Fowler look like both a prophet and a genius, as he completed 28-of-36 passes for 398 yards and three touchdowns in leading the Buffaloes to a 41-20 victory of Texas A&M, propelling Colorado back into the national rankings for the first time in 25 months.

Colorado stormed to a 21-0 first quarter lead, though A&M provided the first gasp for the crowd. On the second play of the game, Reggie McNeal connected with a streaking DeQawn Mobley along the right sidelines for an apparent long gainer. Mobley caught it, but never secured the ball and eventually fumbled the ball, with CU's J.J. Billingsley recovering at the Buff 20. Klatt then went to work.

After four plays set CU up at its 49, on a third-and-six, Klatt hooked up with speedster Hugh Charles who ran away from the Aggie defense for a 51-yard catch and run touchdown, starting the onslaught of Buff points. CU held A&M to three-and-out on its next series, and after taking over on its 35, marched 65 yards with Klatt throwing for 51 yards, including a 27-yard completion to Lawrence Vickers to the A&M 17. Three plays later, Charles scooted around the end for a 4-yard score to put CU up 14-0.

Texas A&M earned three first downs on its next possession, but eventually had to punt the ball away. The Buffs responded with an 80-yard drive in seven plays, capped off by a 3-yard touchdown run by Vickers. But two passes from Klatt to Charles for 18 yards and then a big catch-and-run throw from Klatt to Joe Klopfenstein that covered 44 yards set CU up again in the A&M red zone. When the smoke cleared, CU was up 21-0 and Klatt set a school record for the most yards passing in a quarter with 211.

Four of the next five scores in the game were field goals, sandwiched around another 80-yard Colorado drive, this one in the mid-second quarter and polished off by a 1-yard pass from Klatt to Vickers. Klatt ended his day with a 36-yard pass to Quinn Sypniewski, who raced around the left side and leapt into the end zone for a 41-6 Colorado lead, with 6:59 remaining in the quarter.

A&M added two fourth quarter touchdowns against mostly second- and third-teamers on the CU defense; up until that point, the Buffs had dominated, holding A&M to just 186 yards through three quarters while rolling up 548 yards and 24 first down. Otherwise, CU limited Aggie Heisman candidate McNeal to just 132 yards of total offense—after he put 382 up in the 2004 game.

Four Colorado receivers had 70-plus yards in receiving, with Charles (152 yards rushing and receiving) and Vickers (84) combining for 236 and four touchdowns. When the polls were released the next day, CU checked in at No. 24, its first ranking since possessing the No. 17 spot two games into the 2003 season.

NOTES—After dropping nine straight to Big 12 South Division teams, CU logged a second straight win in as many weeks... Klatt's 398 yards marked his third most in a game; he has a pair of 400-yard games on his resume... The 41 points by CU were its second most scored in league play against a South Division team... P John Torp became the school's all-time leader in the punts inside-the-20 with 53... A&M punter Justin Brantly, with the aid of nice roll, booted the second longest punt in Folsom Field history with an 80-yard bomb in the first half.

TEXAS 42 COLORADO 17

Game Six; October 15, 2005

AUSTIN, Texas — Vince Young accounted for 394 yards of total offense and five touchdowns as the Heisman Trophy candidate was as good as advertised, if not better, in leading his No. 2 Texas Longhorns to a 42-17 victory over the No. 24 Colorado Buffaloes.

Texas scored touchdowns on all five of its first half possessions, working to a 28-0 lead before the Buffs got on the scoreboard and never saw its lead fall under a three-score margin in making a statement to the nation. On this day, Colorado just happened to be a timely victim for a Longhorn team trying to surpass Southern California into No. 1 in the rankings.

The tone was set early in two fashions; first, the Buffaloes were held to three plays and out on their first possession. Texas then countered with a 16-play, 90-yard drive to take a 7-0 lead on a 1-yard plunge by Young. That drive used some seven minutes and 40 seconds off the clock, leaving the Buffs to try and answer it and give their defense some rest. However, UT's defense stifled the Buffs again, this time after five plays, and basically dictated the tempo for a good portion of the next two-and-a-half quarters.

Young capped Texas' next drive with a 16-yard run, with Selvin Young getting the call from five yards out the next time before the Texas quarterback scored his third touchdown of the half, this time on a nine-yard run up the middle, escaping the CU pass rush. The latter left the 'Horns up 28-0 with 6:04 left in the first half.

Colorado got on the board with a 48-yard field goal from its All-America kicker, Mason Crosby, only to see Texas come right back with Young throwing a 35-yard touchdown pass to Limas Sweed. A Joel Klatt 8-yard TD pass to Evan Judge with one second left before intermission got CU into the end zone for the first time and back to within 35-10, closing the books on the second quarter which saw the teams combine for 320 yards and 31 points.

Each team added a fourth quarter touchdown, as the Buffs couldn't eat away at any more of the Texas lead. Young and Sweed hooked up again for Texas early in the fourth, and two possessions later, CU answered it with a Klatt to Joe Klopfenstein pass that covered four yards.

Texas limited Colorado to 237 yards, including just 45 rushing, while amassing 482 on its own, 336 of it passing by Young.

NOTES—Klatt surpassed the 6,000-yard mark in career passing at Colorado, as he closes in on the all-time school mark held by Kordell Stewart... CU's first-team defense had allowed just two touchdowns over the previous 16 quarters but gave up six to the Longhorns... Texas ran 47 plays in Colorado territory; CU ran 24 on Texas' side of the 50... Klopfenstein caught five passes for the second consecutive game.

COLORADO 44 KANSAS 13

Game Seven; October 22, 2005

BOULDER — Joel Klatt and Joe Klopfenstein set school records to make the evening special, but it was Colorado's special teams that paved the way for a 44-13 win over the Kansas Jayhawks.

Klatt threw four touchdown passes in a game for the second time in his career, giving him 42 in a CU uniform as he passed Koy Detmer (40) into first on the school's all-time touchdown passes list. Klopfenstein, one of the nation's top tight ends, has caught 11 of those, including two in this victory, and count a 12th he picked up along the way and he ended the night as CU's all-time leader in touchdown receptions by a tight end.

The duo was able to celebrate thanks to a spectacular effort by CU's special teams units, which contributed a safety, a blocked punt that led to one touchdown and an 81-yard punt return for another score by Stephone Robinson. Overall, the Buffs had 174 return yards, including one kickoff return, 124 by Robinson on just three touches.

It was actually the CU defense that set things in motion for the Buffs. On KU's second possession, Thaddaeus Washington sacked Brian Luke for an 11-yard loss on a 4th-and-1 at the CU46. It then took the Buffs just 73 seconds to score, as Klatt hit Hugh Charles on a 21-yard gainer to the Kansas 22, and after a 2-yard Charles run, Klatt found Quinn Sypniewski on a 20-yard touchdown play and the Buffs never looked back. Later in the quarter, CU pinned the Jayhawks deep, and a bad snap on a punt try led to a safety when KU punter Kyle Tucker picked up the ball and threw it out of the back of the end zone.

The JK-to-JK connection struck for the first time early in the second quarter, as Klopfenstein took a pass and raced 40 yards for a touchdown and a 16-3 lead. Kansas did cut the margin to 16-13 at the half, but thanks to a Brendan Schaub blocked punt on the Jayhawks' first second half possession, Dominique Brooks picked up the ball and took it 28 yards for a score and the second half assault was on.

CU's next drive ended with Klatt and Klopfenstein working together on a 3-yard TD pass, both setting their school records on the same play. The Buffs then ran away in the fourth quarter, as Klatt hit Dusty Sprague for a 62-yard TD play and then Robinson closed the scoring with his electrifying 81-yard punt return.

Brooks and Robinson both had one previous career touchdown—both against Kansas in Lawrence last season. Charles led all players with 75 yards rushing, while Sprague caught three passes for 76 yards. The Jayhawks managed to outgain the Buffs, 354-304, but ran 30 more plays than CU.

NOTES—The Buffs improved to 6-0 against Kansas when the Jayhawks are the opponent in Big 12 North Division openers... This was CU's fifth straight win in the series, and in the last four wins, CU has scored 177 points, or 44.3 per outing... Kansas' 89 plays from scrimmage were its third most in the series... Colorado did not commit a turnover or allow a quarterback sack, the second time in three games that occurred but it was only the 12th time in the last 34 seasons... CU improved to 4-0 at home for the first time since 1999.

COLORADO 23 KANSAS STATE 20

Game Eight; October 29, 2005

MANHATTAN, Kan. — Mason Crosby made a 50-yard field goal with ease with just six seconds remaining after Colorado recovered an opportunistic fumble in Kansas State territory as the Buffaloes defeated the Wildcats, 23-20, in a classic Midwestern game played with gusting great plains winds.

Joel Klatt threw for 272 yards and a touchdown and in the process became CU's all-time passing yards leader, as the Buffs took over sole possession of first place in the Big 12 North Division with a 4-1 league mark while improving to 6-2 overall.

With the winds consistently gusting between 23 and 40 miles per hour all afternoon, CU started fast as a Hugh Charles 13-yard run on the game's first play and then a 64-yard pass from Klatt to Quinn Sypniewski to the Wildcat 1-yard line set up Lawrence Vickers touchdown run. It gave CU a 7-0 lead just 86 seconds into the game, but there was nothing easy after that.

K-State fought back and took a 10-7 lead on a Thomas Clayton 2-yard run to open the second quarter, which would belong to the Buffs. Crosby, who had missed wide right on a 42-yard field goal in the first quarter, came back and drilled 52- and 42-yard efforts to put CU back on top, 13-10. After the Buff defense pinned KSU at its own 6, a short punt had the Buffs starting at the KSU 36. Charles gained five on first down, and then Klatt hit a streaking Evan Judge for a 31-yard touchdown and CU seemingly had a safe two score lead, 20-10, at halftime. Judge had a career game, catching six balls for 108 yards and the score.

The Wildcats, who won the opening toss, also elected to kickoff and take the wind in the third quarter in a slightly puzzling move, but it appeared to pay off as KSU scored 10 points in the period to tie the game at 20. Allan Evridge scored on a keeper, and Jeff Snodgrass nearly matched Crosby with a strong 51-yard field goal with just under three minutes left before the wind would go back in CU's favor.

KSU took a time out to force CU to punt against the wind from its own 32 with 22 seconds left in the period. Known for fake punts, CU head coach Gary Barnett called one on the road in his own territory and punter John Torp rewarded his coach with the gutsy call by sprinting 17 yards for a first down.

Though CU did not score on that possession, it helped keep the KSU offense in check. Though the Wildcats drove into CU territory on its last two possessions, they never got close enough to try a field goal against the fierce winds. Meanwhile, Colorado's offense was stifled by a combination of KSU's fired-up defense and a combination of ill-timed penalties. The turning point came with a minute to play. Torp boomed a 53-yard punt from his own 21 to the KSU 26, where Jermaine Moreira tried to pick it up after one bounce. But Vance Washington was there for Colorado to distract Moreira, causing him to fumble with Terry Washington recovering.

In a most unusual move, Klatt downed the ball twice of losses of seven yards, but Crosby was more than comfortable with the wind at his back and split the uprights with his 50-yard game winning kick. KSU ran one more offensive play, eventually losing 13 yards on a series of laterals and fumbles in trying to replicate the famous California kickoff return against Stanford in 1982.

Klatt finished the game with 6,579 career yards, as he passed Kordell Stewart, who accumulated 6,481 between 1991-94. Klatt got the record with a 20-yard pass to one of his favorite targets, tight end Joe Klopfenstein, late in the first half.

NOTES—Judge had the first 100-yards receiving game by a Buffalo this season... Quinn Sypniewski's 64-yard reception to the KSU 1 on the game's first possession was the second longest play by a tight end in school history... K-State sacked Klatt on his fifth pass play of the game, ending a run of 116 consecutive pass plays by the Buffs without being sacked... Crosby became just the fifth player in school history to score 200 career points... CU improved to 11-2 in games decided by seven or fewer points since 2003.

COLORADO 41 MISSOURI 12

Game Nine; November 5, 2005

BOULDER — V-back Lawrence Vickers proved the "V" in his position tag indeed stood for versatile, as he ran for a career-high 85 yards and four touchdowns in leading No. 25 Colorado to a 41-12 win over Missouri to give the Buffaloes a two-game lead with as many to play in the Big 12 Conference North Division.

Vickers, who usually plays fullback, moved to tailback due to an ankle injury to starter Hugh Charles and enjoyed one of the finest games of his career, scoring three of his touchdowns in the first half when the Buffs built a 24-6 intermission lead.

Joel Klatt threw for 253 yards and a touchdown as he completed his first 12 passes of the game to get the Colorado offense rolling. CU's first two scoring drives covered 94 and 82 yards, the former the longest of the year by the Buffs. Vickers capped that one with a 1-yard run to put CU ahead 7-0 midway through the first quarter. Missouri put up plenty of fight, countering with an 80-yard drive of its own in 10 plays, with Brad Smith firing an 18-yard touchdown pass to William Franklin. Adam Crossett's PAT kick sailed wide left, however, in what would turn out to be the last chance the Tigers would have to tie the score on the day.

Vickers broke three tackles in rambling in from 20 yards out to start a 17-point scoring spree 6:32 before halftime. After the score that put CU ahead 14-6, the Buffs elected to onside kick, but Missouri wasn't surprised and recovered. Two plays later, Tony Temple fumbled with Buff safety J.J. Billingsley scooping up the ball and racing to Missouri 26. Stephone Robinson picked up 24 yards on a reverse to the 2, where Vickers took it in. Mason Crosby added a 56-yard field goal, one that would have been good from 75, to end the spree to build the 18-point halftime lead.

Missouri's last breath came early in the second half, when Jamar Smith recovered a Klatt fumble and returned it 12 yards for a touchdown. The play was reviewed and upheld, though Klatt said afterwards he felt he his arm was moving forward when hit. Regardless, CU stuffed the two-point try and the responded with a 14-play, 80-yard drive to stamp out the Tiger comeback. Klatt hit Quinn Sypniewski with a 6-yard touchdown pass to make the score 31-12; the drive was aided by a roughing the kicker penalty on a punt and a roughing the passer call.

Vickers added a 7-yard run on the second play of the fourth quarter to extend the lead to 38-12, and Crosby closed the scoring with a 43-yard field goal with just over eight minutes to play.

Smith, who completed his first eight passes, was held in check by the Colorado defense, proving to be the key to shutting down an offensive attack that two weeks earlier went roughshod over Nebraska. In that game, Smith had 480 yards total offense, over 200 both rushing and passing. CU limited him to a season-low 16 rushing yards on 13 tries, and after he opened 8-of-8 for 82 yards in the first quarter, held him to 11-of-21 for 78 yards the rest of the game.

CU outgained Missouri 396-276, and even though both teams ran 74 plays, the Buffs had over nine more minutes of possession time. The Buff defense stifled the Tiger running game, holding MU to just 59 yards on 30 attempts.

NOTES—Klatt set his 33rd and 34th school records in the game, for the most consecutive pass completions to start a game (12) and the most consecutive passes without an interception (122)... Sypniewski also made an entry into the record books, as he played in his 49th regular season and 51st overall game, both new marks... Missouri ran only five plays in plus territory against the first-team CU defense... Crosby's 56-yard field goal was the fifth longest in school history; he owns three of the top five.

IOWA STATE 30 COLORADO 16

Game Ten; November 12, 2005

AMES, Iowa — In game delayed by a tornado in the vicinity and with winds reminiscent of the Wizard of Oz, Iowa State used a pair of 66-yard defensive scores to defeat Colorado, 30-16, pulling to within a game of the Buffaloes in the race for the Big 12 North Division title.

Brent Curvey's interception and ensuing runback of a Joel Klatt pass with just 1:31 remaining sealed the win for the Cyclones, only their second against the Buffs in the last 22 games in the series. It was a shocking end, at least for Colorado, to the evening, which started with a 30-minute delay after several tornadoes were spotted around Ames following a series of thunderstorms that passed through the area.

The winds were steady throughout the game at around 20 miles per hour, constantly gusting into the 30s and reaching a peak of 51 mph in the first quarter, when Iowa State utilized the wind at its back to build a 13-0 lead. Two short Bret Culbertson field goals were sandwiched around a 27-yard touchdown pass from Bret Meyer to Ben Barkema.

Once CU had the wind on its side, the Buffs were able to climb back into the game. Hugh Charles' 1-yard run capped a 70-yard drive that got CU on the scoreboard, with Mason Crosby's 31-yard field goal pulling the Buffs back to within 13-10 at halftime.

Crosby connected on a 42-yard field goal against the wind, just over four minutes into the second half to tie the game at 13, but the Cyclones would take the lead for good on the very next series when Culbertson made good on a season-best 45-yard field goal.

That set the stage for some fireworks late in the quarter. Lorenzo Sims forced and recovered a Milan Moses fumble at the ISU 34. But on CU's first play following the turnover, Lawrence Vickers had the ball stripped by Tim Dobbins, with Steve Paris there to pick it up and race 66 yards in the other direction for six points, giving Iowa State a 23-13 with 30 seconds remaining in the period.

CU did bounce back on its ensuing possession, as Crosby added yet another field goal over 50 yards to his resume. His 11th in his career of that distance, this one from 57 yards out, pulled CU back to within one score, setting the stage for Curvey's late heroics. His interception of a screen pass at the ISU 34 ended a Buff march that had started on the CU 11; Klatt had completed seven of eight passes on the drive prior to the pick.

The Buffs had 363 yard on offense compared to 287 for the Cyclones, and had a sizeable advantage in first downs (23-15) and time of possession (36:05-23:55), but ISU had 157 return yard to just to two for Colorado.

NOTES—Klatt was intercepted in the red zone for just the second time in his career, with the throw also ending his school record streak of 139 consecutive passes without an interception... Colorado had been 18-0 against Iowa State as a ranked team... Iowa State managed just 36 rushing yards, the eighth time in 10 games CU held the opponent to under 100 yards (and the fourth in a row)... Vickers' fumble was his first since early in his sophomore season, a span of 193 touches between dropping the ball.

NEBRASKA 30 COLORADO 3

Game Eleven; November 25, 2005

11

BOULDER — Colorado needed a win on senior day to advance to the Big 12 Championship game, but Zac Taylor and Nebraska had other ideas as the Cornhuskers unleashed one of their most potent offensive games of the season in defeating the Buffaloes, 30-3.

Taylor threw for 392 yards and two touchdowns in surviving being sacked five times to lead the Huskers to the win, the fourth in a row by the visiting team in the series. He had 167 yards and a TD pass in the decisive second quarter, in which Nebraska scored 17 points in breaking a 3-3 tie in building a 20-3 halftime lead.

Things started off well enough for the Buffs. The CU defense forced two incomplete passes with Brian Iwuh sacking Taylor on third down to end the Huskers' first series of the game. When the Buffs got the ball, Hugh Charles scampered 45 yards up the middle on CU's first play, and then caught an 8-yard pass from Joel Klatt on the next one set CU up at the Nebraska 16. But the drive stalled and Mason Crosby drilled a 33-yard field goal to get CU on the board in what turned out to be the Buffs' only lead—and points—of the day.

Nebraska countered immediately with a 10-play drive that produced a 26-yard field goal from Jordan Congdon to knot the game at 3-3, setting the stage for its offensive explosion in the second quarter. In putting 17 points into the books on a Taylor to Cory Ross 19-yard touchdown pass, an Aaron Glenn 1-yard run and another Congdon field goal, the Huskers rolled up 201 yards of offense in the quarter in taking control of the game.

Colorado never got much going in the second half, possessing the ball for all of 10:16 after intermission, including just 2:33 in the fourth quarter as the Huskers played ball control after taking a 24-point lead. That was attained midway in the third quarter on a 21-yard touchdown pass from Taylor to Nate Swift that capped a 76-yard drive with 6:30 left in the period.

Congdon added a 32-yard field goal with 2:02 left in the game to account for the final points of the day.

Nebraska amassed 497 yards on offense, the most against Colorado on the year, and only the second time a team posted over 400. The Buffs finished with 212 yards, 111 of which came on their first and last possessions of the game. Charles had 78 yards to lead all ball carriers in the game, while Ross had a career day catching the ball, as the diminutive NU tailback caught nine passes for 129 yards.

NOTES—The crowd of 54,841 was the third largest in Folsom Field history... CU wore all black uniforms for the first time in 2005, falling to 15-12-1 overall in the getup and to 1-5 against Nebraska... The Huskers became only the third team to rush for over 100 yards against Colorado on the year, sneaking over the mark late in finishing with 105 yards; no individual had more than 33, however... Marlon Lucky's 10-yard gain on Nebraska's fifth rush of the game ended a string of 63 single-digit carries against the Buffaloes... Charles' run to open the game was his second longest on the year; he opened the Oklahoma State game with a 74-yard run for a score.

TEXAS 70 COLORADO 3

Game Twelve; December 3, 2005

12

HOUSTON — Three turnovers and a blocked punt fueled a 56-point scoring spree in just over 19 minutes as No. 2 Texas ran away from Colorado in defeating the Buffaloes, 70-3, to win the Big 12 Conference championship game.

The Longhorns, on a mission to win their first league title since the conference's inaugural season in 1996, scored on nine of their first 10 possessions in finishing the regular season with a 12-0 record, earning a spot against USC for the national championship in the Rose Bowl.

Colorado came out of the gates decent enough, actually outgained Texas 120-101 in the first quarter, but saw two long drives end with a fumble and a blocked field goal. The 'Horns turned that first miscue, a Hugh Charles fumble, into a quick score, marching 65 yards in seven plays (and in just 116 seconds) to set the tone for the day after a 1-yard run by Henry Melton. UT scored again on its next possession, a 3-yard run by Jamaal Charles, to go up 14-0 just over nine minutes into the game.

Mason Crosby scored CU's only points on the afternoon with a 25-yard field goal to open the second quarter, pulling the Buffs to within 14-3. That's when Texas countered with eight unanswered touchdowns, which included three TD passes by Heisman Trophy runner-up Vince Young, with two more Jamaal Charles' scoring runs, one each by both Youngs, Vince and Selvin and a blocked punt return for a score. When the smoke cleared, the Longhorns turned an insurmountable 42-3 halftime lead into a 70-3 advantage with 7:36 left in the third quarter.

Five of the Texas scoring drives fell between 16 and 46 yards, as turnovers and other miscues set the Longhorns up with a short field much of the game. Texas finished with 486 total yards, including a season-high 268 yards rushing against CU's No. 2 ranked defense against the run. Colorado could not muster much offense after the first quarter, gaining just 71 yards in the final three quarters to finish with 191 on the day.

NOTES—CU fell to 1-2 in Reliant Stadium; the Buffs lost the 2002 Big 12 title game there to Oklahoma, but defeated Texas-El Paso in the 2004 Houston Bowl... Tom Hubbard returned an interception to the Texas 5 to set up Crosby's field goal; it was his third interception in Reliant, as he had two in the bowl win over UTEP... Texas returned the kickoff after that field goal to the Colorado 46, the first time in 155 career kickoffs an opponent did that to Crosby.

A NOTE TO OUR FANS AND LETTERMEN ABOUT

MEDIA GUIDES: NCAA legislation (April 2005) limited media guides for all sports to a maximum of 208 pages; this meant at Colorado that we had to cut 284 pages from the previous publication to conform to the new limitation. Most of that came from our in-depth history and records section, which we feel was second-to-none in the nation. Many schools along with CU that labored to pay great tribute to their histories and alumni were unfairly penalized due to those who were wasteful. We at Colorado, along with all other schools in the Big 12 Conference, did not agree with the legislation, but for the immediate future, there are no changes on the horizon. Hopefully, schools one day will be able to return to recording and presenting their history as they desire without these ridiculous limitations. In the interim, please visit www.CUBuffs.com for additional information on our past. — David Plati

ALL-CENTURY TEAM

The University of Colorado selected an "All-Century Football Team," as public balloting in 1989 tabbed 11 All-Americans among the top 25 selected to the 100-year squad.

Over 6,200 ballots were received in the public selection process, with over 150,000 votes cast from those ballots. Former CU players pared a list of 881 lettermen down to 118, which were in turn presented to the public for the final team selection.

Byron "Whizzer" White, the U.S. Supreme Court Justice who was CU's first All-American (1937), received 5,812 of a possible 6,265 votes. Bobby Anderson, who starred at both quarterback and tailback between 1967 and 1969, was the second leading vote-getter with 5,636, and two-way-star Joe Romig, who led CU to its first outright Big Eight Championship in 1961, was third with 5,145. White (#24), Anderson (#11) and Romig (#67) are the only Buffs to ever have their numbers retired.

One other player topped the 5,000 vote mark, as flashy Cliff Branch, whose name still frequently appears in the CU record book and who played a big part in the Buffs' No. 3 national ranking of 1971, captured 5,111 votes. The player with the fifth most votes, 3,989, was the only active Buff at the time to make the top 25, tailback Eric Bieniemy (a junior in 1989).

Joining White, Anderson and Romig as All-Americans on the century squad were Dick Anderson ('67), Pete Brock ('75), Mark Haynes ('79), Dave Logan ('75), Herb Orvis ('71) and Bob Stransky ('57).

Four players in the early years of CU football made the team, led by Walt Franklin, who played center and end between 1917 and 1921. Back Lee Willard ('21), Judge Hatfield Chilson ('25) and guard Bill McGlone ('26) round out the quartet which represents the formative seasons of CU football, when the team was known as the "Silver and Gold."

Other familiar names on the team include Hale Irwin, who starred at defensive back in the mid-60's but gained his fame on the PGA Tour; John Stearns, another pivotal player of the 1971 team who went on to be a star catcher with the New York Mets; Dave Logan, a veteran of 10-plus NFL seasons and current sportstalk celebrity in Denver; Carroll

John Wooten

John Stearns

Hardy, who played in the early 1950's and is the only man ever to pinch-hit for Ted Williams; and John Wooten, one of the first African-American players at CU who has spent several years in the scouting departments of the NFL Dallas Cowboys and Philadelphia Eagles.

Listed below are the 25 members of the University of Colorado All-Century (1890-1989) Football Team, selected by lettermen and the public over a three-month voting period. Another 28 players were selected to an honorable mention team:

RETIRED NUMBERS

#24 BYRON “WHIZZER” WHITE

Colorado's first All-American and one of the greatest students in the history of the school, Byron (Whizzer) White, retired as a justice of the Supreme Court in March, 1993, after serving 31 years on the nation's high court.

White made all the All-America teams after a brilliant 1937 season in which he led CU to an 8-0 record and Cotton Bowl bid as he set national records with 1,121 rushing yards and 122 points. Those marks, erased nationally only after colleges went to 10- and 11-game schedules, set CU records.

White was a Phi Beta Kappa, Rhodes Scholar, two-time All-Pro halfback with Pittsburgh and Detroit, leading graduate of the Yale Law School in 1946, decorated naval intelligence officer in World War II, leading Denver attorney, and deputy attorney general for the United States. White is a member of the NFL Hall-of-Fame, the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall-of-Fame, the GTE Academic Hall-of-Fame, and was selected to CU's "All-Century Team." In 1998, he was the first inductee into CU's Athletic Hall-of-Fame. He passed away at the age of 84 on April 15, 2002.

#67 JOE ROMIG

Romig, a two-time All-American selection, is a member of the Big Eight Hall-of-Fame and the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame. Now a senior research associate in radio physics in Boulder, Romig was the Buffs' 1961 team captain and the United Press International Lineman of the year. Romig had no peers as a linebacker, as he ranged far and fiercely from his middle linebacker position behind a four-man line. Fast and strong, he was consistently in on most of CU's tackles.

Offensively, Romig developed into an excellent straight-ahead and pulling blocker. Like White, he was an inspirational leader gifted with extraordinary physical and mental abilities.

Romig was a tremendous student, logging straight A's in his last six semesters and building a 3.9 grade-point average. He was also a Danforth and Woodrow Wilson Scholar. A Rhodes Scholar, Joe received his master's degree in physics at Oxford University in England and a doctorate in physics at Colorado in 1975. He is a member of the GTE Academic Hall-of-Fame and was selected to CU's "All-Century Team." In 1999, he was part of the second class to be inducted into CU's Athletic Hall-of-Fame.

#11 BOBBY ANDERSON

Anderson set 18 single-game, single-season and career marks during his three-season career with the Buffs along with earning All-Big Eight and All-American honors.

A professional player with Denver (the team's No. 1 draft choice), Washington and New England, Anderson started his CU career as a quarterback but switched to tailback for the third game of his senior season (1969). In his career, he rushed for 2,729 yards and had over 5,000 yards in total offense.

Anderson concluded his Colorado career with a 254-yard rushing effort in the 1969 Liberty Bowl as the Buffs beat Alabama 47-33. He currently is a Denver-area businessman, and has worked over two decades for KOA-Radio handling pre- and post-game shows as well as sideline reporting on the CU Football Network. He is a member of CU's "All-Century Team." In 1999, he received the prestigious University Medal, awarded to those who have performed outstanding service to or for the University. In December 2006, he will become the fourth Buffalo to be inducted into the College Football Hall-of-Fame.

THE NATIONAL PLAY-OF-THE-YEAR

In 1992, Nu Skin International and CoSIDA started sponsorship of "The National Play-of-the-Year," honoring the most outstanding play annually in college football. Notre Dame won the inaugural honor in 1992, but the University of Colorado won for both the 1993 and 1994 seasons. Here's a closer look at CU's winning plays:

1993 (October 16; Colorado 27, Oklahoma 10)—Lamont Warren throws a 34-yard touchdown pass to Charles Johnson on the halfback option play. What made it special? Warren slipped on the slick artificial surface as he threw the ball, and some 40 yards later in the end zone, Johnson made the catch on the ground after he was interfered with. The play defied imagination, and is truly appreciated when looked at in slow motion.

1994 (September 24; Colorado 27, Michigan 26)—College football's play of the decade, this effort also won an "Espy" from ESPN for the play of the year in all of sports for 1994. As time expired, Kordell Stewart throws a 64-yard touchdown pass to Michael Westbrook, who made the catch after a Blake Anderson deflection. CU had trailed, 26-14, with under four minutes remaining, and trailed by five with 15 seconds left on its own 15-yard line after stopping Michigan on defense.

ALL-TIME LETTERMEN

Throughout the years, various standards have been used to determine who has been awarded letters at CU (as well as at every school in the nation, as all set their own criteria). From the 1930s until the late 1970s, letters were awarded based on a player seeing action in at least half of the quarters played by CU in a particular season. In recent times, criteria have ranged from a minimum of 100 plays in a season or possessing a special skill (the Bill McCartney Era) to playing at least one snap in at least one game (Rick Neuheisel Era). Under Gary Barnett, the Buffs returned to the criteria that McCartney first instituted. In addition, it has been a standing policy since 1982 to award letters to all seniors in the program, regardless of playing time.

Jersey numbers, heights and weights are generally those listed in CU publications (or other sources) in the player's final letter-winning year. Positions are listed in the terminology of the era in which the letterman played; if more than one position is listed, then that player saw substantial game time at those positions. Hometowns are usually the place from which the player came to CU, followed by the high school and any previous institution, be it a junior or senior college.

There are 1,758 known football lettermen at the University of Colorado, but information prior to 1940 is limited at best and thus some holes do exist. The list below was researched and expanded with the help of the late CU athletic historian Fred Casotti in 1999; if you have additional information on yourself or someone on this list, please call the Sports Information Office at 303/492-5626.

MEDIA INFORMATION

MEDIA CREDENTIALS for covering athletic events at the University of Colorado can be obtained by writing the Sports Information Office two weeks in advance of the scheduled contest. Requests which are approved will either be mailed or left at the will call window (located in the ticket building adjacent to Gate 6, just off Colorado Avenue). Coverage of all CU athletic events dictate approval of press credentials for Colorado media outlets; radio and television stations must cover practice and/or get postgame and postpractice tape on a regular basis to qualify for credentials.

PHOTOGRAPHER CREDENTIALS will be issued only to officially recognized media outlets and/or individuals on special assignment. Only working photographers will be allowed on the sidelines. Photographers must have their passes displayed at all times on the sidelines, and must remain outside the 25-yard lines on both sides of the field. A limit of 25 field photo passes will be permitted for members of the media which cover the visiting team.

FAX SERVICE is available on a first-come, first-served basis. Please contact the Sports Information Office either in advance or on the day of the game.

TELEPHONE SERVICES are available through Qwest Communications, but it is advised that you make your arrangements at least one week in advance of the game. To order a phone line, contact Laura Salava with Qwest at 800/301-9220 (FAX: 800/705-3307) for installation. The address of the press box when asked is 2005 Colorado Avenue. Qwest provides a line only; you must make arrangements for your own telephone set. Note: Please check with Sports Information on your telephone needs: there are 15 ethernet connections, seven courtesy lines in the press box after the game, and four available for use during the game.

VISITING RADIO personnel desiring to broadcast athletic events from the University of Colorado should contact the Sports Information Office at the earliest possible date to request permission to broadcast. The station is responsible for making its own arrangements with Qwest (Laura Salava, 800/301-9220). Qwest will contact CU for booth assignment. Spotters and/or statisticians are available upon request (please request at least 72 hours before the event).

PRESS BOX SERVICES include play-by-play and statistical highlights at the end of each period. Full statistical facts and figures along with quotes from coaches and players will be available following the contest. The media will be escorted to the locker rooms following the event for postgame interviews. Coach Hawkins' postgame press conference can also be heard over the audio system in the press box for those media members who can't make it down to the lockerroom after the game. An informal luncheon will be served in the press box starting two hours prior to kickoff.

HANDICAP ACCESS is available via elevator to the Folsom Field press box facility at the north end of Balch Fieldhouse.

A "NO SMOKING" POLICY is in effect at Folsom Field, including the press box, to conform with CU policy concerning smoking on campus. Those members of the media who do smoke will be directed to those areas of the stadium where smoking is permitted.

PARKING passes are limited. The media must request parking along with their credentials request. Media outlets covering the University of Colorado on a regular basis will have first priority.

FOLSOM FIELD is located in the University of Colorado campus at the corner of Colorado Avenue and Folsom Street. Driving time from Denver International Airport is approximately 50 minutes via the Denver-Boulder Turnpike (U.S. 36). The Press Box is located on the west side of the stadium, and the entrance for the media is on the west side of the field adjacent to Gate 1. The press box phone numbers are 303/492-5626 and 303/492-3209.
